Developers' appeal on food store is rejected

AN APPEAL by developers hoping to build a multi-million pound supermarket in Oswestry has been thrown out. Planning inspector Robin Brooks said Shropshire Council was right to refuse planning permission for a food-only store at a site in Victoria Road owned by car firm JT Hughes and guttering firm Guttercrest.

It threw out the application in 2010, instead approving a rival application for a store and cinema on the Smithfield livestock site in Shrewsbury Road.

The findings of a two-day appeal hearing in January, were revealed for the first time yesterday.

Mr Brooks said he had examined data from Shropshire Council on how a further supermarket would harm town centre traders.

He said JT Hughes and Guttercrest accepted the council's retail analysis conclusion 'that there is only sufficient expenditure capacity for one new store'.

Mr Brooks added: "Given the planning permission granted for the Smithfield development and the likelihood of its implementation, there is insufficient expenditure capacity in Oswestry to support an additional store of the size proposed."

John Hughes said he was still digesting the inspector's findings. Nobody from Guttercrest was available for comment.

SITE EARMARKED FOR 750 HOMES

PLANS FOR a multi-million pound urban extension for Oswestry, including 750 new homes, are a step closer today.

Shropshire Council has agreed to put the proposals for the homes, business development land and a new link road, out to public consultation starting tomorrow, Friday, for a three month period.

by Graham Breeze

The plans for the town's eastern gateway – next to the A5/A483 trunk road at the Mile End Roundabout – would provide hundreds of affordable homes for local people and green space for the community.

At Shropshire Council's cabinet meeting yesterday councillors agreed to put the 'Site Allocations and Management of Development' plan out to public consultation.

Even if the masterplan is agreed developers will still have to apply for planning permission to build houses or develop employment land.

The plan, a blueprint for the future of Oswestry until the year 2026, says 2,600 new homes are needed in what is one of Shropshire's key centres. Of that figure, 1,380 sites would be allocated in the SAMdev plan.

By far the biggest piece of land that would be allocated for development is next to the Mile End roundabout on the eastern edge of the town.

Shropshire Council's growth point manager Richard Lawrence told town councillors recently that the area could be developed with 750 new homes by 2026 as well as four to six hectares of high quality employment land which would include a new business park.

Between 20 and 25 per cent of the homes would provide affordable housing.

Town and Shropshire Councillor Martin Bennett has welcomed the move.

He said: "I am pleased to see, after all this time, the message has got through that we need a masterplan rather than allowing development higgledy piggledy."

One of the ideas in draft proposals had been for a new school as part of the urban extension.

But Oswestry Town Council objected to the idea, saying Oswestry's existing schools had places spare for the extra families that would move into the town.

Signal box fire blamed on arsonists

Flames pour from the old railway signal box – known as the Whistle Stop – in Oswestry

FIRE OFFICERS believe arsonists have struck again in Oswestry after a former railway signal box was gutted in a Tuesday afternoon blaze

Firefighters were called to Oswald Road, in Oswestry, at 2.48pm after smoke was seen billowing from the 80-90 year old box, called Whistle Stop, next to the late night pharmacy. Two tenders arrived to fight the flames and crews quickly got the fire under control.

Adrian Bowen, from the Oswestry fire station, said it was believed the fire could have been started deliberately.

The blaze comes just a day after the fire service delivered 200 Arson Alert flyers to homes and businesses in the area.

Mike Rowe, Cambrian Heritage Railways station manager, saw smoke coming from the box. "I was worried somebody was in there. I opened the door then it went up in flames.

Memorial air show in plea for sponsors

WELSHPOOL'S air show, which has been re-named in honour of a pilot and airport owner who died in a plane crash in Mid Wales earlier this year, is appealing for sponsors.

The Bob Jones Memorial Air Show, to be held in Welshpool on June 17, will feature the Red Arrows, Falcons parachute team and a Battle of Britain Memorial Flight among others.

But organisers say they now need sponsors to help pay for the £22,000 costs of attracting some of the biggest names in the sky.

Mr Jones, who owned Welshpool Airport, died on Long Mountain, near Welshpool along with Steven Carr, 55, from Ruthin, Denbighshire in January.

Financial

John Morgan, air show committee member, said he was hoping people or companies would be able to donate and make the show a true tribute to Mr Jones.

"We have applied to the RAF for their aircraft to display and await their reply as to what they can make available," he said.

"However, due to the current financial climate the RAF will be charging us for the displays so we need to get funds in to finance the event," he added.

Mr Morgan said anybody willing to help can contact him on 07763 857186.

Jobs chance at firm event

ONE OF Welshpool's biggest employers will be holding a recruitment evening tonight, Thursday, as part of its ongoing expansion programme.

Sidoli and Sons in the town's Henfaes Lane , which is well known for its ice cream production, will be holding the open evening event between 5pm and 8pm.

The company, supplies a wide range of dessert products for the food service industry both in the UK and for a number of European countries.

Bar will stock 25 beers for charity ale festival

by Graham Breeze

MORE THAN 25 different casks of beer have been lined up ready for Oswestry Lions Club's fourth annual real ale festival which will be held later this month.

Club members are planning to hold the event at the memorial hall in Smithfield Street running from the evening of March 23 until the afternoon of March 25.

The festival will start at 6pm on the Friday and the ales will be supplied by local breweries including the Stonehouse Brewery from Oswestry.

Staff at Stonehouse play a major role in the festival by sourcing beers, providing specialist equipment and generally supporting the event.

Shropshire's branch of the Campaign for Real Ale will also be helping out.

As well as serving up real ales at the festival there will be cider, wine and soft drinks available.

Tankard

Entry fees are £7 and this will entitle the ticket holder to four half pints. They will also be given a commemorative glass tankard to use which they can keep afterwards. Every penny raised from the event will go to charity.

Clive Humphries, one of the event's organisers, said: "Lions clubs like Oswestry's are well known throughout the world for the enormous contributions they make to good causes, supporting individuals in need and local charities, as well as coming to the help of those struck by natural and other catastrophes, and funding worldwide health projects.

"Every penny of profit arising from our real ale festival will contribute towards helping with this work."

Cash appeal to aid youth work with booze focus

A YOUTH project in Oswestry working to combat under-age drinking and alcohol-related antisocial behaviour needs more cash.

Oswestry Youth Cafe, in Oswald Road, needs more money to continue its work when the latest phase of its project with Oswestry Community Alcohol Partnership finishes in April.

The cafe gives young people a safe and alcohol-free environment on a Saturday evening. It also provides a space to discuss the dangers associated with under-age drinking, the illegality of proxy purchasing, levels of alcohol consumption, and the effects of anti-social behaviour in the Oswestry community.

Ian Wilson, Oswestry Youth Cafe's project leader, said: "We really believe this project has been a success.

The town's local joint committee has previously donated £1,000 for cold weather clothing, equipment such as torches, first aid kits and staff training for the project.

To help contact Ian Wilson on (01691) 656559.

Visitors welcomed at schools

SCHOOL TEACHERS from Sri Lanka visited various schools in the Oswestry area. Sri Lankan teacher Himalika Bogahalanda is seen showing a Holy Trinity School pupil how to make Vesak lanterns, which means 'nothing remains forever, everything decays'. With Himalika was headteacher Nick Turner and pupil Elise Roberts.

Group is boosted by funds for tools

A VOLUNTEER group set up to help the elderly and vulnerable in Oswestry and surrounding villages has received a funding boost to help benefit its work.

Members of Osyteers in Oswestry have been able to buy a new trailer, a garden strimmer and a hedge cutter to help carry out maintenance jobs for local residents.

It comes after the Charlotte Hartey Foundation offered the group £500 for the trailer and company Allied Publicity Services donated £1,000 for tools.

Town mayor Cynthia Hawksley met with the group to help them celebrate the new purchases.

The charity group was designed for volunteers to help elderly residents by carrying out small jobs, from replacing light bulbs to mastering out-of-control gardens. It has already helped residents in Oswestry and local villages.

Merrick Corfield, Osyteers spokesman, said: "These tools and trailer will help us in our work for the elderly and other local projects we have under way.

"It's important that our residents know that we will carry out all sorts of minor maintenance jobs in the home. This includes helping them understand confusing utility bills or official paperwork."

Air ambulance helps fall victim

AN ELDERLY woman who fell down stairs and was knocked unconscious had to be airlifted to hospital on Monday.

Paramedics were called to help the 86-year-old woman in Chirk at about 12.20pm and a Wales Air Ambulance attended. The woman was treated for fractures to her right ribs and wrist.

Executive named as new head of school

Clive Smith-Langridge, the new headmaster of Packwood Haugh School

A FORMER top company executive is to become the new headmaster at Packwood Haugh School at Ruyton-XI-Towns.

Clive Smith-Langridge will take over the reins from current headmaster Nigel Westlake in September.

School bosses said Packwood Haugh has a reputation of national excellence upon which Mr Smith-Langridge is well equipped to build upon.

He moved into education after 15 years in senior executive roles with major international companies, both at home and overseas.

He is currently deputy headmaster at Hordle Walhampton School in Hampshire.

Dr Josh Dixey, chairman of Governors at Packwood said: "Clive brings a wealth of educational, financial and marketing experience to the role of headmaster.

"A forward thinking, energetic man, he will provide leadership and strategic vision for the school as we enter this exciting new era.

Mr Smith-Langridge said: "I am delighted to have been appointed headmaster at Packwood and look forward to working with all the staff to help implement a new and dynamic strategic direction for this traditional but exceptionally well-equipped establishment."

Traders' joy as 'nightmare' roadworks come to an end

ROADWORKS on one of the busiest routes into Oswestry are set to finally come to an end today – bringing to an end months of misery for traders and regular tailbacks for drivers.

Willow Street was dug up at the start of the year for essential gas main replacement work.

It was closed initially, but even when it reopened temporary traffic lights put in place by contractors Wales & West Utilities caused tailbacks and queues.

But the utility company has been working hard to get the work completed in time.

by Graham Breeze

Dot Winchester, from Willow Gallery cafe, said: "It is good that the work will finish soon. The first few weeks were a nightmare for us.

"The traffic lights have also been a nightmare with tailbacks going down the road. It was very noisy and ambulances trying to get through couldn't move. It has also been hard for the deliveries."

Chris Hill, from Timeless Vintage, also in Willow Street, said: "I think it is good news. Even though they have done the work quickly, there has been a lot of disturbance to businesses.

"We have a car park at the back of us and we would be queuing to get into it."

A spokesman from Wales & West Utilities said the scheme was now in its final stages and the company hoped to complete its work on schedule by today.

"We would like to thank local residents and businesses for their co-operation and patience whilst this essential work has been carried out," he added.

The work forms part of Wales & West Utilities' multi-million pound 30-year replacement programme across Wales and the South West, where old metal pipes within 30 metres of buildings are being replaced with highly durable, non-corroding plastic pipes with a lifespan of more than 80 years.

Turbine group calls for letter writing effort

CAMPAIGNERS fighting against plans to build hundreds of wind turbines in Mid Wales are being urged to write to every county councillor in Powys.

Action group Stop had urged people to write to all 73 councillors who sit on Powys County Council, to express their views over windfarms and plans which could see hundreds of pylons being built across Shropshire and Mid Wales.

It comes days before the county council's cabinet debate over two wind farm applications in the county, which will be screened on the internet.

Members of the Cabinet will meet on Wednesday to discuss the county council's response to wind farm applications for Carnedd Wen in Llanbrynmair, near Machynlleth, and the Llanbadarn Fynnydd windfarm near Llandrindod Wells.

The two applications will be considered by the Department of Energy and Climate Change because of their size with the county council asked to comment.

A spokeswoman for STOP said: " We need to ensure our councillors appreciate the importance of these issues.

"This e-mail address will reach every county councillor – councillors@lists.powys.gov.uk"

Following the live broadcast viewers will be invited to fill in a short survey to help the county council understand any issues that viewers experience.

Fastener firm agrees to sponsor extreme event

GWR FASTENERS, of Llanfyllin, has agreed to sponsor Extreme Events Europe this year. Extreme Events Europe, based in Hartlepool, is known for its high-octane exhibitions of Monster Truck car crushing and superb stunt motorcycling.

Gary Robinson, managing director of GWR Fasteners, said: "This is an excellent opportunity for us to be associated with such an exhilarating programme of events.

"Last year the Extreme Events team manager took the Guinness World Record in Dubai for the most cans crushed by a Monster truck."

Poet Laureate to visit school

Looking forward to an audience with Gillian Clarke are Oswestry School pupils Ted Fawke and Rebecca Adcock (back), Georgina Mercer and Chris Jones.

AN AWARD-winning Poet Laureate will be visiting a school in Oswestry as part of the town's literary festival, it has been revealed.

Welsh Poet Laureate Gillian Clarke will attend Oswestry School on March 17 from 7pm to talk about her varied life as a writer, teacher and playwright, her elevation to the post of Poet Laureate and her home country.

The event is being held as part of this year's Oswestry Festival of the Word, and headteacher Douglas Robb said everyone at the school was extremely honoured to welcome Ms Clarke.

Ms Clarke, who has written books for children and has had several collections of poetry published, was names as Wales' National Poet in 2008 and awarded the Queen's Gold Medal for Poetry in 2010.

She was then honoured by the Goresedd of Bards at the 2011 National Eisteddfod in Wrexham for her contribution to Welsh language and culture.

Earl will be leading exclusive home tour

THE 8TH Earl of Powis will open his doors to the public to lead an exclusive tour of his ancestral home at Powis Castle.

Visitors will be offered a one-off chance to look around the home and gardens. Booking is essential and the tour will take place on March 16 at 10am at a cost of £18.

Alison Dyer, assistant visitor services manager for Powis Castle said: "This is a rare honour that we are really excited about. To have a private tour of Powis Castle with the 8th Earl of Powis himself will be a very special treat for anyone interested in history or who love to hear stories from one of the most fascinating families in Great Britain."

Powis Castle began life as the medieval fortress of the Welsh princes of Powys, who held onto their kingdom despite the threats of their more powerful neighbours in Gwynedd and England.

In 1587, Powis was sold to Sir Edward Herbert who created the romantic long gallery which is richly decorated with the coats of arms of his ancestors.

To book a place on the tour call Alison Dyer on (01938) 551929 or e-mail alison.dyer@nationaltrust.org.uk

School starters to gain from gift parcel with free books

YOUNGSTERS starting life at Welshpool area schools will receive free books and resources as part of a new programme to boost literacy.

Leighton Andrews, Welsh Assembly minister for education and skills, has announced that Booktrust Cymru's Foundation Phase programme will receive Welsh Government funding of £200,000 for a three-year period.

The funding will help pay for a book bag containing two storybooks – one in English and one in Welsh, resources for each school, a support officer to work with schools beforehand and an evaluation of the programme.

In addition to funding for the new programme, the Welsh Government will provide a further £586,000 for the Booktrust Cymru's Bookstart and Letterbox Club programmes, which provide very young children and looked after and vulnerable children with free books and resources.

Other recipients of funding are Family Learning Programmes, which will receive £1.673 million, and the Welsh Books Council which will receive £337,000.

Mr Andrews, said: "Nothing is more important than ensuring all of our young people reach the reading level that is suitable for their age.

"If we're to encourage good reading habits, then it's essential that children have access to the books and resources they need.

by Graham Breeze

"The funding I'm announcing for Booktrust Cymru will give children that head-start and help us in our drive to improve literacy in the Foundation Phase."

Rosemary Clarke, director of Bookstart and Bookgifting Programmes, said: "Booktrust is thrilled that the Welsh Government is to continue to fund Bookstart/Dechrau Da for every baby and toddler and Letterbox Club, for looked after children.

"In addition, the new programme for the foundation phase will build upon Bookstart and continue to support every child in Wales on their reading journey.

"This is very good news for every child, and parent in Wales. By working together we can give each child a priceless gift – a lifelong love of books and reading."

Baker's push cakes are in awards final

AN OSWESTRY baker is celebrating after becoming a finalist in the Special Award for Innovation in the Heart of England Fine Foods (HEFF) Diamond Awards.

Claire Rogers was chosen by judges after demonstrating her new product push-cakes, which have been designed specially to be environmentally-friendly desserts.

The cake has been invented to help save on waste and comes in recyclable packaging with a lid so it can be stored in a bag safely without causing a mess.

Mrs Rogers said: "I am excited about the awards. It is nice to be a finalist. I have used my own original recipes for the push-cakes.

"The packaging is user friendly so it can be taken on events like picnics and in a party instead of just carrying the cake in a napkin.

"When kids can only eat half a cake the rest is often binned, this way you can keep it and take it home."

Her push cakes come in eight different flavours including chocolate, raspberry and white chocolate and toffee.

Mrs Rogers was chosen as a finalist in the category, which called for a demonstration of innovation within the local food and drink industry.

The winners of all the awards will be announced at the Diamond Awards Gala Dinner on May 12 in Birmingham Metropole.

Mrs Rogers has also been shortlisted for the Bridal Magazine for the cake supplier of the year category.

Mobile museum service reaches end of the road

A MOBILE museum which has taken exhibitions to youngsters and pensioners all over Shropshire will be taken out of service at the end of the month, it was revealed this week.

Museum on the Move was a large bus that housed exhibitions touring the county over the past 12 years. It saw thousands of people walk through its doors including school children in rural areas and day centre residents.

Its last visit to Oswestry was last Thursday at the Bailey Head, and the service will end completely on March 31.

Mike Owen, Shropshire Council's cabinet member for business growth and prosperity, said: "The service was ground-breaking in its early years but over time new museum services have been introduced that target the young and elderly in a more sustainable and cost-effective way. The decision has been taken that Museum on the Move should cease to run from 31 March 2012."

by Graham Breeze

He said there were plans to replace the service with other initiatives.

Town officials said they were sorry to see the service go.

Oswestry Town Councillor Elaine Channon said: "This is another service that is going to be taken away.

"I am very sorry to hear that has happened and I am sure a lot of other councillors will be as well."

The exhibition also visits Hope House Children's Hospice in Morda for youngsters and their families to use.

Wendy Llywelyn-Harries, hospice play leader, said: "I thought the museum was a lovely idea. They came a couple of times to Hope House.

"They were very good and managed to adapt to the children's needs.The children really enjoyed it. It is a real shame."

A spokesman from Maesbury Primary School said: "The children really enjoyed it and got a lot out of it.

"I think it was nice to have it as it was something different to the classroom."

Roses talk at meeting

ROSE GROWING and pruning will be the topic of the discussion at the next meeting of Llanymynech Gardening club.

Members will met on Wednesday at 7.30pm in the village hall and the speaker for the evening will be Brian Howard,who will talk about growing and pruning roses.

A spokesman for the event said: "Everyone is welcome to attend. New members are most welcome to come along as it will be a very enjoyable evening."

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Collection on show

Welshpool Library is displaying a collection of items from Mid Wales Geology Club. The display features a range of models, posters and rocks discovered by club members on the Shropshire Ore Field and Central Wales Ore Field. Seen here with the display is library assistant Sian Kinsey.

Students gear up for club challenge

SCHOOLS FROM across the county are gearing up to take part in a technology tournament in Oswestry.

About 100 pupils from across Shropshire and Powys are expected to take part in the Rotary Club of Oswestry Borderland's annual technology tournament on Friday.

Pupils from Lakelands, Llanfyllin High School, Oswestry School, Rhyn Park and Walford and North Shropshire College are due to get involved.

Teams of students will need to complete an engineering-themed task. They will be assessed on their ability to plan time effectively, work as part of a team, generate ideas, analyse designs and produce a final product as part of their project portfolio.

Paul Crosby, of Borderland Rotary Club, said: "The technology challenge, which the students have not seen before, will be taken at events organised by Rotary Clubs on the same day all over the UK, marking the start of Science Week.

"There will be more than 10,000 students participating nationally.

"As far as we are aware this is the only technology challenge taking place in Shropshire."

Smokers reminded over risk of blazes

A FIRE officer this week warned smokers of the dangers of not extinguishing cigarette ends after an Oswestry house fire.

A man who went for an afternoon nap in Oswestry was forced to quickly jump out of bed – after it caught fire.

Fire crews said the man had a cigarette at his home in Victoria Street before pushing the ashtray under his bed. Within minutes the bedding was alight.

Incident

Adrian Bowen, from Oswestry fire station, said crews were called to the scene but the man had managed to put the fire out before they got there.

No-one was injured in the incident, which happened just before 3pm on Sunday.

But Mr Bowen said it could have been a completely different story if the occupants had left the house and not noticed the bedding had caught fire.

He said it should act as a warning to other smokers that they should always check that their cigarettes were fully extinguished.

"Luckily he did manage to extinguish the fire pretty quickly," Mr Bowen said.

"It was lucky he didn't decide to go out and managed to extinguish the fire."

The fire service inspected the property and left at 3.07pm.

New £50,000 play area for village's youngsters

MORE THAN £50,000 is to be spent on creating a new play area for youngsters in Morda.

Oswestry Rural Parish Council will be handed the cash as part of an agreement with developers of the Wythern Estate, in Morda, for the facility.

Councillors were recently told they were now free to spend the cash on Milars Field Play Area in the village.

by Chrissy Symmons

They are now organising a consultation event on April 4 from 5pm to 7.30pm for residents to attend.

Councillors want to find out what people in the village would like to see installed in the play area. They also want to know what age range people think is most in need of new play equipment.

Val Smout, clerk to the council, said: "We would like to see the play area created as soon as possible."

Oswestry Rural Parish Council chairman, Councillor June Middleton, said: "There is quite a nice green up there at Milars Field. It is a nice area to put things on like see saws or whatever else the residents want." Parish councillors have created about 200 flyers which they will hand deliver to all homes on Trefonen Road and the estate in the next couple of weeks.

The estate was built about four years ago but the parish council had to wait until everything was completed and satisfactory before it was allowed to spend the cash. The money is part of a section 106 agreement.

The village currently has a play area near its social club which has been designed for younger children.

Blanket safety checks

SHROPSHIRE Fire and Rescue Service held a special day at Oswestry fire station to run safety checks on people's blankets.

About 40 people turned out for an electrician to run a series of checks on the wiring and fuses to make sure blankets would not scorch or burst into flames while in use.

This is the first time the fire service has run the sessions itself after Shropshire Council had to make budget cuts.

Computer firm shortlisted for award

A SPECIALIST Oswestry computer firm has been shortlisted for a prestigious national award.

Micro Plus Computers, based on Maesbury Road Industrial Estate, is in line for the 'Best Independent Retailer' accolade in the PCR Awards 2012.

The company has been chosen from thousands of businesses throughout the country and selected as a finalist based on its product knowledge, product range and customer service.

Previous winners of a major PCR prize, awarded by a national consumer magazine, include John Lewis, Amazon, Microsoft and Acer.

Managing director Chris Innes said: "We are really proud to have reached the final for this top industry award and of course are hoping that we will lift the title at the presentation ceremony next month."

The company specialises in tailor-made network installations and support contracts for businesses and schools throughout Shropshire, Cheshire, North and Mid Wales, with recent clients including The Marches School and Newgate Clocks in Oswestry.

Micro Plus Computers has a staff of over 20 and the company is currently expanding.

The 2012 winners of the PCR Awards will be announced at a gala evening at the Royal Harden Hotel, Kensington, London, on March 22.

School is giving to foodbank

OSWESTRY'S Bellan House School has joined forces with the town's foodbank to help provide meals for needy people.

The school has set up a container in the hallway and is inviting children and parents to donate food items to help the Oswestry and Borders Foodbank.

Headteacher at Bellan House, Jackie Greatorex, said the school had donated food to the scheme from its harvest festival last year and was now keen to carry on the link.

"We now have a permanent container in the front hall and are asking parents to make a regular donation of food," said Mrs Greatorex.

"The food needs to be non-perishable and in date, and is then passed on to the foodbank to be distributed to people in the Oswestry and Borders area."

The school's link with the scheme also means a representative from the foodbank will be speaking to pupils to explain how the food is used.

Food items can be dropped off at the Kingswell Centre where the foodbank operates from 10.30am to 1pm every Monday and Thursday.

Open day tours

AN OPEN DAY will be held at Moffats School in Kinlet on March 8 from 9.30am to 12.30pm.

Tours will be conducted by the children. All are welcome to attend.

WHAT HAPPENS IF FATHER'S WILL CANNOT BE FOUND AND HOW DO I KNOW IF IT'S VALID?

Q: My father doesn't like people knowing about his private affairs, even close family, and he doesn't believe in solicitors. Although he says he has made a Will I haven't seen it and if it exists I don't know where it is. I am worried what will happen when he dies, if I either can't find his Will or else it hasn't been drawn up properly.

A: When you make a Will it is important to inform your executors that you have done so, and to let them know where it is stored. If a deceased's Will cannot be found it will be deemed that he or she died intestate and the court will decide who should deal with the deceased's affairs and who should inherit their estate. Sorting everything out can be complicated and take a long time, so it is advisable to consult a solicitor as early as possible and give them all the information you can find about the deceased's property, belongings and financial affairs.

Regarding your concern that your father's will may not have been properly drawn up, incorrectly executed wills are a surprisingly common problem. To be legally valid a will must be signed, dated and witnessed according to specific rules, otherwise it is unlikely to be upheld if challenged in court. The rules are: a will must be signed first by the writer and then by two witnesses, all of whom must be in the same room throughout the entire signing and witnessing process. Witnesses must be 18 or over and should not be beneficiaries of the will or a spouse or civil partner of a beneficiary of the will. A blind person cannot be a witness. The will must be dated with the date that it is signed and witnessed. Once that has happened there must be no further pages added to the will.

Further information relating to this question is available from Emma Jacobs, a Solicitor with GHP Legal. For information relating to any other legal matter please call GHP Legal on 01691 659194, visit www.ghplegal.co.uk or attend one of our FREE legal diagnostic clinics every Wednesday 12-5pm (no appointment necessary).

Author to give talk on Tudor betrayal

BEDS, BOOKS and betrayal will be under the spotlight as part of an eyebrow-raising event being held in Oswestry.

The town's annual Festival of the Word will be paid a visit by author Suzannah Dunn who will be talking about her top-selling historical novel 'The Confession of Katherine Howard' at an In bed with the Tudors event on March 15.

Councillor Steve Charmley, Shropshire Council's cabinet member with responsibility for libraries, said: "This promises to be a great event and I'd like to encourage as many people as possible to go along and experience what Oswestry Library has to offer."

Tickets are on sale at the library priced at £3 and can be booked in person or by calling (01691) 677388.

Health centre given a cash boost by building society

A BUILDING society has given a financial boost to a pioneering Shropshire health centre.

Yorkshire Building Society has donated £490 to the Movement Centre in Gobowen, which helps children with mobility and movement problems.

Dr Penny Butler, the director of the movement centre, wrote to the Yorkshire Building Society Charitable Foundation as the charity was looking for support to help keep their vital equipment in top condition.

by Graham Breeze

The society provided a donation of almost £500 to The Movement Centre to repair equipment that is used in the training therapy for disabled children.

Dr Butler said: "The Movement Centre treats up to 80 children a year who have genetic disorders that can lead to problems of movement control.

"For some of the children we see even the simplest of movements can be affected by their disability and we aim to help children by providing Targeted Training – a life changing therapy that will help develop the children's functional skills.

"We were delighted that Yorkshire Building Society was able to support us in the care we provide for these children and make the donation that will be a big help to us and also to the children affected by genetic disorders.

"We are so pleased that one of our local businesses has helped us out and their contribution will mean so much to the many children that pass through our doors every year."

Louise Neill, of the Yorkshire Building Society Charitable Foundation, said: "Helping out charities in our local area is incredibly important to us as a Society."

MARY GARSIDE celebrated her 101st birthday reminiscing over her remarkable life which saw her become one of the first European backpackers and one of the first working mums.

Mrs Garside who still lives independently in Oswestry, was driving until the age of 94, tried out a quad bike at the age of 100 and only gave up playing bridge recently because of her eyesight.

She celebrated her birthday last Thursday with her two daughters, five grandchildren, 12 great grandchildren and scores of friends and neighbours to called to see her.

She grew up in Knockin and remembers when the first world war ended when she was seven years old.

"My grandparents ran the village post office and were the only ones to have a telephone. They were told the news that war had ended and I was sent out in the street to tell everyone."

Aged 10 she won a scholarship to Oswestry Grammar School, cycling daily in her bid to become a teacher.

BGT star invited to appear at fundraiser

A MOTHER who is organising a special ball for her daughter has invited a Britain's Got Talent star along to the charity event.

Jo Perera's 14-year-old daughter, Emily, was diagnosed with autism when she was nine-years old.

Now Mrs Perera is keen to raise cash and awareness and will be holding the event for charities Autism Cymru and The National Autistic Society.

The ball will be held at Lion Quays Oswestry, on April 28, with special guest Jamie Pugh, from the TV entertainment show Britain's Got Talent.

The event will run from 6pm until 1am with a red carpet and a glass of wine on arrival.

Jubilee carnival would have solved the problem

THERE WON'T be a carnival in Welshpool this year and you can blame the Queen.

Celebrations planned to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee have clashed with the date for the town's annual carnival and despite the best efforts of carnival organisers to find a new date it's been cancelled.

Last year many hailed the carnival as the best for years.

Some even claimed it was the biggest ever but you would have to question how far their memory went back.

You can't help feeling that a massive opportunity has been lost.

Wouldn't it have been a solution for the organisers of the jubilee celebrations and the carnival committee to have got together and organised one massive Jubilee Carnival?

The carnival was the ideal event on which to piggyback the historic celebrations and what a great day it could have been for Welshpool.

I really feel for the hard working carnival organisers.

Interesting

They've vowed to be back next year but history has a habit of telling us how difficult it is to resurrect something after it has stopped.

Just think about the County Show – a massive event lost to Welshpool forever. It's interesting to read that Oswestry is planning to actually hold a carnival to celebrate the Queen's Jubilee.

MONTHS OF misery for Oswestry's shoppers and traders will finally come to an end tomorrow when work on Willow Street finishes ahead of schedule.

Wales & West Utilities have been replacing decaying pipes and the work has caused chaos for motorists and financial pain for shopkeepers.

It's a big hat's off to the utility company for getting the work finished ahead of deadline and from what I have seen they have managed to keep disruption to a minimum.

Could I suggest they give a few lessons to the contractors who have had four sets of traffic lights in place between Oswestry and Welshpool for the past few weeks.

Fifty-five minutes was my record for the journey. Wouldn't have anything to do with the fact that councils need to get their budgets spent by the end of March would it?

IT'S HARD to believe but your Oswestry & Border Chronicle is a year old today.

The last 12 months have flown by as we strived to bring you all the up to date news from the Oswestry and Welshpool areas.

You, the readers, have welcomed us into your homes and we have been blown away by your response.

Launching a new newspaper in today's economic environment was a brave and very bold decision but advertisers and readers alike have welcomed our arrival.

The Chronicle is now very much part of the furniture in Oswestry and Welshpool and we are dedicated to serving the community. In just 12 months we have forged many lasting friendships and hope we have gained your trust and proved that we are here to stay as we go from strength to strength.

More than 1,000 take part in music festival

by Graham Breeze

A YOUTH MUSIC festival in Oswestry has been hailed a success after more than 1,000 musicians took part in concerts over four days.

Scores of awards were handed out to talented youngsters aged between six and 21 after concerts held as part of the 35th Oswestry Youth Music Festival between last Thursday and Sunday.

Music was played in Christ Church and Oswestry's Methodist Church.

Impressed

Now organisers have revealed they are already drawing up plans for next year's event and have already booked the dates for the festival.

Martin Bennett, a town councillor and chairman of the festival committee, said next year's festival will run from February 28 until March 3.

He added that the festival committee was now looking for offers of help and assistance for next year.

Councillor Bennett said this year's festival was a hit and added the mayor of Wrexham was so impressed that he offered to provided a trophy on behalf of the town.

He said each year the festival has gone from strength to strength.

This year extra classes were added to the syllabus including musical theatre. The event started in 1977 to celebrate the Queen's Silver Jubilee and extra trophies were handed out to winners to mark the Diamond Jubilee year.

Ellie Hutchings, a year seven student from Ellesmere College, created a logo for the event, which had a round design with musical notes and a Union Jack flag. Ellie was awarded a £20 WH Smith gift voucher and her logo was turned into stickers which were given out.

Anyone wanting to take part in next year's festival is urged to contact Oswestry Town Council.

Overall winner of the Junior Section, Olivia Jane Fennell, receives her award from the Town Mayor Councillor Cynthia Hawksley

Overall winner of the Senior Section, Ruth Reynolds, who also won the String Solo Class for ages 21 and under receives her award from Town Mayor Councillor Cynthia Hawksley

Season of lectures lined up by group

THE ANNUAL meeting of the Oswestry & Border History & Archaeology Group will take place on Friday in the Memorial Hall at 7.30pm.

Following the short business part of the meeting, Margaret Hill will give her presidential address on the old town of Monemvasia, southern Greece.

Founded in the 6th century AD on a good defensive site, it has withstood sieges from various powers and has been held by Byzantines, Franks and Turks at various periods in its history.

The talk will focus on the remains of the town and a survey undertaken and co-directed in the 1990s by the speaker.

New members and visitors are very welcome to attend.

Full details of the new season of lectures are available at Oswestry Library and on the programme webpage at www.pastcaring.com/OBHAG which also features a gallery of photographs of some of the group's excursions and other items of interest.

For full details of membership or to get involved in the group's activities, contact the membership secretary on (01691) 690184.

Morrisons' station bid

SUPERMARKET giant Morrisons is to take over a petrol station in Oswestry, it has been revealed.

Bosses said the filling station in Station Road should be open by the end of March.

The store in the town is currently running a special promotional offer for customers to receive 15p off per litre of fuel. But customers have to journey to Shrewsbury or Wrexham to redeem the offer.

Frank Cromie, general manager at the store, said customers are looking forward to it opening.

"We have bought the premises and are taking one of the three employees on," he said.

Charity quiz

A CHARITY quiz night is to be held in Oswestry to raise cash for Marie Curie.

It will take place at The Pedigree, in Salop Road, on Friday from 7.30pm and costs £2.50 per person with a maximum of six in a team.

Turbines are a village idiot scheme

ELECTRICITY companies state the increases in our power bills are partly because of 'the cost of the environmental and social schemes they are obliged to implement'.

Well, what a farce and total scam, especially when windfarm owners are paid millions when they do not even produce power when the wind is too strong!

This gross stupidity is compounded by the recent announcement of the £754 million total projected subsidy per annum for windfarms from the British taxpayer, bearing in mind that only 13 per cent will go to British companies, the rest going into the coffers of Swedish, Danish, Spanish, Norwegian, German and Italian firms.

Vattenfall, the Swedish state-owned energy producer, will receive a projected £139,909,578 of this total – surely this has to be a colossal wind-up?

Wind power is intermittent, unpredictable, unreliable and expensive. No matter how many windfarms are built, not a single existing power station can be closed, because they supply the 24/7 reliable power that we expect, and are necessary for backup when the wind fails.

Indeed large scale wind generated electrical power is truly a 'village idiot' concept for a meaningful and reliable power supply.

Jim Williams of Oswestry lays one of the obstacles at the town's new crazy golf course on July 1, 1971. It was said to be the only such course of its type in the county, and would cost almost £1,600. "The course, which consists of a series of ramps, obstacles and bridges and 18 holes, should be open to the public in two to three weeks. It replaces the old putting green," said the original caption.

Consider our rights

SWEENEY Mountain, an area of outstanding natural beauty, should not be sacrificed for a hollow gesture.

More than 100 MPs have questioned the cost benefit of wind turbines versus the subsidies being granted and the fact human rights are being ignored in planning decisions.

Human rights should be a priority consideration.

To achieve a balance between the applicant's wishes for a wind turbine and the visual and environmental impact on residents and non-residents alike, then a wind turbine should not pass planning criteria.

If one wind turbine is installed and not paying its way, what then? More wind turbines? One is too many.

Solar panels, already so favoured by the applicant, could be installed.

Tree problems

IT WAS NICE to see that the young children of Ellesmere are planting trees for the Queen's Jubilee – I wonder if they're being encouraged to consider that these trees will cut off sunlight from their neighbours' gardens?

Minister fails to mention that crooks come here unchecked

A RAPIST immigrant from Sierra Leone was recently deported after the authorities had been trying for nine years.

According to legal records he has sexually assaulted 11 women in Britain; he was sentenced to four years in custody in 2005 but was released in 2007.

He fought deportation on the grounds it would breach his right to a family life.

After being convicted of robbery in 2009 final deportation proceedings began.

The Immigration Minister Damian Green said: "For too long Article 8 has been used to place the family rights of foreign criminals above the rights of the British public – which is why we will change it." He fails to mention the criminals included in the 450 million European Union citizens who have the right to move to Britain, or the fact we cannot check any criminal records before they enter, or deport them if they commit a crime.

And he fails to mention the serious rise in crimes by EU citizens recorded by British police.

Mr Green is Minister for Wide Open Britain and is probably asking, 'What kind of political numbskull signs these ludicrous European Union regulations?"

Law firm achieves listing as specialist

A LAW firm from Oswestry has become reaccredited to Headway – the Brain Injury Association Personal Injury Solicitors List.

Headway UK, which provides services to brain injury survivors and their families, has a database of recommended personal injury solicitors who have the relevant experience in the field of brain injury.

Now Lanyon Bowdler says it has once again met the stringent criteria to achieve reaccreditation to Headway.

Partner Neil Lorimer, head of Lanyon Bowdler's personal injury department, said that over the past 12 months he and his team had recovered damages in excess of £8 million.

"Suffering a brain injury can have an overwhelming impact on both the victim and their family – in some cases often transforming life completely," he said.

"When a brain injury is received as a result of an accident or negligence, it is vitally important to choose a solicitor who specialises in brain injury work, and who understands the complexities of the injury and how it will impact on the victim's life."

Opera star leaps into action for air appeal

by Graham Breeze

OPERA STAR Bryn Terfel has launched a major fundraising appeal for the Wales Air Ambulance which is based at Mid Wales Airport in Welshpool.

The bass baritone, renowned for his portrayal of Mozart, Verdi and Wagnerian role, is a patron of the Welsh Air Ambulance Charitable Trust and attended the charity's 'Leap into Action Appeal' at Gregynog Hall.

The trust wants to upgrade the air ambulance at Welshpool with the latest medical facilities and aviation technology – but an extra £600,000 will be needed every year to cover its costs.

Speaking at the launch he described what a vital service the Wales Air Ambulance offered and how many parts of Wales were dependant on it.

He said: "It is a vital service in Wales and it helps save a lot of lives.

Passionate

"I've been patron of Wales Air Ambulance for many years and am absolutely passionate for this cause. I am pleased to be here today to mark the launch of the fundraising appeal and hope it will be an incredible success.

"I come from a farming community myself and the Wales Air Ambulance if vital everywhere but especially in rural and remote parts of Wales."

Among those attending the launch yesterday was the Lord Lieutenant of Powys Mrs Shan Legge-Bourke.

The new helicopter for Powys will replace the current model, which is 20 years old and due to be decommissioned by the Civil Aviation Authority this year.

Angela Hughes, chief executive of the Wales Air Ambulance, said: "The charity needs to raise an additional £600,000 each year in order to upgrade and maintain the lease of a 'new generation' aircraft – an advanced air ambulance with the latest medical facilities and aviation technology.

"Maintaining the upgrade will create an annual fundraising target of £6 million for the lifesaving charity, which will keep all three helicopters flying over Wales."

Paralympic gold medalist Simon Richardson was also there to help launch the appeal on the eve of Wales Air Ambulance's 11th birthday, calling on supporters to help in the upgrade of the charity's third helicopter.

Woman flown to hospital

AN ELDERLY woman who fell down stairs and was knocked unconscious had to be airlifted to hospital.

Paramedics were called to help the 86 year-old woman in Chirk at about 12.20pm on Monday and a Wales Air Ambulance from Welshpool also attended the scene. The lady was treated for fractures to her right ribs and wrist and taken to the Royal Shrewsbury Hospital for specialist treatment.

Jason Williams, operation manager, said: "The whole mission took less than an hour getting the elderly lady the most appropriate care to help her recovery."

Carnival axed after clash with jubilee celebrations

WELSHPOOL Carnival has been cancelled this year – because the date clashes with the Queen's Diamond Jubilee celebrations in the town.

The event, which regularly draws hundreds of people to the town's streets and Maesydre Recreation Ground, will not take place this year after organisers said there was not enough space in the calendar for it.

Tegwyn Evans, the carnival's president and chairman, said he was 'devastated' by the loss of this year's event but said the committee could not get everyone together on the same date.

He said: "Having to cancel the carnival is devastating, it is a massive shame, I never thought things would come to this.

"But it seems we have no choice as we can't hold it when we normally do as it clashes with the Queen's Diamond Jubilee celebrations and, despite out best efforts, we can't hold it on the August Bank Holiday weekend either.

"We tried all we can to move the event but we can't get all the facilities, permissions and contracts in place.

Disaster

"Attractions such as the fairground are all fully booked for that weekend."

Last year's carnival was hailed by organisers as the best ever, with hundreds of people from across Montgomeryshire descending on Welshpool to enjoy the fun on May 30.

Mr Evans added: "This is a disaster but plans are being put in place to ensure the carnival returns to the calendar in 2013."

The secretary of Welshpool Carnival Committee, Trish Hodges, confirmed the decision to cancel this year's event was made at a meeting on Thursday

This will be the first year there has not been a carnival in Welshpool since the annual event was revived in the 1960s.

Residents warned of sewage problems

SEVERN TRENT bosses this week urged people in Welshpool to watch what they are flushing down their toilets and sinks – after claiming 'unmentionables' were causing the blockages that has seen raw sewage flooding streets.

The water giant said problems were being caused by people flushing unwanted items down their toilets and putting them down sinks.

Drew Kirby, strategy manager for Severn Trent's sewerage infrastructure, said sanitary towels, nappies and other 'unmentionables' were the culprit for blockages, which have caused raw sewage to back up and flood homes and streets in the town.

It comes after raw sewage spilled out onto a playground in Welshpool.

Mr Kirby said: "It's easy to think 'out of sight, out of mind' when we put items down the loo. But for sewer workers it's a constant battle."

Theft probe

WELSHPOOL police are investigating a case of theft which happened overnight on February 28 and 29 in Henfaes Lane. A CB radio was stolen from a Land Rover Discovery in a private yard. Call police on 01267 222020.

Trust is cutting its energy bill

INSTALLING solar energy panels at Powis Castle has helped the National Trust in its bid to reduce energy use.

The award-winning energy team from the Trust in Wales is celebrating its success.

As part of the National Trust's contribution to better energy use in Wales, the team has successfully completed the installation of seven solar energy arrays at its places throughout Wales, including one at Powis Castle in Welshpool.

The trust has committed itself to targets of 20 per cent reduction in energy use and 60 per cent generation from renewable energy sources by 2013. The team in Wales has already cut energy use by almost 50 per cent. The trust also aims to cut carbon emissions from energy use for heat and electricity by 45 per cent by 2020 – bettering the Government's target of 34 per cent.

And Powis Castle is aiming to become self-sufficient by benefitting from a groundbreaking green energy system in its garden.

Trust's after-school workshops

MONTGOMERYSHIRE Wildlife Trust is holding after-school activity workshops at Ardwyn School every Wednesday at 4pm. It's open to all primary school children with plenty of outdoor and indoor activities. Booking is essential on (01938) 556161, or come along to their offices on Broad Street in Welshpool. Getting some activities together at the centre was education officer Abi Crutcher.

Deadline looms to organise your party

TIME IS running out for anyone wishing to hold a street party in the Welshpool area to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee on June 5.

Powys County Council is inviting applications for road closures for street parties and it must be done in writing no later than April 30.

Councillor Geraint Hopkins, cabinet member for regulation, said: "We have made a commitment to waive the normal fees for this service in recognition of the occasion. However, an assessment as to whether the closure can be granted will need to be made."

An application form and further information can be obtained by contacting the council's traffic section by e-mailing traffic@powys.gov.uk or calling 0845 602 7035 or (01597) 827465.

For further details, visit www.direct.gov.uk and type 'Street Party' in the site's search engine.

Theft of pick-up

A BLUE Toyota Hilux pick-up was stolen from an Alberbury Garage. It was taken from A&T Garage at Alberbury between 5pm on February 27 and 8am the following day. It is blue with black wings and a black tailgate. Information to police on 101.

Three win through to area finals

THREE STUDENTS from a Shropshire school have won through to the regional finals of a speaking competition.

The three from Moreton Hall School near Oswestry competed in the intermediate district finals of the Rotary's 'Youth Speaks' competition held at Theatre Clwyd on February 24.

The Moreton team, representing Oswestry, came out on top of the other five teams, winning the final. They will now go forward to the regional finals on March 25 at the Forest Hills Hotel in Frodsham.

The Moreton team consisted of Harriet Lang as chairman, Emily Kiel as speaker and Verity Snow who delivered the vote of thanks.

Their winning speech was on the topic of 'Why waste away'.

"The team presented themselves with confidence and considerable maturity", said Moreton's head of spoken English, Merriel Halsall-Williams.

Museum heralds a new era for town, claims director

by Graham Breeze

THE OFFICIAL opening of a museum in Oswestry signalled the dawn of a new era for the town, curators claimed this week.

Volunteers have been working for months behind the scenes at the town's Guildhall on Bailey Head.

Last Thursday they celebrated its opening with a special ribbon cutting ceremony by the town mayor, Councillor Cynthia Hawksley.

Mark Hignett, from the town museum group, said there had been talk of developing such a facility for Oswestry for several years but for a variety of reasons nothing had ever came to fruition.

Visitors

He said he was looking forward to today's opening and to welcoming visitors inside tomorrow. "It is a dawn of a new era," he said.

"It will change Oswestry. One of our big aims is to make the museum a focal point for visitors. It will attract more people to the town and encourage them to stay in the area. I feel proud that the museum is now ready to open."

Every day the museum has been receiving artefacts donated for its display cabinets.

Oswestry Choral Society took a baton dating back to 1866 which was used by the Oswestry Cambrian Choral Society.

Mr Hignett said: "We have had so many donations and we are surprised and delighted by that. We thought there would be a lot of people interested but it has completely exceeded our expectations."

He said he would like the museum to be a work in progress that will never be finished, always putting new things on display.

Oswestry Town Council has given the museum a five-year lease free of charge for the rooms.

Councillor Hawksley said: "I am very proud to have been asked to undertake the task of cutting the ribbon. The town council is dedicated to facilitating this opportunity.

"There has been a demand for a museum in Oswestry for many years. I congratulate the volunteers on achieving this major facility for Oswestry within just a few months. I wish it every success."

At the official opening of the new museum in Oswestry, from left, volunteers Sherie Soper and John Williams, Oswestry mayor Cynthia Hawksley, director and volunteer Mark Hignett, and director and volunteer Maggie Rowlands.

Oswestry mayor Cynthia Hawksley officially opens the museum, with pupils from Woodside School and volunteers and directors of the museum.

Officials hail pub's reopening in village

THE ONLY pub in a Shropshire village reopened this week with councillors hoping it will become an important part of the community.

The Punch Bowl, in West Felton, closed its doors last year leaving residents without a local place to drink.

The brewery which owns the pub, Trust Inns, has announced it is now open again.

Steve Harworth, a West Felton Parish Councillor, said he was pleased it would be a working pub in the village again. He was working with the former tenants to try to create a village bowling green in its grounds.

Benefit

Councillors met up with the new management to see if they would allow part of their grounds to be transformed into a bowling green.

But Councillor Haworth said: "The pub decided it didn't want to take that forward.

"We are very happy the pub is going to open again. It could be a benefit to the village community. We are hoping this is a sign of prosperity and become a community asset. We hope it is something that does well."

He said the parish council was very hopeful plans for the bowling green progress and hoped to approach another company in the area.

NHS contract with practice pulled

HEALTH CHIEFS in Shropshire have revealed they have ended their NHS contract with a dental practice in Oswestry.

The Park Practice Dental Care, in Church Street, closed recently because it was not registered with the national Care Quality Commission with patients forced to find alternative dentists for treatment.

It was hoped the National Health Service practice would be shut only temporarily with manager Nick Partington saying the issue was due to an 'administrative oversight' and could be solved within the next two weeks.

But Shropshire Primary Care Trust said it had decided to terminate its NHS contract with the practice because the surgery could no longer meet the terms of its contract.

Trust spokesman Jenny Fullard said: "The PCT has offered advice and support to the practice but it has been unable to maintain NHS dental services to patients. We would like to reassure patients we have not taken the decision to terminate the contract lightly. We have been working with the practice for many months in the hope we could resolve concerns.

"For legal reasons we cannot go into details around why we have terminated the contract. We would like to encourage anyone with any concerns to contact our dental helpline."

People needing advice on finding a new NHS dental practice are asked to call the helpline on (01743) 277561.

Hospital asks staff for their bright ideas

by Graham Breeze

A CAMPAIGN asking staff at Oswestry's orthopaedic hospital for ideas on how to improve its service will be repeated after an initial initiative proved hugely popular.

Staff came up with 100 ideas in 100 days after the hospital in Gobowen won Foundation Trust status last year and they will be asked for more ideas on how the hospital's new main entrance can be improved when it opens in a few months.

Associate director of human resources Ruth Tyrrell told the hospital's trust board yesterday the suggestions scheme had been based on an initiative originally started the United States challenging staff to come up with 100 ideas in 100 days.

A report to the trust board said ideas were requested in various categories, including ideas which avoid duplication of effort, improves care and avoids waste.

The report added: "As an added bonus, the first 10 suggestions received that met the criteria, and chosen to be taken forward, would receive £25 high street vouchers to say thank you, and a further £100 high street voucher was given to the best idea received, as judged by the executive team.

"The campaign was formally launched on August 1, and the chief executive together with the staff side chair of the joint consultative group visited wards and departments to issue campaign kits including posters and suggestion forms.

"The trust had an excellent response with a total of exactly 100 ideas received, although one suggestion received was supported by 20 people.

"Overall, 35 suggestions had immediate approval to be taken forward, with 49 suggestions given approval in principle, although further work regarding cost and benefit of these suggestions needs to take place."

The top idea, which came from porter Lee Mullock, is to source a clip to attach crutches to the patient's bed when they are being transported around the hospital.

Sri Lankan teachers welcomed by schools

SCHOOLS IN Oswestry have welcomed two visitors from Sri Lanka.

Teachers Himalika Bogahalanda and Kumundu Bandara visited the Marches Secondary School and primary schools, including Holy Trinity, as part of the area's Connecting Classrooms project.

Both English teachers in Sri Lankan schools, Himalika and Kumundu took part in a range of activities during their visit to the Marches including assisting with an Olympic themed textiles project, taking part in an interview with pupils and enjoying afternoon tea in the school library.

Display

The visitors were welcomed into lessons to experience teaching in a British school.

Adele Williams, creative connections co-ordinator at The Marches, said that during break-time the visitors enjoyed tea and scones.

The two teachers took a trip into Oswestry town centre to view a shop display as part of the school's International Footfall project, a stamp designing competition.

As part of a Connecting Classrooms project, the stamp designs were sent over to schools in Sri Lanka and displayed as part of the Footfall exhibition.

Miss Bandara said: "This has been a brilliant opportunity to exchange knowledge and teaching methodologies. This has been a fantastic opportunity to meet one another and share ideas for future projects."

Warning over poisonous bracelet beans is issued

RESIDENTS in Welshpool are being warned about bracelets that contain poisonous red and black Jequirity beans.

The council's Trading Standards Service has issued the warning following a national alert about the bracelets and the beans that contain the toxin 'abrin'.

The toxin is a controlled substance that could cause serious harm if swallowed. Trading Standards advise that none of these bracelets are known to have been sold locally. However, the bracelets have been sold through 36 retailers across the UK – one of which is the Eden Project, Cornwall.

People who have bought the bracelets are being urged to bag them, wash their hands and avoid touching their eyes. The bagged item may be disposed in the household waste.

Pub to host dance lessons

IRISH dancing lessons will take place at a pub near Oswestry.

The classes will be held at Cross Keys Pub in Selattyn on March 15 from 7.30pm on Thursdays from 7.30pm until 9pm and entry costs £2.

Patients will get a hi-tech virtual welcome at hospital

AN AIRPORT-STYLE 'virtual assistant' will greet patients when Oswestry Orthopaedic Hospital's redevelopment is unveiled, bosses have revealed.

The assistant will greet patients in a consistent manner as they arrive at the hospital, explaining what they need to do next, where the refreshment facilities are and how to leave customer comments.

While in widespread use in airports, this is the first use of such 'ease and speed' check-in technology in an NHS hospital, and bosses say it will have the effect of reducing queuing and improving the reception process.

Additionally information kiosks will provide touch-screen technology for self-check-in.

Bosses say the huge revamp of the hospital's main entrance has incorporated the very latest technology to provide timely information for patients.

The new, high technology facilities for patients are due to open by June and will include digital information and a central area with a coffee shop run by the League of Friends, the post office, as well as mobility supplier Ableworld and the League of Friends shop.

Reception staff and uniformed volunteer ambassadors will also be on hand to help patients.

Hospital bosses say the building of the new entrance as well a conference facilities at the Gobowen-based hospital is progressing well.

TV show brings in business to town

APPEARING ON national television has paid dividends for a community group near the Shropshire border.

The Workhouse project at Llanfyllin was featured on BBC2's Britain's Heritage Heroes – and it led to a Cheshire-based caravan club wanting to stay in the area and hold a rally for 100 members.

Llanfyllin town mayor Councillor Ian Jones said raising the Workhouse's profile would bring an economic boost to the area. The project at the Victorian workhouse on the outskirts of Llanfyllin, is a community enterprise for arts, education, environment and heritage.

Councillor Jones said shortly after the programme aired he got an e-mail from Cheshire Caravan Club asking to stay at the Workhouse and have a caravan rally.

He said: "There could be about 100 caravans. Where are they going to do all their shopping? In the town of course."

Sat-nav blunder left me here

BRYNEGLWYS is an accident. Well, not an 'accident' accident – I'm sure this well established, fabulously foliaged cul-de-sac was all planned and premeditated.

But for me, this episode of Down Your Street is the result of none other than a full-blown sat-nav blooper.

Basically, on the way to somewhere else I got lost. And, with my sat-nav lady having got her knickers in a twist and repeatedly shouting "recalculating" at me, the only thing for it is to turn her off, get out of the car and start talking to some real people.

And where I got out just happened to be in the dead-end of Bryneglwys in Welshpool.

Within minutes I am talking to a future Olympic athlete in the shape of Adele Nichol, who at just 15 years old is one of the top discus and shot putt athletes in Britain.

The Welsh international is the current British under-15s champion in the disciplines and is now going up a class to the tougher under-17s field.

Soon she will be competing in the Olympic trials against athletes who will be going to London 2012, but her ambitions realistically lie further into the future.

"Maybe next time – 2016 or more like 2020, that is my goal," she says.

"My aim at the moment is for the 2013 world youth championships," adds Adele, who travels to Birmingham for training.

One thing well worth mentioning – the hedges. Running around the entire circuitous street, the glorious greenery rarely breaks, forming ornate gateways and duck-under passages. It's bordering on being a communal work of topiary-tastic art, this.

Resident Trefor Owen tells me there's a conservation order on it. "It's rather nice, isn't it," he says. "We are quite proud of it. People cut it every year, around September time."

Trefor has lived here for 14 years and recalls his days as the mobile librarian.

"You didn't go round the corner too fast or you'd lose your books and your 'issue key'. But you would get to know people and their tastes, and people confide in you," adds Trefor, who is also a member of the Powys Eisteddfod Gorsedd, a band of bards who dress in robes and take part in traditional ceremonies.

Interestingly he was accepted at St David's on the same morning that the Archbishop of Canterbury was ordained at the same cathedral.

"It was quite an honour," says Trefor.

Cul-de-sac life is quiet but neighbourly. People seem to know one another by name and I get the full guided tour at one point.

Resident Brenda Evans says: "It's the best. We have got exceedingly good neighbours. For example, my husband has got cancer and neighbours have taken him on drives out. They have been marvellous. People are so kind."

I notice that people stop and talk in the street – and before I can explain, I am included in a street-side chin-wag.

"I speak to people in towns and often they don't know their next door neighbour," says Dennis Howard, who used to farm and was fortunate to get to test manufacturer's new machinery before it went to market.

"It's rather nice, isn't it," he says. "We are quite proud of it." Can you guess what Bryneglwys resident Trefor Owen is talking about?

Dennis Howard has come a long way to live in Bryneglwys...Windsor, in fact

Originally from Windsor, Dennis 'swam up-river to live first in Shropshire and then Welshpool'.

But he's happy with life here, thank you very much. "I can't get any further up river," he says.

If ever there was a place to have a happy accident, I discover, it's right here on Bryneglwys.

Student expresses love with languages

A STUDENT from Llanwddyn has broken new ground in attempts to express feelings of love – by recording a song in two languages.

Donna Davies, 21, who studies at Walford and North Shropshire College, has never previously released a song. She has recorded a version of I Do in English and Welsh and is now hoping the single will be a hit at weddings.

Miss Davies started singing at the age of four during music classes at primary school and has sung since in many concerts and eisteddfods as a solo and part of a duet or group competitions.

She has also starred in a number of talent shows in Shropshire and Mid Wales. They include The Y Factor and Newtown's Got Talent.

Since she was 11 she started having private singing lessons in a bid to help her follow her dreams of being a singer. She has twice auditioned for The X Factor and also tried Britain's Got Talent.

She said: "My family and friends have been listening to it.

"Hopefully this is the start of things to come."

The song I Do was written by Steven Richardsen and translated by Penri Roberts.

Fatal stab case detectives commended for police work

TWO DETECTIVES who worked on the year-long investigation into the fatal stabbing of Oswestry shopworker Jill Nevitt have been commended for their work.

Detective Constables Mat Crisp and Sam Salt took lead roles in the inquiry into the death of the 45-year-old grandmother, who died on December 14, 2010.

by Graham Breeze

They have been awarded superintendent's commendations for their 'professionalism, thoroughness and resilience' into the death of Mrs Nevitt, who was killed at her home in Orchard Street in Oswestry.

Her former partner Brian Woodmass, 59, was jailed for 12 years after admitting manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility at Stafford Crown Court last December.

Detective Constable Crisp was officer in the case and Detective Constable Salt was family liaison officer.

Superintendent Steve Eccleston, senior investigating officer, said DC Crisp took responsibility for managing all lines of inquiry dealing with a number of challenges.

The superintendent said: "He took all these in his stride, addressing each new challenge as it arose in a very thorough and professional manner."

DC Crisp was also responsible for producing the initial file of evidence for Woodmass's early court appearances. Superintendent Eccleston said DC Salt was the lead family liaison officer working with Mrs Nevitt's close-knit family and managing a number of difficult situations.

He said: "She managed all of these challenges with utmost professionalism and was able to build an excellent relationship with the family members. This was vital when it was necessary to gather detailed information about the previous relationship between Mrs Nevitt and the defendant.

"DC Salt also provided invaluable support to the court and the prosecution team during the court process."

The death of Mrs Nevitt shocked Oswestry people, many of whom knew her as a popular member of staff at the town's Poundstretcher's store. Stafford Crown Court was told Woodmass carried out a frenzied attack on his former partner.

Generous bank customers help needy

CUSTOMERS at a bank in Oswestry have done their bit to help the area's less well off.

The town's Nationwide branch was one of more than 700 throughout the country which asked customers to donate items of food when they visited the bank.

A collection box was set up in the bank and customers were asked to take non-perishable and dried food.

Branch manager Sheila Davies said many people had donated items. She said: "We filled up the box we left out and had enough to fill four more carriers bags. People have been donating everything, including nappies. They have been really generous."

Food donated to the Oswestry bank will be passed on to the Oswestry and Borders Foodbank service whose volunteers will distribute the food to the area's needy.

Foodbank manager Gillian Richards thanked the Nationwide for running the programme.

She said: "I think it is wonderful that they have taken the trouble to help us. We are getting busier all the time so these donations will help us.

"We only opened on November 28 and we have seen about 140 people from all around the area already. We are getting busier every week and the more help we can get the better."

The foodbank will soon be moving into former shop premises in Beatrice Street and will be open from April 2 at the new premises. In the meantime, items of food can be dropped off at the Kingswell Centre where the foodbank operates from 10.30am to 1pm every Monday and Thursday.

Market is hit by the stormy weather

COUNCILLORS in Oswestry claim they know why the town's traditional outdoor Wednesday market has failed to flourish this year – it's all simply down to the dodgy British weather.

One veteran councillor claimed fair weather traders kept a close eye on the forecasts and if it was going to be too wet or windy they just did not bother turning up to open their stalls.

New figures to the town council have revealed that stallholder figures are only marginally up for last year and are significantly down compared to 10 and 20 years ago.

A report from town council finance officer Roger Dyke said: "On average in 2011/12, 22.86 traders have attended per week compared to 22.48 last year.

"In 1990, 99 traders attended per week on average over a similar period.

"An average of 60 traders attended in 2000/01."

Town councillor Heather Bickerton said the weather had to take its fair share of the blame.

She said: "Unfortunately we never know what the weather was like when we are looking at these figures but it has been particularly windy.

"It does have a bad effect on our Wednesday markets."

FARMING 01691 668094

Farmers fear for industry over change to policies

West Midlands NFU believes EU proposals will prevent innovation and development on Shropshire farms.

FARMERS IN Shropshire say the county's agricultural industry will be pushed back into the dark ages if controversial EU plans are approved.

Brussels bureaucrats are presently renegotiating the Common Agricultural Policy which determines the way the industry is run. However, the plans presently on the table could have an adverse effect on local farmers, according to regional leaders from the National Farmers' Union.

John Mercer, NFU regional director, said: "The proposals, as they stand, will take the industry backwards at a time when we need to be going forwards."

The CAP ensures that money is given to the industry to protect farmers from volatile markets. That in turn helps to protect shoppers from volatile food prices and also helps to protect rural heritage, the countryside and its environment.

Advertisement feature

The NFU in the West Midlands believes the proposals to reform CAP, particularly the 'greening' measures, will prevent innovation and development on Shropshire farms.

Industry leaders say some of the changes put forward threaten to overwhelm farm businesses and make the industry less competitive. Farmers have concerns about the concept of 'greening', where in the future 30 per cent of direct support could be conditional on them following mandatory environmental measures.

Mr Mercer said officials trying to make sure the voices of local farmers were heard.

He said: "Fortunately there is now time for farmers and the NFU to lobby MPs and MEPs and demonstrate the damaging impact these proposals could have. Our members are in the business of producing food and need to feed a growing population in a more sustainable way so any proposal to take land out of production is a real backward step.

"These proposals are also potentially damaging to the farmed environment which farmers are working so hard to improve.

"We need to work together and lobby to help simplify these proposals so there is a streamlined, workable system from 2014."

CHRONICLE BUSINESS AWARDS

01691 668094

There's just one week to go if you want to be in it to win it

THERE'S JUST a week to go for would-be winners of the Oswestry & Border Chronicle Business Awards to get their entries in.

Businesses have until Friday, April 16, to get their entries in as we search for the very best in business across our circulation areas in the Oswestry and Welshpool districts.

Launched with Oswestry Chamber of Commerce, the awards will be held in conjunction with the Lion Quays Waterside Resort with an awards ceremony at the resort on Thursday, April 26, when finalists will be competing for six major trophies.

Whether employing a handful of staff or a workforce of hundreds; whether turning over thousands of pounds or millions of pounds; operating in a new service sector or a long established area of manufacturing, we want to hear from you.

The key ingredient is that your business must be mainly or wholly based in The Chronicle circulation area.

Hospitality

All the lucky finalists, together with our sponsors and other representatives from the business community, will enjoy hospitality at the Lion Quays Resort in April when the winners will be announced and awards presented.

There will be awards for innovation, best use of digital technology, customer service and environmental awareness.

There will also be overall awards for both small and large employers who can demonstrate successful business performance.

Graham Breeze, The Chronicle's associate editor, said he was delighted that the resort had agreed to host the event and that the Chamber of Commerce was involved.

"The Chronicle is celebrating its first birthday today and this new partnership emphasises the regard in which the newspaper is held by the business community," he said. "It is a very difficult time for the business community but many of our innovative companies are thriving and setting remarkably high standards.

"This is a great opportunity to recognise the remarkable achievements and the high qualities being offered locally by so many organisations."

CHRONICLE BUSINESS CLUB AWARDS 2012
in association with Oswestry Chamber of Commerce

"This is a great opportunity to recognise the remarkable achievements and the high qualities being offered locally by so many organisations"

The awards have been welcomed by the Chamber of Commerce. Martin Anderson, chairman, said he was looking forward to helping to judge the awards as part of an independent panel.

"This is a really good chance for businesses to gain recognition and as a chamber we are delighted to be involved."

Lyn Pearson, marketing and events manager at The Lion Quays said: "We are pleased to be able to support and host the Chronicle Business Awards.

"This will be Oswestry's first major business awards event and holding it at The Lion Quays gives us the opportunity to showcase the outstanding facilities that we have available."

Businesses both large and small will be celebrated at the awards ceremony

Firms big and small welcome to enter

ENTERING the Oswestry & Border Chronicle Business Awards could not be easier.

The Awards competition is completely free to take part in and is open to all companies and organisations based in the distribution/circulation area of the Oswestry & Border Chronicle.

Business, whether big or small, should decide which categories they would like to enter and check the criteria which can be found on this page.

Then simply write your entry using one side only of A4 sheets of paper up to a maximum of 500 words, explaining why your business deserves to win the award for that particular category.

Received

Remember to attach a new form for each category you are entering and send them as hard copy to: Business Club Awards 2012, Oswestry & Border Chronicle, 14 Salop Street, Oswestry SY11 2NU.

Alternatively you can scan the entry form and email it with your entry of not more than 500 words to awards2012@oswestrychronicle.co.uk

Entries must be received by the close of business on Friday, March 16, 2012.

No business may enter more than two categories in total.

Sponsors are reminded that they cannot enter their own category.

Musings on museum's exhibits

Oswestry's "town jewels".

WITH THE opening in the Guildhall of what is claimed to be Oswestry's first dedicated town museum, we are this week taking a dip into some old photographs to come up with a list of potential exhibits.

But as we are going back a while, and some of the items have no doubt disappeared forever, our suggestions list is only for fun and interest.

by Toby Neal

EXHIBIT A – THE TOWN JEWELS: We hope this lot isn't among those which have disappeared. The Oswestry silver collection is seen in our photo in September 1964. It was "a unique photograph of the priceless collection of silver communion vessels at the 11th century St Oswald's Church, the parish church of Oswestry.

Much of the silver dates back to Elizabethan times and has only recently returned from the Oswestry Borough Library where together with the corporation silver it has been on public view for the last two weeks."

EXHIBIT B – THE OSWESTRY CART: Thanks to regular contributor John Powell for this 1907 image of an Oswestry-built coach, the maker being George Rogers. The coachbuilders were on the Horsemarket in Oswestry.

EXHIBIT C – SIGNS OF THE TIMES: Don't forget the simple things, like street furniture. These traffic signs had been removed back in January 1969 and were at Oswestry old police station, which was being used as a rural borough council storeroom. "The signs are no longer being used to direct traffic in

"Oswestry on Wednesday market day. Now that the new Smithfield is open, the one way traffic system has been discontinued. Stacking the signs is Mr John Marshall, of College Road, an employee in the roads department," said the original caption.

EXHIBIT D – BEDS OF IRON: A comfy night's sleep was not guaranteed in the dormitory of the casual ward – that is, the tramps' ward – of Morda House, seen here in August 1956.

EXHIBIT E – THE WREATH OF RECONCILIATION: There is of course nothing unusual about laying a wreath on Remembrance Day, but the laying of this particular wreath in Oswestry in November 1971 was a historic occasion.

The German Navy wreath laid at Oswestry's Memorial Gates was said to be the first time that a German wreath has been laid in this country at a memorial to those who died in the two World Wars.

The wreath, made from laurel leaves in the chaplet style by Oswestry florist Mrs Alma Brown, had been paid for by the Nuremberg German Naval Association, which had close connections with the Oswestry Royal Naval Association.

Earlier in 1971 a party of its members visited Oswestry, where one of them had been a prisoner during the war. Mr Ronald Leonard, secretary of the Oswestry association, said at the time that the idea for the wreath had been that of the Nuremberg association.

A historic Oswestry wreath.

Theatre group turns to movie classic for play

THE ATTFIELD Theatre in Oswestry has turned to a film classic for the third of its season's productions.

Although One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest is best known as a Hollywood blockbuster starring Jack Nicholson, it was a play a decade earlier in the 1960s.

Written by Ken Kesey and based on the novel by Dale Waserman, the action takes place in a mental asylum in the USA and tells what happens when a charismatic conman arrives having feigned madness to obtain an easier sentence.

McMurphy's maverick tendencies improve the condition of the inmates, but bring him into conflict with the authoritarian ogre Nurse Ratched and the pair are set on a collision course with tragic consequences.

The play was during the Vietnam War and is understood as a metaphor for the suppression of the individual spirit. The play, has been running all week and finishes on Saturday with a cast of 15 Attfield regulars.

Wayne Young is taking the part of McMurphy, Allison Heward as Nurse Ratched and Tim Baker as Chief Bromden.

Tickets for the production, priced at £6, are available from the company's box office at the Guildhall. For more information and tickets call 01691 680222.

Classy Honda estate manages to combine style with practicality

Estate car owners are demanding more than just space and practicality these days.

Today's driver wants a bit of style as well which is why the Honda Accord Tourer is such an attractive proposition.

The 2.2iDTEC Auto is one of the best looking estates on our roads today yet its practicality is not compromised by its appearance. There's still 395 litres of space with seats in position, which increases to 672 when folded flat.

There's near coupe like styling on the Tourer which is seen as a rival to an Audi A4 or to Ford Mondeo. At £30,000 it's cheaper than the Audi but a lot more expensive than the Ford, though re-sale values are said to be up there with the best.

And while the Tourer has obvious attractions for the family motorist it's also right up there for the company car driver too. The combination of space and the refined 2.2-litre diesel engine, paired with an automatic gearbox mean it has real attractions for the motorway driver.

Competitive

There's good performance with 0-62mph in 10 seconds, a top speed of 128mph and combined fuel consumption of 46.3mpg which is aided by the most recent stop-start technology – a system I am really starting to enjoy. CO_2 emissions are also competitive at 159g/km.

The Tourer rates well when cruising, with excellent torque giving good acceleration, and while this Honda is not built for speed it still does the job with an engine which is quiet enough for a diesel with hardly any road and wind noise.

The ride is firm but sports suspension gives sharp handling for an estate and the driver quickly feels at home.

There's enough kit as standard to keep most buyers happy. There's satellite navigation, MP3/Bluetooth capability and rear parking sensors all fitted as standard.

Inside, the cabin is typically Honda with multi-adjustable seats, slim pillars and an attractive, but somewhat fussy dash, with a vast array of identically-coloured and similarly-shaped switches. Sometimes it's difficult to remember what does what.

The sound system is superb and unlike many rivals the sat-nav system is simplicity itself – how I hate some of the more complicated versions that sometimes speak to you in Albanian.

Not many cars are as trouble-free to own as a Honda, and owners rate the Accord very highly, placing it top of its class in the 2011 JD Power survey. Quite simply the Accord won't break down as the miles mount, and trim quality is high.

Safety features highly in the minds of Honda engineers and the Accord has all the latest electronic braking and anti-skid features, including trailer stability assistance. Other measures include auto reverse, when any resistance is detected, backed up by touch sensors located around the sides of the tailgate.

The Accord Tourer is available with a power-operated tailgate. When opening, an audible warning sounds and the indicators flash. There's also an automatic close function, to save slamming it, which is ideal if there's a sleeping child in the car.

There are six airbags and anti-whiplash front headrests. Diesel and 2.4-litre petrol EX models offer the option of a lane-change warning system and cruise control that brakes the car in emergencies. Deadlocks and an alarm are standard.

Performance and style – The versatile Honda Accord Tourer

Leon FR is the star in new Seat series

Seat Leon's first went on sale in the UK back in 2000 and now the revised second generation of this derivative is still finding friends and is one of Seat's bestselling vehicles.

The Leon is a sporty looking vehicle; it has the benefit of 5-door practicality incorporated in to its coupe styling. It fits nicely in to the family market place but with its styling it is a vehicle that isn't just a run of the mill car.

By Bob Hickman

There are numerous options of engines with a choice of five petrol and three turbo diesel units, all of course from the brilliant VW parts bin, so you know the engines, gearboxes, and running gear are going to be faultless and willing performers.

Transmission choices, if a Leon ticks your boxes, are threefold with five or six–speed manuals and on certain versions including my sporty FR derivative, a state of the art six-speed DSG automatic sequential with paddles on the steering wheel. This particular type of gearbox has to be experienced to be believed, smooth, effortless almost undetectable changes are the mode.

The front of the Leon benefits from a new bumper and the newly designed smaller Seat branded logo completes the corporate look that makes the vehicle one of Seat's family favourites.

The rear is an indication of the changes that have been incorporated, gentle and subtle, new light clusters and again a smaller logo at the rear differentiates the 2012 Seat.

My FR version of the Leon was the sporty option, just one down from the all-singing and dancing Cupra and this is Seat's attempt to recreate the hot hatch pocket rocket type of vehicle and it certainly had a sporty looking cockpit and passenger environment.

Smooth moves – the DSG gearbox seemed to appreciate every demand

Dashboard

The steering wheel was multi-functional and at times I did find very confusing. There was a plethora of buttons, knobs, and switches that needed to be operated to change computer mode in the dashboard, to change from FM to DAB radio, or to increase volume.

Of course if it is your vehicle you will soon get used to it and able to understand it.

The seats are of the type that rally drivers would love, the difficulty with these seats however is the factor that they grip you so tight that when you try to exit from the vehicle it was a little difficult and certainly very unladylike for female drivers and passengers.

The 4-cylinder turbo charged 1984 cc engine fitted in to the FR produces in the region of 210 bhp, enough to give a phenomenal top speed of 145 mph and a very rapid 0 – 60 gallop of marginally under seven seconds. The CO emissions are quite high at 174 and this of course will put the vehicle in to excise band H, so be prepared to pay in the first year £265 and thereafter £190 to tax the vehicle. Seat claim a combined fuel efficiency figure of 37 mpg.

Born to run –the sporty Leon FR will race to 60 mph in under seven seconds

The performance and handling of the FR were exemplarity, I am a huge fan of the DSG gear box, it changes so smoothly and seems able to anticipate your every demand, whether it be getting a move on twisty rewarding B class roads or meandering along, the changes are totally without effort and at times you only realise it has changed gear by watching the rev counter. As you would expect with just over 200 bhp at your disposal the FR is a very able and quick car, fortunately the engineers have done a brilliant job in the chassis department creating a vehicle that is rewarding to drive and does not suffer from horrendous torque steer due to the amount of power the front wheels are trying to translate to the road.

The level of equipment on the FR is extensive and probably it should be for a vehicle that has a recommended price tag of £23,100.

Myvi proves to be a marvel at the price

The Myvi has a decent sound system, but a clock was sadly missing

The name Perodua may be a little unfamiliar to you, it is a Malaysian Company that has only been in existence since 1994.

They first appeared on the scene in the UK in 1997 and since that time they have been selling cars not in huge quantities but at incredibly competitive prices and super value for money.

The Myvi is a highly efficient 5-door supermini and there can be little doubt that it is excellent value for money.

The SXi manual is available for just £6,999 due to Perodua's incentives and my EZi automatic comes at a price of £7,699, again inclusive of its incentive. When you consider what you will pay for certain other major manufacturers superminis you could buy two Myvis for the price.

It is my belief that this really is a vehicle for those people who have to use their own hard earned cash to purchase a car.

Perodua's manual version Myvi is available at just under £7,000

By Bob Hickman

Let's dismiss the myth about the cars being fast depreciating and the residuals being poor, they are not, CAP suggests that they are quite high on the list of the vehicles in respect of residual value after three years and also remember if you are not paying a lot of money to start off with then you are not losing a lot of money three years down the line and the Myvi itself is quite a highly specified vehicle.

It has a 1.3-litre double overhead camshaft engine which produces a reasonable 85 bhp, this considering the size and weight of the car is sufficient to give a 0 – 60 of 11 seconds and a top speed of 106 mph, add in a CO2 figure of 137 which will reward you with low excise duty payments and a combined fuel figure at 48 mpg and the arguments in favour of buying this car get stronger.

My particular test car had the automatic gearbox fitted, it was smooth, efficient, sometimes a little lethargic and sometimes needed a positive action on the accelerator to allow kick down to operate, but it performed quite adequately for my requirements and never felt laboured in its performance. I was utterly amazed at how quickly the engine warmed up, the heater could be switched on after a mere half a mile and the interior was enveloped in warmth. I have driven some cars when after five miles the heater still did not work, I was tempted to check if a thermostat was actually fitted to the engine.

The power steering was helpful and felt balanced, as we all get a little bit older we need that little bit of help and assistance from the power steering, we don't want to be building up muscles like Popeye when you go manoeuvring in to car parking spots!

The driver and front passenger benefit from frontal airbags only; there is no plethora of curtain and side bags on this vehicle. Central locking is a feature as is air conditioning. The 60/40 rear seats split quite easily and the amount of head and shoulder room for all occupants is exceptional, 6ft passengers did not complain about the amount of head or legroom in the back. The front and rear windows are electrically operated. A reasonable quality, very easy to understand radio CD player with 4-speakers is included.

It was surprising in this day and age to find a cigarette lighter and ashtray are still incorporated in the cabin, I suppose this is due to the vehicle's Malaysian roots where smoking is still more acceptable than in the UK.

One feature that was missing from the interior was a clock, one of those silly features that until you do not have one fitted you never realised how much you use it and miss it.

I really did like the ease of both access and egress from the car, the seats which had benefit of the optional leather pack were supportive without constricting your movement, in addition they are placed on a higher level and with the low sills and wide opening doors this makes the car a contender for those with impaired hip or mobility issues.

The leather option is quite expensive at about £1,000 especially when you consider the price of the car, however, the quality of workmanship is astounding, the stitching would be acceptable in any of the luxury brands. Whoever Perodua has used to provide the seat and door trims in the UK are to be commended.

Perodua are confident enough to offer a three year or 60,000 mile warranty and two years free roadside recovery membership, in addition an eight year anti "rot" guarantee is incorporated.

Space was not a problem with plenty of shoulder and leg room

Memories E-voked by super sleek machine

AS A little boy, relatives smiled of my quaint habit of keeping my collection of toy cars all in their original boxes. Now, many years later, that habit is causing me a problem because I can't find a 'box' to put the new Range Rover Evoque in.

By John Griffiths

Yes, officially it's a medium-sized sports utility vehicle but no ordinary one. But perhaps I have trouble putting it in a 'box' or convenient category because there isn't one yet. Like its illustrious big brother the Range Rover when that was launched, the Evoque is something so different it's in a class of its own.

It has the utility of an SUV but its styling is sleek and trendy, and is kitted out to the standard Range Rover owners would expect. It's also sporty by hot hatchback standards, in terms of both performance and handling.

Yet with the 2.2 diesel engine it's relatively economical too.

And as it doesn't take up as much room on the road as its stablemates it's likely to appeal to those who drive mainly on urban roads where size does matter (particularly when parking) and gives them the chance to flaunt greener credentials without sacrificing a prestige badge.

A true Range Rover, but the Evoque has a distinctly more aerodynamic shape

Many may ask why buy an Evoque, when for considerably less money you could have a roomier and increasingly better equipped Freelander. Simply, it's a Range Rover: still a top choice with executives all over the world when, equally, they could have chosen a cheaper Discovery.

This is a designer car, and with a near £40,000 price tag for the model tested it will certainly hold real appeal for well-heeled buyers of an Armani suit or a Gucci handbag.

While the Evoque is the baby of the Land Rover family, don't be misled into thinking it's a small car. It isn't: it can seat five in comfort and has more boot space than a Jaguar limousine, with the added ability to fold the rear seats flat and become a cargo carrier of estate car proportions.

Rear vision

While its 'face' can't be mistaken for anything else but a Range Rover, the Evoque has a distinctly more aerodynamic shape with a sweeping roofline. This doesn't appear to be at the expense of interior space although the rear window is particularly small. Thankfully industrial-sized door mirrors of a typical 4x4 alleviate the rear vision issue.

The Evoque comes in five-door form or as a three-door coupe, although both have the same five seat capacity. Prices start at £27.995, or £28,950 for the coupe, although you can effectively create you own bespoke car from a wide range of options.

It's worth mentioning, perhaps, that you can even buy a two wheel drive only version if you're sure you'll be sticking to city streets.

The 2.2 litre, four cylinder diesel engine has 150bhp on tap, but perhaps more significantly a hefty 280Nm of torque at just 1,750 rpm. It's the sort of pulling power needed for a car with luxury pretensions, bringing smooth acceleration from low engine speeds and refined cruising with the aid of a six speed automatic gearbox.

The 0 to 60mph dash takes just eight seconds, only a fraction slower than the diesel Range Rover with twice the capacity and, of course, considerably less fuel with an official 43.5mpg average.

On the road it feels lively and nimble, sweeping through bends without the body roll of 4x4s of even the recent past. Steering is rather more positive, too, plus there is the sophisticated Land Rover four wheel drive system which has advantages both on and off road.

I didn't get to drive the Evoque off-road, but while it doesn't have a low range gearbox like its more established stablemates (that never seemed to hold the Freelander back in the fields and forests) it is still a 4x4 with much more ground clearance than the average car.

Inside, the driver gets a central touchscreen control centre for the communication and entertainment systems, with voice control too. Climate control air conditioning, programmable mood lighting and high quality fixtures and fittings are part of the package.

You and your passengers sit within a specially constructed 'safety cell', with multiple airbags and restraint systems to help protect you.

The Evoque has already claimed well over 50 awards, such as best car and best SUV from judging panels all over the world. Its brand image and price tag, to say nothing of its inherent qualities, ensure it will continue to score high marks for desirability – and that can only be good for Land Rover and West Midlands industry in general.

Buoyant Llanfair ladies are going up

BUOYANT Llanfair Caereinion ladies clinched promotion to North Wales Women's League division one with a 3-1 win over Llandudno.

Captain Angharad Davies scored from a well-worked penalty corner and just minutes later Jane James netted after a great passage of play. Sara Rudd then added a third to effectively wrap up the win before half time.

They will now be playing in division one next season, where they will join rivals Newtown and Welshpool.

In that first division, Welshpool suffered a 6-4 defeat against Dysynni in a fluctuating encounter.

Pool opened the scoring through Ceri-Lee Evans before Dysynni levelled.

Lucy Davies restored the lead, but Dysynni equalised again before carving a 4-2 interval lead and then adding a fifth after the interval.

Welshpool got one back through Ceri Chapman and both teams had chances before Dysynni scored again to settle the encounter. Chapman reduced the arrears again but it was too late.

On Saturday, they face a big local derby with Newtown at 10.30am.

Cobra's strike is a stunner for Oak A

THE Cobra Meifod stunned title hopefuls the Oak A with a 4-1 second session to win 6-4 in the Welshpool Pool League Andrew's Premier Division.

Iain Githerie was their star man, complete with a dish 7-baller in a three-frame burst in the second half to set them on the way.

The Talbot D now lead by two clear points after they consolidated with a 7-3 result over the Courthouse Judges.

The Breidden Lions and Pheasant Nomads both closed the gap to the Oak with wins, and Argae A gave their survival hopes a boost with a vital 7-3 win over bottom placed Angel B.

The Fish Bar division 1 still appears to be a two-horse race as the Punchbowl A and Talbot Top dogs matched each other with 6-4 wins, although third placed Oak B Guilsfield continue to chase after a 7-3 away win at the Pheasant B.

In division two, the Black Lion Llanfair took advantage of the Lion Llansantffraid postponing their game, and went top with a 6-4 win against the Horseshoe Arddleen, and the Social Club B hang on to their coat tails after a good 6-4 win over mid placed Lowfield Marton.

Wilson double strike inspires improving Borderers to draw

HOCKEY
by John Bridgwater

SPIRITED Oswestry continued their improvement in the West Midlands division two as they made their point with a 3-3 home draw against a strong Ludlow side.

Having lost to the south Shropshire men earlier in the season, the border hosts started off well, dominating the game and created several chances as a result of their sharp passing.

Their early endeavours were soon rewarded as they went ahead when Dale Seymour found the net from top D.

Oswestry maintained the pressure resulting in a second goal in quick succession when Jody Wilson scored his first of the match.

Towards the end of the half, the border side paid the price for a lapse in concentration which allowed Ludlow back into the match with two quickfire goals as the sides went in all square at 2-2 at the interval.

Boosted by their replies before the interval, it was Ludlow who opened the scoring in the second half with Oswestry slow to get out of the blocks.

Levelled

The hosts then picked up their game pressing forward for an equaliser but, despite many chances, they were unable to convert any as the visitors held firm.

However, they finally levelled late on in the game when a pass found Wilson in the centre of the D where he made the most of his position, slipping a shot past the 'keeper for his second of the match.

Overall it was a promising performance against a strong Ludlow side with Oswestry deserving a draw as they created many chances.

And they will look to continue this kind of form when they visit Barlaston on Saturday.

Meanwhile, OSWESTRY II, who have played very little hockey since the turn of the year, will be hoping to return to action when they entertain Colwyn Bay in the North Wales League on Sunday.

Right Royle show for Oswestry

TEAM captain Tracey Royle fired a hat-trick as Oswestry kept their noses in front at the top of the Cheshire Ladies League division four with a 7-2 beating of Wilmslow.

The victory kept the border side ahead of rivals Bollington on goal difference, knowing that victories from their final three games should be enough to clinch the title.

Although not at their best, Oswestry opened up a five-goal lead at half time against a Wilmslow side who posed a threat on the break despite the scoreline.

Royle, Sandra Jones, Sandra Haynes, Sarah Lowe and Jo Phillips were all on target in the first half before Royle struck twice in the second period to wrap up the win.

Club captain Lisa Bladen led by example with some excellent tackling in defence, while keeper Jackie Shaw made some fine saves in goal.

Oswestry look to stay hot on the title trail when they head to Deeside on Saturday, before ending the season with two home games.

Title rivals Bollington kept their hopes alive with a surprisingly comfortable 9-0 beating of Neston.

Double delight – Joe Morris, who triumphed in the under-17 men, and Daisy Tickner, third in under-17 women

Emily Cann, Hannah Pryce and Zara Baker before the start of the under-13 girls race.

Olympians among the honours

OSWESTRY Olympians were out in force at the 2012 Shropshire Cross Country Championship held at the National Sports Centre, Lilleshall.

Joe Morris continued his fine cross season form with a convincing 11 second lead in the U17 Men's race, adding the county title to his Shropshire Young Athletes League series win.

There were also medals for Daisy Tickner who finished third in the U17 Women's race and bronze for Cameron van Onselen in the U13 Boys competition.

Other Oswestry athletes were Ashley Williams in 19th place and Oliver Pugh 33rd in the U13 Boys race and Katie Edge 29th and Charlotte Pugh 32nd for the U13 Girls.

Elsewhere several Oswestry athletes travelled to Rhug Estate in Corwen for the North Wales Cross Country Championships with medals won by all the Olympians competitors.

The event started with the U11 Girls team competing over the hilly course with Lily Roberts fifth, Kate Pugh seventh and Anna Holbrook ninth, to ensure the team took first place overall.

The Under 13 Girls followed with Hannah Pryce finishing seventh, Zara Baker tenth and Emily Cann 11th, earning the team third place in their age group.

Fresh from their success at the County Championships, Joe Morris and Cameron van Onselen competed at the Midlands Cross Country Championships at Nottingham.

Joe ran strongly to finish eighth in the U17 Men's race and Cameron was 30th in his first year at Under 13 level.

Drivers on 'home' ground for rally

WELSHPOOL will be the hub of round two of the British Rally Championship (BRC) later this month, when the Bulldog Security Products-sponsored International Rally of North Wales returns to the historic market town for a second year.

Northern Ireland's Mark Donnelly leads the six-round championship after winning the Bournemouth-based Rallye Sunseeker International in his Renault Clio.

And for his Welsh co-driver, Carmarthen's Dai Roberts "The Bulldog" will be on "home" ground for the event which takes place on Friday and Saturday 23 and 24 March.

Amongst the favourites for victory are two rising stars from Machynlleth, 23-year-old Elfyn Evans - who won the rally last year in a Subaru - and 19-year-old Osain Pryce.

Evans returns to Ford, the car giant who helped his father Gwyndaf to win the British Rally Championship in 1996, while Price leaves the marque which gave him the Ford Fiesta Sport Trophy title in 2011, to drive a Citroen DS3.

Evans and his Aberystwyth co-driver Andrew Edwards finished third overall in Bournemouth and won their class. Price, partnered by Iestyn Williams from Abersoch, was fourth and third in his class.

Another Welsh driver moving to the French carmaker is 20-year-old Tom Cave, from Aberdovey. In 2008 Cave became the youngest-ever driver to contest Britain's round of the World Rally Championship - Wales Rally GB.

He rented a Fiesta for the opening round in Bournemouth and, with his Oswestry co-driver Craig Parry, 32, finished seventh overall.

The arrival of his Citroen DS3 in now imminent and will make its BRC competition debut on the Bulldog Rally.

Drivers from Finland, Norway, USA, England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales are expected for the two-day, 342-mile rally.

Forests

The event features 96 competitive miles and 11 special stages - all timed to the tenth-of-a-second - run over unsurfaced Forestry Commission roads in the Dyfnant and the Dyfi forests.

The Ceremonial Start – which includes free entertainment and Autograph signing - begins at 5pm in Welshpool Town centre on Friday March 23, followed by two runs in Dyfnant Forest (near Llangadfan) before the crews return to Welshpool Livestock Sales site – Rally HQ - at Buttington Cross for service at 9pm.

Restarting at 8.30am on Saturday from the Livestock Sales site, crews face three special stages in the Dyfi forest complex (north east of Machynlleth) before returning to the site at around 12.15pm for fuel, service and a new set of tyres. All BRC registered contenders use a control tyre from the Pirelli competition tyre range.

The three morning stages are repeated in the afternoon before Service at 4pm in the Farmers Mart in Dolgellau.

The final loop of three stages, including a return to Dyfnant as the 11th and final special stage, concludes the competitive element before the surviving teams head for the ceremonial finish in Welshpool town centre at 6.45pm.

Spectators are welcomed at locations selected for their best viewing opportunities. There is a nominal car parking charge.

Spectator information will be available nearer the event on the Bulldog Rally website; www.bulldog-rally.co.uk.

Spectator locations will also be included in the official programme, on sale at Rally HQ in Welshpool.

Highlights of the rally will be broadcast on Sky Sports 2, normally on the Monday immediately following the event, and on YouTube.

The 'Bulldog' Rally also incorporates an event for historic rally cars, round two of the Kololi Beach Club MSA British Historic Rally Championship; http://www.hrcr.co.uk , and two other rallies which qualify for the Pirelli Welsh National Rally Championship and the BRC Challenge.

COBRA stung as title hopes come to conclusion

COBRA saw their slim hopes of lifting the Welsh League division two North title were end after slipping to a last gasp 18-16 loss at home to Colwyn Bay.

A last minute drop goal sentenced the Meifod men to defeat leaves them adrift of title favourites Dolgellau with just one game remaining – but a promotion play-off against Mold is still very much within their grasp.

In reality, COBRA had little chance of taking the crown even had they won last Saturday but were, nevertheless, disappointed as they suffered their second home league defeat.

Having swamped Wrexham 107-0 the previous week, the visit of Bay was always going to prove a far sterner test and so it proved, as they avenged two defeats earlier in the season. One of those reverses came in the Swalec Bowl, the other in the league when it was COBRA's turn to snatch a last-gasp winner.

The Llanfair Caereinion men had led for much of the game last Saturday, wing Matthew Griffiths notching their one try while providing a penalty ,while scrum half Alwyn Williams also kicked two penalties and a conversion before going off injured at half time.

But, for the most part, they were not at their best, with a back injury suffered by the influential Williams not helping their cause.

They were left to reflect on not taking full advantage after their visitors were reduced to 13 men in the first-half, following a series of deliberate infringements.

Bay took the lead with an unconverted try, before Alwyn Williams kicked two penalties to give the home side the advantage.

Griffiths then went over for a try converted by Williams before Bay reduced the arrears to 13-12 at half-time with a second touchdown, this time being converted.

Griffiths extended the COBRA lead to 16-12 after the interval with a penalty, but a penalty and a last-ditch drop goal sentenced the hosts to a disappointing defeat.

However, the Meifod men still look well placed for the promotion play-offs as chief rivals Rhyl face a four point deduction for failing to raise a side at Newtown.

COBRA have one more league game remaining, at champions elect Dolgellau at the end of the month, while their next action is at Bala in the semi-final of the North Wales Cup on Thursday, March 15, as they chase silverware.

The club's second team are on duty this Saturday when they visit Welshpool II in the semi-final of the Mid Wales Shield at noon.

Oswestry back on track at the top after impressive away win

OSWESTRY got back on track with a 27-19 win at Marple to move two points clear at the top of the South Lancs and Cheshire Two.

After losing their top of the table showdown at Crewe and Nantwich the previous week, the Eagles knew they faced a stern test against a Marple side who had not lost at home since the middle of September.

But they dug deep and, after turning in a strong performance late on, they returned with a crucial bonus point win to keep their noses in front as the race for the title and promotion hots up.

Oswestry's pack started with purpose with the big runners of Mike Keavney, Andrew Smith, Nathan Parker and Ollie Wilford making good yards into the Marple 22.

Andy Howell pulled the strings and, after mixing up play, he ran a good move with Sam Wright who crashed through the home defence to bag the first try with Howell converting.

The next 15 minutes showed why Marple are a force at home and they took every opportunity to release there speedy backs to score two tries, one of which was converted, for a 12-7 lead.

After given a jolt, Oswestry knew they were in for a tough game and needed to raise their game if they were to come away with all of the points.

Straight from the re-start, the forwards knocked Marple back and the back row of Graham Fox, Thomas Thrope and man of the match Dan Samuels was on hand to turn over the home ball.

Then some good runs by Guy Howell and Sam Martin moved the ball into the Marple 22 and good hands from Parker and Dan Samuels fed Ivor Hughes. who showed power and speed to score wide out.

Opportunity

Andy Howell then coolly landed the conversion for a 14-12 lead, despite some unsporting behaviour on the touchline from the Marple substitutes and spectators.

Oswestry backs then tightened their defence, denying Marple a chance to gain the ground they had made impressively earlier in the encounter.

Five minutes before half time, Howell took his chance to kick a penalty from 40 metres to extend the advantage to five points.

The second-half started as the first had, with the Eagles making good ground through their forward line and backs alike, they were helped by some good kicking out of hand.

Their efforts were rewarded with Howell kicking another penalty 30 yards out for a 20-12 cushion.

Both sides now raised their game with Marple making good ground into the visitors half, only to be met by some strong defending that saw them move back upfield.

With eight minutes to go, Marple made a break out from defence and got up to within a few metres of the Oswestry line.

Some excellent play from their forwards saw them go over the line under the posts, for a converted try that reduced the Eagles' lead to just one point.

Marple thought they could now win but the Oswestry side had other ideas and controlled the last minutes of the game as they drove forward.

They ran numerous phases, retaining the ball in determined fashion with Jim Dilks controlling his forwards well.

For two minutes Oswestry were encamped on the Marple line.

Dilks even crossed the line only for the referee to judge he had been held up.

But, from the resulting scrum and good control, Wilford crashed over for a try under the posts.

Howell added the conversion to make it 27-19 at the final whistle.

Oswestry now travel to the Isle of Man to face Ramsey on Saturday.

Jones kick seals win for Welshpool

A GUTSY second half display saw Welshpool maintain their revival in rugby's Welsh League division three (north) with a 16-10 home success over Menai Bridge.

Having lost at their North Wales rivals earlier in the season, Pool proved a different proposition in the return on home soil as they opened up a 10-0 interval lead.

But they needed to show their resolve in the second period with some steely defence earning them victory despite a brave fightback from the visitors.

With the wind at their backs in the first half, Pool went ahead with a touchdown from flanker Wayne Maguire, converted by fly half Daley Jones who then extended the lead with a penalty with the last kick of the first period.

Jones then added a penalty after the interval to give the Maesydre men some breathing space but Menai Bridge were in no mood to surrender with the elements now in their favour.

Tense

They pulled back a penalty and then went over for a converted try to set up a tense finish, before Pool had the last word with another penalty from Jones against the wind, this time with the final kick of the game.

It was hard going in the second half but Welshpool showed plenty of spirit to repel the visitors' raid, particularly as they were down to 14 men on two occasions after having players yellow carded.

But, following their recent revival, there is now a real belief and confidence in the side that has not lost since January 7 when shipping over 50 points at Rhos.

Pool have four games left in which to sign off the season in real style, two at home to Harlech and Flint and two away at Benllech and high-riding Shotton Steel.

While the first team have no game this weekend, Welshpool II are at home to their COBRA counterparts in the Mid Wales Cup semi-finals on Saturday (12noon).

Welshpool youth player Ryan Goodwin looks to make ground with the ball during the defeat to Pwllheli with team-mates Rhys Evans and Jacob Weaver-Jones in support.

Plucky Pool put up a fighting show

WELSHPOOL'S youngsters put up a spirited display before bowing out of the North Wales Youth Plate with a 29-15 exit to higher ranked Pwllheli.

Pool, who play in division two of the North Wales Youth League, could take plenty of heart from their performance in which they ran in three unconverted tries against their first division rivals.

Welshpool ladies, meanwhile, were beaten 70-5 by south Wales side Sea View in the Welsh Women's League.

Eagles dare to inflict a first league defeat

OSWESTRY II became the first side to defeat high-flying Wilmslow III in the University of Salford NWL Division Four South after pulling off a super 23-18 win at Park Hall.

The third placed Eagles had already defeated their high-riding visitors impressively in the Raging Bull Shield back in January, and made it a notable double as they withstood a late fightback to keep their own promotion dreams alive.

Oswestry started well and were soon rewarded when Louis Mckenzie duly despatched a penalty, while both sides were again penalised for further infringements in the loose and swapped penalties.

The Eagles were beginning to flow and good yardage was gained by surging runs by Sam Schafer and Warren Howell, and quick ball released fly half Dan Williams who darted over for the first try, which Mckenzie converted.

The visitors were stung into action and used their powerful forwards to drive upfield, Oswestry soaked up the pressure well but eventually a Wilmslow forward crashed over to score an unconverted try before a late Mckenzie penalty made it 16-8 at the break.

Oswestry were looking to consolidate their lead in the second period but came under a fierce bombardment as the Wilmslow backline launched attack after attack.

However, the home defence was immense with Schafer, Dave Richardson and Rich Owen putting in some big tackles.

Wilmslow could not break through and were starting to feel the results of some hard tackling as three players had to leave the field with injuries.

The Eagles launched a counter attack with the ageless legs of Rich Lumby and Owen making space and centre Dave Wood stepped up to first show off his trick passing skill and then pop up again to score under the posts, Mckenzie converting for a 23-8 lead.

With the game seemingly won Oswestry relaxed, but the visitors showed their worth as they battered the home line which saw them reduce the arrears to 23-18 with a converted try and penalty.

The last five minutes seemed to last for hours as Wilmslow threw everything they had at Oswestry, only to be denied by the Eagles solid defence.

This was one of the second team's best displays of the season, and both teams contributed to a great game of rugby.

Buoyed by the win, Oswestry look for revenge on Saturday as they entertain Knutsford which, by contrast, was their worst result of the season.

Battle of the Bulls switches to B side

THE OSWESTRY Darts League's top division saw the Bullring B upset the pub's A team 6-3.

The B team came out on top with victories in the singles games for John Roberts, Barry Woosnam, Brian Beckett, Gary Matthews and Carl Woosnam, with only Stuart Kendrick winning his game for the A team.

But the A team won two of the doubles games with wins for partners Bryn Morris and Stu Kendrick, Rich Ingram and Nick George, partners Ron Youens and Brian Beckett winning thier games for the B team. Bryn Morris from the A team hit a 180 in his game.

Greyhound A 5
Ellesmere 4

It was a close game at the end of the singles with wins for the Greyhound from Barry Lee and Gary Faulkes.

Victories scored for the Ellesmere came from Chris Fullerton, Darren Matthews and Kevin Stant, with Fullerton hitting a maximum in his game.

The doubles saw the Greyhound take the first two games with wins for partners Graham Shearer and Gary Faulkes and Barry Lee and Gary Williams.

Ellesmere then took the last with a win for M Griffiths and R Thomas.

Penybont 5 Bell 4

Another very close game saw the league leaders beat for the first time this season.

The Bell took the first game of the night with a win for Neil Astley, who scored a 180 in his game.

The Penybont took the next four singles with wins for Barry Thomas, Ray Guthrie, Charles Roberts and Richard Tomlinson.

Charles Roberts hit a maximum in his game, before a win for Paul Gibson saw the Bell win the last singles game of the night.

In the doubles, the Bell fought back and won the first two games with wins for partners Gary Jones and Alan O'Grady, Craig Davies and Darren Rowe.

But Penybont responded when Steve Jones and Rich Tomlinson won their game and the match.

Barley Mow 7 Keys 2

The Barley Mow took wins in the singles for Craig Walker, Mark Evans, Dave Jones and Ian Walker, before Keys replied through Kevin Sudlow and Ron Jones.

All three doubles went to the Barley Mow through partners Mark Evans and Craig Walker, Dave Jones and Steve Jones, Ian Walker and Simon Walker.

Excellent darts were thrown during the game with the Keys' Mike Smouth hitting the maximum twice and the Barley Mow's Dave Jones checking out 103.

Unicorn 6 Overton 3

Wins for Howard Wood, Ian Oldfield, John Wood and John Lumb saw the Unicorn take four of the singles with Overton duo D Edwards and Pete Grindley replying.

The Unicorn took the first doubles game though partners John Wood and Ian Oldfield, before M Grindley and C Probert won their game for Overton.

J Lumb and P Williams Unicorn then took the last game of the night.

In the B LEAGUE, the Royal Oak A were 6-3 winners over Butchers ,while the Royal Oak B were victorious by the same scoreline in their match away at the Top White Lion A.

Boss backs Guils to battle on Survival hopes flickering

BOSS Russell Cadwallader admits his side need to battle through their poor run of form after suffering a 3-0 home loss to lowly Llangefni Town.

Defeat, their third in a week without scoring a goal, kept the Guils in the lower reaches of the Huws Gray Cymru Alliance table.

Although they look to be well clear of the bottom three, Cadwallader admitted it was another frustrating afternoon with his side lacking bite up front.

But he is backing his players to turn the corner sooner rather than later as they head for a tough clash at leaders and title favourites GAP Connah's Quay on Saturday.

"We had a spell before Christmas when everything went right and now we're going through a spell when everything is going wrong," he said.

"It's not for lack of effort, everyone's trying hard, and we've just got to keep working and I am confident things will change.

"It is relegation form at the moment but, fortunately, I think we're too high up the table to get dragged into trouble."

Drought

The absence of forwards Danny Barton and Darragh O'Callaghan through injury did not help the cause as Guilsfield struggled to find a way through to goal as their recent drought continued against relegation-haunted Llangefni.

"I felt we played all the football, but lacked any real cutting edge," added Cadwallader.

"We would get so far but our attacks would fizzle out, which is frustrating. "We've just got to keep going, show some character and battle through this."

Chris Roberts had a chance when his shot from six yards out struck the keeper in the face while Ian Probert, Nathan Leonard and Mark Davies also had their moments.

Llangefni, however, took their chances with a couple of scrambled efforts from set plays as they kept alive their hopes of survival with a priceless win.

Tryffan Prosser's brace on 12 and 65 minutes left the Guils with a mountain to climb, and a Mike Parry own goal on 75 minutes sealed their fate.

Life does not promise to get any easier for Guilsfield on Saturday as they face a tricky trip to leaders GAP Connah's Quay who will be looking for revenge after losing 3-1 earlier in the season.

LLANRHAEADR have six games left in which to pull off a relegation escape act in the first season in the Huws Gray Cymru Alliance.

The villagers kept their fading hopes alive with a spirited 1-1 draw at fellow strugglers Penycae, but they still remain five points adrift of the safety zone.

There is a crucial home clash looming on Saturday when Mario Iaquinta's side host mid-table Llandudno knowing it is realistically a must-win if they hope to keep their survival hopes flickering.

As it stands after last Saturday's point, they lie five points adrift of Ruthin and six shy of Penycae as the relegation dogfight hots up.

Tom Dodd had given Penycae a 57th minute lead, but Paul Conroy's own goal helped clinch a vital point for the Mid Wales visitors.

Llanrhaeadr were quickly into their stride last Saturday with the better of the first half, and would reflect they should have been ahead at the interval after carving the better chances.

Striker Alun Jones brought a superb save from the home keeper, while Ben White and Jamie Evans also had their opportunities.

However, the game was tainted before the interval when a Penycae player suffered a broken leg in a 50-50 challenge, and there was a lengthy delay for medical treatment to arrive.

The second period was more low key after that, but the home side went ahead through Dodd only for the visitors to pull level 10 minutes later when Conroy headed into his own net under pressure following Jones' long throw into the home box.

Winning run helps Rhyn to close in

Morda boss has grounds for concern on playing surfaces

WESTON Rhyn hauled themselves right into the title reckoning in the County League division one with a gritty 2-0 win at close rivals Hanwood reserves.

Victory lifted Rhyn above their hosts into second spot and just one point behind leaders Allscott who surprisingly suffered their first loss of the season at home to Brown Clee.

Although Allscott have a couple of games in hand, it's all to play for in the coming weeks as Paul Lunt's men take a break from league duty to visit Bridgnorth Town reserves in their delayed Shropshire Junior Cup second round clash on Saturday.

They can make the trip in good heart after last week's 2-0 verdict at Hanwood, in which they were forced to dig deep for long spells.

It was a good all round, workmanlike performance from the visitors who were the better side, although they had to work hard for the win.

Richard Hardy fired an early effort wide, while Lee Phelan also shot across the face of goal.

But Rhyn got in front in the 33rd minute when Steve Bathers, at the far post, headed home a Mark Lunt corner from the right.

Hanwood battled to get back on terms, Matty Boswell forcing a good save from keeper Anthony Davies while the same player also headed wide.

They almost found a way through straight after the restart when Daniel Jones and Anthony Edwards both put efforts over, while the hosts also had strong penalty claims turned down.

However, the visiting defence held firm, and they gave themselves some breathing space on 68 minutes when Jordan Gerrard sent in a superb cross and Mark Lunt headed in from six yards.

Rhyn had to survive some late pressure but were not to be denied their fourth straight win to boost their title chances.

MORDA United boss Craig Rogers admits he has grounds for concern over the state of the pitches this season in the County League Premier Division.

Having seen his side's hopes of lifting the title dented by last week's goalless deadlock at high-flying Newport Town, the Weston Road chief feels the league need to improve their playing surfaces.

The manager said: "Last week's pitch resembled more like a ploughed field than a football pitch.

"There are a clubs like Ellesmere, Whitchurch Alport and ourselves who look after pitches but, with the amount of poor pitches there are now, the league has got to do something about it or there is going to be a serious injury.

"The pitch suited Newport last week, they are a big physical side who work more on set pieces, but it was a very solid performance from us and a draw was a fair result."

Despite the result, Morda are still 13 points adrift of the leaders with three games in hand and Rogers feel his side have too much to do in their last seven games.

He said: "In terms of the league it was a game we really needed to win, and we now need to win our remaining seven games and hope other results go our way.

"But we are still in three cup competitions and that's what we will be concentrating on from now on, although we still want to finish well in the league."

Both sides could have sneaked an evenly poised affair last week, with Newport hitting the bar and forcing goalkeeper Sam Jones into one terrific save.

Pressure

Gary Meredith and Dean Graham both had efforts from distance while, at the other end, Morda almost won it late on.

Carl Harris sent a super cross from the right into the goalmouth but a final touch was missing, while Scott Graham glanced a header against the bar.

Morda now turn their thoughts to tackling visiting Ellesmere reserves on Saturday as they look to complete a double having won 2-1 at Beech Grove earlier in the season.

Rogers said: "It's going to be a tough game, Ellesmere were very hungry and made it difficult for us in the first game and we are expecting the same this time.

"But we enjoy playing at home, we have scored 10 goals in our last two home games and our defence is the best in the league and, defensively, we are very hard to beat.

"We have only conceded five goals in our last 11 games and not conceded since the end of January, against Hodnet."

Jack Hughes and Mike Lloyd are set to return after missing last week, while Tom Steadman is also back in the reckoning following a long-term injury.

Meanwhile, it's a big day for MORDA RESERVES, who visit Donnington Social in the Shropshire Junior Cup on Saturday.

Reserves have top half finish in their sights

ELLESMERE Rangers reserves warmed up for this weekend's clash at Morda United by becoming the first side to complete the double over Church Stretton.

Goals in each half from Scott Penrose and Darryl Davies helped secure a 2-1 win over Stretton, which followed their 6-0 hammering against the south Shropshire side earlier in the season.

"Considering we were scratching around for a team, it was an excellent win as they came here with a lot of confidence after some good results," said Rangers manager Dan Stevens.

"The lads who came in worked exceptionally hard and to get the double over them is a terrific achievement."

Laying the foundation for the victory was a solid defensive showing, with Ellesmere making the perfect start through a well worked goal from Penrose.

Stretton were back on terms soon after the interval with a fortuitous free kick from Thomas Southern that found its way through the defence, but Davies soon had the home side back in front when beating the offside trap and firing home from outside the box.

Buoyed by the win, Ellesmere now travel to Morda on Saturday, looking to build on that result.

"It is going to be difficult for us, but if we can get something out of the game and win our last four games we can finish in the top six which will be a respectable finish considering the start we've had," added Stevens.

Oswestry Bell's Gary Meredith looks to make ground for his side in their Shropshire Sunday Premier Cup defeat to Instones despite the attention of Dan Williams.

Instones ring a warning to rivals with win over Bell

INSTONES have moved a step closer to defending the Shropshire Sunday Premier Cup.

The Shrewsbury Sunday League outfit defeated North Shropshire rivals Oswestry Bell 2-0 thanks to goals from Sean Butler and Tom Groves to move into the last four.

Wem Sunday are also on the march after seeing off Church Stretton 3-1.

Goals from Dave Walbyoff, Matt Owen and Dave Barnett were enough for Wem while Stretton's goal came from Richard Groom.

Plough Inn Wellington were 4-0 victors over Cressage and the Telford Sunday League will hope to have a second representative in the semi-finals when Randlay Farmhouse travel to Oak Inn in the remaining quarter-final this weekend.

Meanwhile Dudleston Heath have thrown down the gauntlet to Oak in the North Shropshire Sunday League.

Dudleston completed their league programme with a 12-2 thumping of Athletico Market, meaning Oak must win their last two games to claim the title.

Guy Guilford scored five times, Scott Penrose notched a hat-trick while Mark Evans and Darryl Davies each bagged a brace.

Jonathan Mitchell scored the other while Tim Allen fired the two Athletico consolations, including one from the spot.

Cross Foxes progressed to the semi-finals of the Consolation Cup after overcoming Llanymynech 4-1.

Ben Lloyd and Adam Herbert both scored twice.

Rangers stoppage time drama

MANAGER Matt Burton was left with mixed emotions after his Ellesmere Rangers side picked up another precious point on the road with a 1-1 draw at Boldmere St Michaels in the Midland Alliance.

"I would have been very pleased with a point before the game and the lads were different class with their work rate again," he said after Tuesday's action.

"But I just felt with a little bit more belief we could have gone on to win the game."

All the drama came at the end of the opening period with two goals in first half stoppage time.

Ellesmere broke the deadlock when Andy Ford was on hand to slot home after the Boldmere goalkeeper had spilled a cross from Matt Fletcher.

But the hosts were level in the third minute of stoppage time.

"I wasn't sure how the ref could play 48 minutes when there wasn't a physio on the pitch in the first half but we should have defended the corner better," added Burton.

Last Saturday, Rob Dean helped Ellesmere to one of their most notable victories of the campaign with a spectacular first goal of the season in his side's 1-0 win at Tipton.

Dean unleashed a 30-yard thunderbolt 10 minutes after half-time.

Future looks Bright for Lions

TOP scorer Scott Bright took his tally to 19 goals for the season in the County League division one as Oswestry Lions overcame Hopesgate 4-0 with a minimum of fuss at Park Hall.

Bright scored twice in a routine win, lifting the Lions into fourth spot while they have yet to taste defeat since the turn of the year.

"We created a lot of chances, controlled the game and could have won by a few more," said boss Nick Maguire whose side bid to maintain their unbeaten run with another home game against Rock Rovers on Saturday.

The Lions netted a goal in each half, Bright slotting the first and Graham Dyke heading home a second from a Graeme Kirkham cross.

The hosts continued to rule the roost after the interval with Kirkham adding a third before Bright completed the scoring in style with a cracking 25-yarder that flew into the top left hand corner of the net.

Three points separate top four as title chase tightens up

WHILE their first team are finding the going tough at the moment, Guilsfield reserves cranked up the title pressure in the JT Hughes Montgomeryshire League division one with a 4-1 success at Waterloo reserves.

Luke Francis led the way with a brace of goals, with Sam Griffiths and Luke Weaver also finding the net to keep their side three points off the pace.

Llangedwyn's challenge suffered a setback when they were edged out 1-0 at home to title rivals Caersws reserves who took the spoils through Drew Reynolds to go top on goal difference.

Llanrhaeadr reserves stayed within a point courtesy of a 5-1 hammering of table propping Berriew reserves, with Sam Sefton netting twice.

Llansantffraid reserves drew 3-3 at Carno reserves with Aled Jones, Jack Jones, and Rob Carruthers their marksmen while Josh Atherton was on target for Churchstoke in their 1-1 home draw with Llanfechain, Mike Jones responding.

Four Crosses reserves boosted their promotion prospects in the Mitsubishi division two with a 2-1 home win over close rivals Morda United reserves, Dan Jay and Lee Jones on target.

Unavailability of several key players forced Morda manager Matty Owen to make several changes to the side which hit 11 goals the previous week.

Both sides had their chances and Ollie Jackson managed to level for the home side, but it proved to no avail.

Trefonen stayed one point clear at the top with a 2-1 win at Newtown reserves, Lee Morris and Harry Dunn on the mark.

Llandrinio, meanwhile, gave themselves some timely cheer with a 7-1 hammering of Waterloo Colts in the Derek Mills Cup with hat-tricks from Andrew Gwilt and Chris Barker, Matt Knight completing the tally.

Llanfair reserves went down 5-1 to Llanidloes reserves in the semi-final of the Town Cup, Ashley Owen scoring two of the goals for the Daffs.

Saints close in on pacesetters after Draper seals fightback

FOOTBALL

The New Saints 3 Bala Town 2

AFTER a frustrating first half, The New Saints twice came from behind to clinch an invaluable win that saw them step up the Welsh Premier title pressure.

Greg Draper's diving header six minutes from time completed the fine fightback as the Saints moved to within one point of leaders Bangor City who were beaten 3-1 at home to Neath last weekend.

They would have been relieved to have gained the spoils after finding themselves well shackled for the first hour, with the club's director of football Craig Harrison admitting it had been the proverbial game of two halves.

"We're not trying to kid anyone, we didn't play particularly well in the first half," he said.

"We didn't get on the ball and pass it very well. To be fair to Bala they did okay in the first-half and probably deserved to be in front.

"But we came in, got organised, changed a few things and the lads responded fantastically.

Chat

"We had a chat and tried to get a few things right that were going wrong in the first half and it obviously worked.

"Every three points is important. Between now and the end of the season, we have to do everything we can to try and catch Bangor."

The Saints were made to battle all the way by a resurgent Bala side who posed early questions with Ian Sheridan forcing a save from keeper Paul Harrison while Mark Connolly and Mark Jones both fired over.

At the other end, a strike from Aeron Edwards was well parried by visiting keeper Terry McCormick and Draper spurned a golden opening when volleying over from Ryan Fraughan's right wing cross.

Bala took the lead four minutes before the break when Chris Marriot was ruled to have tugged back Stuart Jones in the box, and Lee Hunt fired home the resulting penalty.

Semi-final dates fixed

AS they chase their ticket for two cup finals, The New Saints' forthcoming semi-final appearances have been confirmed.

In the regionalised draw for the Welsh Premier League Cup, TNS will host Newtown at Park Hall on Tuesday, March 20 (7.45pm) with the second leg at Latham Park on Tuesday, April 3 (7.30pm).

The Welsh Cup semi-final tie against Bala will be staged at Aberystwyth's Park Avenue on Saturday, March 31 with a 3pm kick-off and shown live on S4C.

The Saints were back on terms on 57 minutes when Nicky Ward curled in a 25-yard free kick via the right post, his last action before being substituted.

But the Lakesiders restored the advantage two minutes later when Hunt steered home his second.

The Oswestry men were level again on 67 minutes as Tom Roberts crossed low from the left, Draper stepped over the ball and substitute Christian Seargant tucked away a low shot from 10 yards.

TNS snatched the winner when Simon Spender whipped in an inviting cross and Draper timed his run perfectly to plant a powerful diving header past keeper McCormick for his 17th goal of the season.

Craig Jones of The New Saints takes the ball past Bala's Conall Murtagh during his side's win on Friday night.

Leading scorer Greg Draper heads The New Saints' winning goal against Bala Town to seal a 3-2 victory.

Llanymynech 6

LLANYMYNECH produced a storming second half performance in the cold and rain at Shawbury on Sunday.

The first half saw both teams play well as Josh Wynne and Jac Herbert both scored, followed closely by two goals from Shawbury.

After half time and a motivational team talk the lads pulled out an away win. The second half goals came from Wynne (2), Herbert and birthday boy Ryan Edwards.

Man of the match was George Breeze for flying around the goal like a boy on a mission.

UNDER 9
Llanymynech 2 Hodnet 1

Llanymynech entertained Hodnet in their first outdoor game following the winter futsal season and quickly found their feet on the grass with some fine passing and free flowing football.

After a period of sustained pressure Kyle Kynaston broke through the Hodnet defence to give the home team a 1-0 lead.

Hodnet quickly responded however, following a lapse in concentration to level the score at half time.

Hodnet grew in confidence from the equaliser and piled on the pressure at the start of the second half but failed to break through the Llanymynech defence thanks to a fine goalkeeping display from Adam Oliver and resolute defending from Daniel Edwards and man of the match Joseph Wilkinson.

Llanymynech got more of a foothold hold in the game which flowed from end to end and got a late winner from a Will Morris strike to edge the highly entertaining match.

UNDER 10
Llanymynech 3 Baschurch 7

Llanymynech's scorers as they lost to visitors Baschurch were Tomos Horn, Floyd Owen and man of the match Oliver Roberts.

UNDER 11
Bayston Hill 7 Llanymynech 1

Llanymynech had several players playing out of position due to injuries as they slumped to defeat at Bayston Hill.

They found themselves two goals down in the first two minutes but pulled one back through James Chapman and the game was becoming a bit more evenly balanced.

Bayston then scored just before half time to lead 3-1 going into the interval.

Llanymynech started the second half in a similar fashion as the first, conceding a goal straight from the kick off.

Bayston then went on to add a further three, although the final score gave a misleading impression of the game.

Man of the Match was Adam Biggs.

UNDER 12
Llanymynech Dragons 3
Saha Mustangs 0

Llanymynech entertained Saha who dominated the attacking in the first half and were unlucky not to score.

With Daniel Farrar standing firm in the centre of defence and the rest of the team playing their hearts out Llanymynech got to half time without conceding.

The second half saw Harri Matthews put in a fantastic captain's performance which started with a run from his own 18-yard area and pass most of the opposition team only to be fouled just outside the box.

The resulting free kick saw David Ogden open the scoring. The second came after a scramble where Ieuan Benbow was able to find the back of the net.

The game was then won after a typically cool finish from Bradley Emberton.

Saha Chargers 1
Llanymynech Lions 5

Llanymynech started this game well and if not for a good save by the Saha keeper they would have scored within the first minute.

The away team continued to press and found the Saha keeper in exceptional form and as they game went on the home side's confidence grew and they were becoming a threat on the break.

With two minutes left of the first half it looked like one of these breaks was going to lead to the first goal when the Saha winger was put clean through but his shot produced an excellent diving save from Ewan James to keep the score level.

Llanymynech then took the initiative on the stroke of half time when Rhys Pain played an excellent chip pass through to Harry Garthwaite who calmly slotted home around the advancing keeper.

The second half saw Llanymynech play up the slope but this did not stop them keeping the momentum and playing more good football.

Within five minutes the game turned when Ryan Jones finished from eight yards after some more good work by Harry Garthwaite had forced another great save from the Saha keeper, but whilst making the save the keeper pulled his groin and had to be substituted.

Llanymynech's pressure now was paying dividends and soon they were 4-0 up after goals from captain Jack Foulkes and Jones.

The game was now won but Saha grabbed a consolation goal when the ball was bundled in from a corner but it was Llanymynech who completed the scoring when Garthwaite once again broke through and slotted his second and the team's fifth.

This was an excellent team performance with notable performances from many of the players; however Xavier Clarke was awarded man of the match with a superb performance in midfield.

Oswestry Boys Club 1
Llanymynech 1

Llanymynech made the short journey to play against local rivals Oswestry Boys Club.

The game proved to be a great advert for local football and the game was played in a good spirit with some excellent football on show.

In a very close game the first half ended goalless but in the second half Llanymynech broke the deadlock when Joe Kelly cut in from the left to set Declan Marsden up to score. Llanymynech then missed chances to score a second and also missed a penalty with Oswestry keeper Sam Fidget in fine form.

The game seemed to be running away from the home side but with five minutes to go winger Will Bowers popped up to convert a stunning shot over the keeper to level the score.

That's four wins and two draws for Oswestry from their last six games, promotion winning form.

Llanymynech's man of the Match was Alex Hall while Oswestry's was David France.

UNDER 14
Llanymynech 0 Oswestry Boys Club 2

Llanymynech's local derby with Oswestry was a hard fought encounter with both sides competing well.

In a close first half Oswestry's pressure produce a single goal and gave them the advantage at the break.

With a couple of injuries to Llanymynech's defence changes were made and Oswestry enjoyed a good spell of pressure resulting in their second goal, however Llanymynech rallied and played some neat football through midfield, creating some good chances late on.

It was Oswestry however who ran outwinners but the home team played well together and produced a really good team performance. Man of the Match was Josh Pugh.

UNDER 16
Llanymynech 3 Oswestry Boys Club 3

Llanymynech under 16s entertained Oswestry Boys Club in what was a thriller at Station Road. Llanymynech took the lead through captain Iwan Mathews and the lead was then doubled when Sean Griffiths drilled in a 30-yard screamer and Llanymynech looked in control.

Llanymynech had much of the attacking play but Oswestry's defence stood firm and Llanymynech paid a high price following the second goal when they failed to keep their shape in midfield allowing Oswestry to hit back with two goals from the Boys club's Alex Clark and one from Harry Hall.

The home side never gave up and stand-in keeper Sam Sefton did a fine job. In the last minute Llanymynech gained a free kick just inside the opposition half and Sean Griffiths delivered a superb long range free kick into the six-yard box which was headed home by man of the match Tom Ellis.

The Tigers played some good flowing football and also defended sternly when needed, and when called into action the Tigers keeper pulled off some brilliant saves even with his head.

Monty go marching on

IT'S as you were at the top of the Spar Mid Wales League division one with the three leading lights all winning.

High-flying Montgomery kept up the pace with an emphatic 6-0 success at lowly Dolgellau. Neil Pryce and newcomer Marcus Ashley both scored twice, with Luke Tanner and Daniel Lewis the other marksmen.

That win keeps Clive McNamee's men five points clear of second placed Rhayader Town who secured a somewhat closer 2-0 verdict over improving Newbridge.

Welshpool Town, who had no game, now find themselves at the foot of the table after Aberystwyth University leaped above the Lilywhites with a 3-0 win over Llansantffraid Village courtesy of a first half goal from Gareth Thomas followed by second half penalties from Rob Hancock and Stef Davies.

A dismal first half performance saw the Village trailing 1-0 at the break but they improved in the second period and had what looked a perfectly good equaliser ruled out for offside.

More misery was piled on when the referee awarded the students a generous penalty before the visitors conceded a further penalty deep into injury time.

Waterloo Rovers lost ground on the top five after being edged out 4-3 at home to Carno, with Ricky Lichfield, Steve Laws and Will Pritchard their marksman.

A strike in injury time from James Langford earned Berriew a 1-1 draw at Bow Street who looked to have the points in the bag after taking the lead through Ceiran Cotter.

Saints back on the pitch

WITHOUT any action last week, St Martins will looking to maintain the momentum in the West Midlands League division two when they return to duty at home to Riverway on Saturday.

The Saints, looking to consolidate third in the table, have won five of their last six outings with a 7-3 success coming against Tenbury in their last match two weeks ago.

Crosses setback

FOUR Crosses endured a weekend to forget as their title quest in the Spar Mid Wales League division two suffered another wobble with a shock 6-3 defeat at Machynlleth.

Despite taking the lead with the first of two goals from Dave Hartshorn, they were pegged back and the dismissal of Chris Bishop just before half time - when they were 3-2 down - did not help the cause.

Jack Harris also netted from the penalty spot, but Crosses ended up well beaten as they lost ground in third spot.

However, Nick Popyk's men are still only four points adrift of leaders Knighton Town who drew 1-1 in the top of the table clash with Llandrindod Wells. Crosses have four games in hand so are well placed despite recent setbacks.

Llanfair United were held to a goalless deadlock at home to Rhosgoch, while Llanfyllin's mixed fortunes continued with a 4-2 home loss to Bont despite a brace from Rad Miazga.

Kerry lost 3-1 to Presteigne while Meifod had to pull out of their clash at Tregaron as they were unable to raise a side.

SAINTS READY TO FIGHT FOR CROWN

THE New Saints will be out to seize the initiative in the Welsh Premier title chase when they head to high-flying Bangor City in a crunch top-of-the-table showdown on Saturday (5.15pm).

With just one point separating the two sides, it again promises to be a mouth-watering affair that is certain to have a big say in the destiny of the league crown.

Both sides have been in consistent form this term, TNS reaching the semi-final of two cup competitions while they have lost just once in seven league outings to keep up the pressure in second spot in the table.

Defending champions Bangor had been on a roll with six straight league victories, before seeing that winning run halted by last week's 3-1 home loss to Neath who themselves have emerged as realistic title challengers in third spot.

by John Bridgwater

Victory would take the Saints top with five games remaining, but director of football Craig Harrison believes there is still plenty to play for whatever the outcome of Saturday's tussle, particularly as the two big rivals will meet again on the last day of the season.

Capable

"We've got two massive games coming up against Bangor on Saturday and at Neath the following week," he said. "They could go a long way to deciding who wins the title, but whatever happens it's not the be-all-and-end all as it's tight at the top and every team in the top six is capable of taking points off each other.

"Bangor's always a tough game, whether home and away, but we can go there feeling confident as we're on a good run ourselves.

"The players are working really hard. All I ask is the lads give 100 per cent and all of them have done that."

"Between now and the end of the season, every game and every three points is important.

"Although Bangor lost last week, they were on a good run before that and will want to put things right so we're expecting a tough game."

Matches against Bangor are notoriously keenly fought, with TNS making their first appearance at City's new Nantporth ground.

The Saints have already won away this season when the sides met at Farrar Road, but they lost twice on their visits last term, most notably 1-0 in the last game decider last April that saw them pipped to the league crown by Bangor.

Saturday's game is screened live on S4C.

Bennett helps out strugglers

GOALKEEPING coach Dave Bennett will become the seventh player to don the gloves for struggling Welshpool Town in tomorrow night's home clash with Builth Wells.

With Calum Henegan serving a one-match ban, Bennett has agreed to help out, and brings plenty of experience in the game, having played at semi-professional level in the English and Welsh Pyramid systems for nearly 15 years.

Based in Shrewsbury, he is now a qualified goalkeeper coach for the West Bromwich Albion Development Centre, and a key link to the West Brom Academy.

Now finding themselves at the foot of the Spar Mid Wales League division one, Pool will be hoping Bennett provides a steadying influence in goal against Builth tomorrow evening.

"Aber were always going to go above us barring a total collapse, but with four games left we still hope we can catch Dyffryn Banw who are struggling as much as us," said boss Dave Jones.

Top scorer Mike Cockram returns after injury to boost Pool, but winger Chris Kibble is suspended and Craig Pearce is away.

Driving rookie is rally good

A YOUNG rally driver from the border area made his mark by finishing first in his class in only in his third rally when competing in a Cumbrian event.

Nineteen-year-old Benjamyn McKay, from Moelfre, near Oswestry, teamed up with his dad Jason to tackle 45 miles of high speed motoring in the forests around the Lake District in the second round of the ANWCC (Association of North Western Car Clubs) Forest Rally.

And the crew moved to the head of their class after their third outing together in their MG hatchback which they built in their spare time away from the family construction business.

McKay senior said it was pretty nerve-wracking to be a passenger in a rally car, but added: " I shall get used it eventually.

"My son is enjoying every minute and we hope that good preparation will stand us in good stead for the rest of the series of half a dozen events in the next six or seven months."

Dan shows his style

OSWESTRY Otters rising swimming star Dan Jones continues to impress after setting a new personal best in the British Championships in the newly built Olympic aquatic centre in London.

The 15-year-old was rubbing shoulders with some of theworld's top swimmers after qualifying for the championships that also served as Olympic trials.

Undaunted at competing at such a high profile event, the Welshpool-based swimmer certainly showed he is one for the future after clocking a new personal best in the men's 100m freestyle heats with a time of 53.38, which had seen him make the turn in a terrific 26.01.

And his time means that he is now ranked fifth in this country in his age group.

Jones has enjoyed remarkable success in recent years, with his silver medal at the national age group finals in Sheffield earning his ticket for the London event.

Eagles bidding for debut win on island

OSWESTRY'S rugby players bid to put their Manx hoodoo to flight by staying firmly on the title trail in Saturday's South Lancs and Cheshire Four trip to lowly Ramsey.

The Eagles have never won on the Isle of Man, a record they will keen to put straight this weekend as they attempt to consolidate their two-point lead at the top of the table.

Coach Scott Sturdy and his men could face as many as three trips across the water this season, having narrowly lost their one previous visit so far to Douglas a few months back.

And they will be up for the challenge when they fly out from Liverpool Airport on Saturday, sensing the time is right for a welcome Manx victory against a side struggling third from bottom this term.

"We know we still need to break our duck over there, and we hope to do it this weekend," said Sturdy.

"It's a long day for the players, but if we perform like we can, then the result will take care of itself.

"We've got five scheduled games left, and every one is going to be massive for us.

"Ramsey will be tough despite their league position. They were very competitive for an hour when we played them at home, and we're expecting another difficult game on Saturday."

Oswestry make the trek on the back of last welcome weekend's 27-19 win at Marple, who themselves had lost just once previously on home soil – the perfect response from the previous week's loss at promotion rivals Crewe and Nantwich.

Posssession

"It was very close all the way through, but with the possession and territory we had, I felt we could put a few more points on the board," added Sturdy.

"It was important to get a good result, especially as Crewe and Ruskin Park were playing each other.

"The forwards were terrific, particularly the back row who repeatedly got over the gain line."

Although two points clear at the top with a game in hand, Oswestry know there can be no slip-ups with the standout game looming in the next couple of weeks against title rivals Ruskin who now lie third, and four points off the pace.

Rovers out for revenge

WATERLOO Rovers have a score to settle on Saturday as they bid to stay on course for some silverware this season when they entertain Llansantffraid Village in the quarter-final of the Central Wales Cup.

Llansantffraid ran out 2-1 winners on home soil in the Spar Mid Wales League division one earlier in the season, and Rovers will be out to put the record straight.

"The lads are still smarting from the defeat at their place just before Christmas in the league," said boss Dale Roberts.

"It will be another tough game, but we will be looking to progress in a competition we believe we can do well in, and I'll be looking for a similar performance to last week."

Despite a creditable display against Carno in the league last Saturday, Waterloo were edged out 4-3 from a game they felt they should have got something from.

"Saturday's game was a close one, and we gave them a real scare," added Roberts.

"All in all I was delighted with the lads' effort and application and felt we deserved at least a draw against tough opposition."

Waterloo were trailing 3-2 at half time, initially going behind before Will Pritchard levelled from the penalty spot following a dubious handball decision. Steve Laws then put them ahead before Carno struck twice to lead at the break.

The hosts spent the majority of the second period in Carno's half, forcing the keeper into some terrific saves before Ricky Litchfield equalised when the Welshpool side were punished for a defensive lapse.

Barcelona beckons for young talents

A GROUP of talented young footballers will be out to make their mark when they head to Barcelona on tour next week.

The youngsters from Mid Wales and Shropshire, who play at under-15 and under-16 level, fly out next Thursday to spend five days in the Spanish city as part of their player development.

They will train with Espanyol and play two matches against local opposition, including one against a La Liga Academy team from Nastic.

They will have a tour the famous Nou Camp Stadium, home of Barcelona Football Club, and will go to watch Espanyol face Racing Santander in a La Liga fixture.

The group will combine the football aspect of the tour with taking in the city sights of Barcelona as they look to further their education and knowledge of the Catalan culture.

Organiser and coach Mike Digwood said: "The players involved are all talented local players and will benefit greatly from the experience they will gain on the tour, both in terms of their future development as footballers and life in general.

"We would like to thank the sponsors for their generous contributions to the tour and to all the parents and players involved for their fundraising efforts."

The tour has been sponsored by AB Waste Management, Darlaston, Morris Transport, Oswestry, and Morgan Griffiths LLP, Accountants, Newtown.

Digwood also thanked Llansantffraid Village FC for use of their facilities for pre-tour matches and training, FC Teamwear, Macron Store, Wrexham, for supplying kit and equipment and Complete Sports Solutions, Chester for the tour.

Raven beaten

RAVEN Inn's dismal season in the Newtown Sunday League shows no sign of abating.

The basement boys were thumped 12-0 at home to Cambrian in the only game played this weekend.

WINE AND DINE

County chef is a class act on his home turf

REWIND 12 months. On the increasingly-frenetic Shrewsbury dining scene, things were getting hot in the kitchen. The town had welcomed two chefs of Michelin calibre.

Ian Matfin, star of BBC TV's Great British Menu, had taken over at The Hayward, the high-end dining establishment at The Lion Hotel, on Wyle Cop.

Less than 100 metres away, another highly rated cook was working the stove at the newly-revamped Lion + Pheasant.

Alan Dann, a chef with an impeccable pedigree, had cut his teeth at the Roux brothers' Michelin-starred venue in Bray on Thames before working in restaurants across the UK and France, including the renowned Gloucestershire Lower Slaughter Manor House.

Fast forward to the present day and everything has changed. Matfin and Dann have both moved onto pastures new, with their places being taken by newbies.

The transition has been straightforward at The Hayward, where Matfin's former second-in-command, Paul Maders, has stepped up to lead the kitchen. At the Lion + Pheasant, chef Matthew Strefford has brought a new style of dining.

Strefford is an interesting cook with an impressive CV. He was born in Shropshire but learned his trade in world class restaurants around the world.

His most notable stint was with chef Neil Perry – Australia's 'King of Modern Dining' – at the Rockpool Bar and Grill on Sydney's prime waterfront. He also worked at the five-star luxury castle hotel Adare Manor in County Limerick, which also has an enviable reputation.

Lion + Pheasant, Shrewsbury

A new style of dining has been brought to Lion + Pheasant

Lion + Pheasant: 50 Wyle Cop, Shrewsbury, SY1 1XJ

Chef Matthew Strefford hones his skills

A dish of brill served with beef pasta

Strefford would have happily stayed in Ireland for longer, were it not for the opportunity to return to his home county. "I loved it in Ireland but if there was one place that would bring me back to the UK I knew it would be Shropshire," he explained.

My friend and I visited for a midweek service. Weekends are traditionally busy in the delightfully chic venue and we were hoping to relax in quiet surrounds. The Lion + Pheasant is a delightful venue. It's a stylish boutique hotel and restaurant that deserves the numerous guide book ratings that it has received. Its luxury dining room on the first floor is complimented by a bustling bistro-style space on the ground floor. Diners looking for gastronomic flourishes can enjoy a la carte offerings during the evening or enjoy simpler, rustic fare during lunch service.

Strefford's skill is in packing flavour into the simplest of dishes – a plate that features mushrooms on toast with a perfectly poached soft-boiled egg being a case in point. Strefford boils the egg at a precise temperature so that the yolk and white are a perfect consistency .

It makes for delicious, flavoursome eating. Poached eggs were on the menu when my friend and I ordered, though first we opted for light starters. I selected an exceptional, rustic platter of duck confit with a delicious fruity relish while my friend opted for a savoury cheese tart.

An unctuous and savoury blue cheese filling was housed in a buttery and crisp pastry case and she purred her approval. "I love blue cheese," she said, before pointing to her plate. . . "and this is delicious."

I wanted to test out Strefford's skill by selecting a vegetarian main course. I have a theory – dissenting letters to the usual address, please – that only good chefs cook vegetarian food well.

So I opted for a sweet potato dish with a light, fluffy gnocchi in a creamy vegetable sauce. It was delicious.

My friend, meanwhile, enjoyed an open haddock lasagne as her main, with handmade pasta and a poached egg. The flakes of haddock were translucent, the pasta was perfectly cooked and the egg was supreme. Strefford had excelled.

"We'll skip dessert," said my super-slim friend. And then the menu arrived. "Okay, I'll go for the clotted cream rice pudding with strawberry jam."

She polished her bowl clean and I indulged in a gingery and tart rhubarb crumble with a crème Anglaise.

The Lion + Pheasant has raised its game. Although Strefford still has room for improvement, he's a real class act. Let's hope he's there for the long haul.

MOTHER'S DAY

Pampering treats sure to be a hit on the big day...

Why not surprise your mum with a beauty treat on Mother's Day? LISA HAYNES suggests some presents that carry a special message CHOCOLATES create love handles, flowers die and vouchers are just too impersonal. If you're looking for a gift that won't disappoint on Mother's Day, then go for a beauty offering.

Now worth a glamorous £15 billion to the economy, the booming UK beauty industry has never been in better shape, according to a new study, so a pampering treat is sure to be a hit.

SAY... THANK YOU

She works tirelessly, acts selflessly and rarely seeks praise for it. Give her a pat on the back with a pressie that shows your appreciation.

The Scottish Fine Soaps Company spells out the obvious with their Thank You soap in a tin, presented in a bright embossed metal gift box, priced at £4.95 (www.scottishfinesoaps.com)

One in a million mum? Strike gold with Paco Rabanne's Lady Million eau de parfum, from £27.99, or snap up the gift set featuring gold cuff bangle, costing £45.99 (www.thefragranceshop.co.uk)

If your mum looks a tad exhausted, seek a pep-me-up potion that grafts just as hard as she does, like Philosophy's Miracle Worker Moisturiser, £44.01 (www.qvcuk.com)

SAY... RELAX

Your mum's average pace is around 100 miles an hour. Stop her in her tracks with a chill-out pampering product.

If you can't whisk her away to a spa, treat her to the next best thing, The Sanctuary's Spa Therapies Escape & Unwind Collection, £20.50 (Boots). Containing Nourishing Bath Soak, Softening Thermal Sugar Polish, Warming Body Oils, Cocooning Body Butter and Warming Massage Stone, don't expect bathroom access anytime soon!

A soothing bubble bath can ease away stress. Try Champneys Spa Indulgence Mediterranean Bliss Bubble Heaven, £12 (Boots) and she can pretend she's on a mini-break too.

You can't go wrong with flowers and a box of chcolates on Mother's Day.

Set up the perfect mother-centric night in with Nougat London's Pamper Me bathing gift, presented in a pretty reusable ballet box, £35 (www.nougatlondon.co.uk)

SAY... IT WITH FLOWERS

Forget flowers that wilt after a few days and seek out the longer-lasting variety of beauty blooms.

Your mum can practically escape to the country with the National Trust's new Gardens collection, made in England with extracts from British flowers and plants, from £6 to £19.50 (www.nationaltrust.org.uk)

Prettify her make-up routine with Ruby+Ed's Linen Blossom petal-embellished make-up bag, £23.25 (www.rubyanded.co.uk) from March 5.

No need for bouquets with Marks & Spencer's new Florentyna White Flowers eau de toilette, £12. This feminine fragrance centres around a floral heart of white Casablanca lilies, enhanced with delicate notes of neroli and jasmine.

SAY... I LOVE YOU

Mothering Sunday is the perfect opportunity to spoil your mum with some gooey unconditional love.

She's sure to embrace Aura by Swarovski's spring coffret. Encased in a beautiful red heart embellished case, it contains handbag-friendly Aura by Swarovski eau de parfum and Crystallise Your Lips Lipstick in Vintage Rose, £35 nationwide (0207 307 6700). Beware of grateful kiss marks on cheeks!

Mother and daughter duo Pearl and Daisy Lowe have teamed up with Kiehl's to create a limited edition heart label for the cult classic Crème De Corps body moisturiser, £27, exclusive to Selfridges and Kiehl's stores nationwide. Perfect for showing her own skin some love.

Far too pretty to use, treble your mum's love of lather with Crabtree & Evelyn's limited edition three heart-shaped soaps, £10 (www.crabtree-evelyn.co.uk)

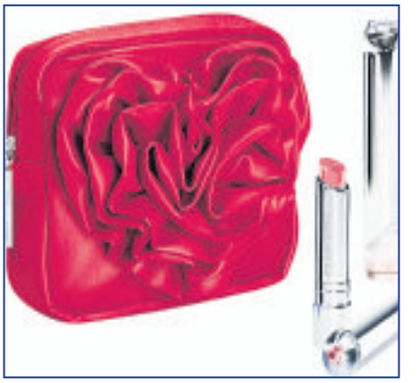

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

The beautifying techniques a mother teaches her daughter often become the cornerstone of their regime for years to come. Here, industry experts reveal the pearls of beauty wisdom they learnt:

- Liz Earle, co-founder of Liz Earle skincare: "Something that really works is the humble muslin cloth. My mother first introduced me to this amazing skincare tool in the form of a face flannel. I chose a pure cotton muslin cloth for our Cleanse & Polish Hot Cloth Cleanser because it has the perfect texture to make it a deep-cleansing yet gentle tool."
- Jemma Kidd, founder of Jemma Kidd Make-Up School: "The best beauty lesson I learnt from my mother was less is more. My mum has a natural innocence, which is reflected in her approach to beauty. She always looks effortless but immaculate and I find that simplicity inspiring – my earliest beauty memory was sitting at the dressing table watching my mother applying her make-up. I certainly have her in mind when I try and create my signature 'natural' look."

The Sanctuary's Spa Therapies Escape & Unwind Collection, £20.50 from Boots.

The Swarovski spring coffret, priced at £35 nationwide, contains lipstick and eau de perfum.

Let your Mum know how much you love her on

MOTHER'S DAY

The perfect present

You shouldn't need a special day to spoil your mum but as Mother's Day is just a couple of weeks away it's time to get your thinking caps on.

Show her you care by serving her breakfast in bed and giving her a rest from the kitchen by treating her to Sunday lunch. If you're stuck for inspiration, don't despair as we have a host of gift ideas for mothers of all ages.

For fashion conscious mums Tesco has a pretty floral purse priced £4.50, while mothers can snuggle up in a stylish Per Una floral wrap, priced £29.50 from Marks & Spencer.

For green fingered mums, why not treat her to a pretty £8 Campanula Jug from M&S which oozes country style.

Who doesn't like to be pampered? M&S stock a spa range of beauty products from Ragdale Hall, such as the Ragdale Hall Collection, for £6.

If you want a sweet treat try Thorntons cupcake chocolates costing £4.99.

For new mums, daddy can step in and put a smile on her face with a range of baby outfits, such as a babygro declaring your little ones love for you.

If she likes a cuppa, why not treat her to a quirky mug. House of Fraser has a number of mugs proclaiming Mummy Rules and First Class Mum, £9 each.

Why not splash out on a DVD. The Help which is released this month. Or you could get The World of Downton Abbey book exploring the hit TV show.

Or really spoil her with some perfume. Stella McCartney's L.I.L.Y has a light floral scent.

Find some extra inspiration with these ideas for mum...

HOMES

Store's full of ideas for spring makeover

Wysteria Lane's Michelle Jamie inside her Grope Lane store. Picture: Submitted

WARMER weather must by now be calling – meaning that minds are turning to a spring home makeover.

Anyone thinking of updating their decor at home could consider bringing in sheer fabrics, pretty florals, and garden elements, whilst giving woodwork a fresh lick of paint, revamping shelves and reworking items such as picture frames and lighting.

Wysteria Lane at Home is one of Shrewsbury's hidden gems – tucked away in Grope Lane off the town's High Street.

It sells an array of furniture, mirrors, chandeliers and lamps, complemented by decorative accessories such as clocks and candles, flowers and china.

Proprietor Michelle Jamie says that exciting new stock is now arriving regularly.

"This is the time of year that we start to think about giving a new look to our existing home," she says.

"Not as many people are moving house as they were in the past so the trend is leaning towards making improvements and enhancements to interiors.

"You can bring a bright and revived look to your home by just replacing one or two pieces of furniture, introducing new shades to walls, updating fabrics or adding accessories.

"It's sometimes even as simple as buying a few new cushions – you would be amazed at how simple and relatively inexpensive it is to update a home.

"There is definitely a trend towards sherbet colours in spring 2012. We have a great range called Pastries and Pearls which features vintage tea party items such as cake stands, clocks and bunting – ideal for a diamond jubilee celebration!

"There are also some lovely pieces of furniture using great paint shades," Michelle says.

After what seems like a long winter, the thought that spring is around the corner, with its brighter hues and sunnier days, is a very welcome one.

Classy Honda estate manages to combine style with practicality

Estate car owners are demanding more than just space and practicality these days.

Today's driver wants a bit of style as well which is why the Honda Accord Tourer is such an attractive proposition.

The 2.2iDTEC Auto is one of the best looking estates on our roads today yet its practicality is not compromised by its appearance. There's still 395 litres of space with seats in position, which increases to 672 when folded flat.

There's near coupe like styling on the Tourer which is seen as a rival to an Audi A4 or to Ford Mondeo. At £30,000 it's cheaper than the Audi but a lot more expensive than the Ford, though re-sale values are said to be up there with the best.

And while the Tourer has obvious attractions for the family motorist it's also right up there for the company car driver too. The combination of space and the refined 2.2-litre diesel engine, paired with an automatic gearbox mean it has real attractions for the motorway driver.

Competitive

There's good performance with 0-62mph in 10 seconds, a top speed of 128mph and combined fuel consumption of 46.3mpg which is aided by the most recent stop-start technology – a system I am really starting to enjoy. CO_2 emissions are also competitive at 159g/km.

The Tourer rates well when cruising, with excellent torque giving good acceleration, and while this Honda is not built for speed it still does the job with an engine which is quiet enough for a diesel with hardly any road and wind noise.

The ride is firm but sports suspension gives sharp handling for an estate and the driver quickly feels at home.

There's enough kit as standard to keep most buyers happy. There's satellite navigation, MP3/Bluetooth capability and rear parking sensors all fitted as standard.

Inside, the cabin is typically Honda with multi-adjustable seats, slim pillars and an attractive, but somewhat fussy dash, with a vast array of identically-coloured and similarly-shaped switches. Sometimes it's difficult to remember what does what.

The sound system is superb and unlike many rivals the sat-nav system is simplicity itself – how I hate some of the more complicated versions that sometimes speak to you in Albanian.

Not many cars are as trouble-free to own as a Honda, and owners rate the Accord very highly, placing it top of its class in the 2011 JD Power survey. Quite simply the Accord won't break down as the miles mount, and trim quality is high.

Safety features highly in the minds of Honda engineers and the Accord has all the latest electronic braking and anti-skid features, including trailer stability assistance. Other measures include auto reverse, when any resistance is detected, backed up by touch sensors located around the sides of the tailgate.

The Accord Tourer is available with a power-operated tailgate. When opening, an audible warning sounds and the indicators flash. There's also an automatic close function, to save slamming it, which is ideal if there's a sleeping child in the car.

There are six airbags and anti-whiplash front headrests. Diesel and 2.4-litre petrol EX models offer the option of a lane-change warning system and cruise control that brakes the car in emergencies. Deadlocks and an alarm are standard.

Performance and style – The versatile Honda Accord Tourer

Leon FR is the star in new Seat series

Seat Leon's first went on sale in the UK back in 2000 and now the revised second generation of this derivative is still finding friends and is one of Seat's bestselling vehicles.

The Leon is a sporty looking vehicle; it has the benefit of 5-door practicality incorporated in to its coupe styling. It fits nicely in to the family market place but with its styling it is a vehicle that isn't just a run of the mill car.

By Bob Hickman

There are numerous options of engines with a choice of five petrol and three turbo diesel units, all of course from the brilliant VW parts bin, so you know the engines, gearboxes, and running gear are going to be faultless and willing performers.

Transmission choices, if a Leon ticks your boxes, are threefold with five or six–speed manuals and on certain versions including my sporty FR derivative, a state of the art six-speed DSG automatic sequential with paddles on the steering wheel. This particular type of gearbox has to be experienced to be believed, smooth, effortless almost undetectable changes are the mode.

The front of the Leon benefits from a new bumper and the newly designed smaller Seat branded logo completes the corporate look that makes the vehicle one of Seat's family favourites.

The rear is an indication of the changes that have been incorporated, gentle and subtle, new light clusters and again a smaller logo at the rear differentiates the 2012 Seat.

My FR version of the Leon was the sporty option, just one down from the all-singing and dancing Cupra and this is Seat's attempt to recreate the hot hatch pocket rocket type of vehicle and it certainly had a sporty looking cockpit and passenger environment.

Smooth moves – the DSG gearbox seemed to appreciate every demand

Dashboard

The steering wheel was multi-functional and at times I did find very confusing. There was a plethora of buttons, knobs, and switches that needed to be operated to change computer mode in the dashboard, to change from FM to DAB radio, or to increase volume.

Of course if it is your vehicle you will soon get used to it and able to understand it.

The seats are of the type that rally drivers would love, the difficulty with these seats however is the factor that they grip you so tight that when you try to exit from the vehicle it was a little difficult and certainly very unladylike for female drivers and passengers.

The 4-cylinder turbo charged 1984 cc engine fitted in to the FR produces in the region of 210 bhp, enough to give a phenomenal top speed of 145 mph and a very rapid 0 – 60 gallop of marginally under seven seconds. The CO emissions are quite high at 174 and this of course will put the vehicle in to excise band H, so be prepared to pay in the first year £265 and thereafter £190 to tax the vehicle. Seat claim a combined fuel efficiency figure of 37 mpg.

Born to run –the sporty Leon FR will race to 60 mph in under seven seconds

The performance and handling of the FR were exemplarity, I am a huge fan of the DSG gear box, it changes so smoothly and seems able to anticipate your every demand, whether it be getting a move on twisty rewarding B class roads or meandering along, the changes are totally without effort and at times you only realise it has changed gear by watching the rev counter. As you would expect with just over 200 bhp at your disposal the FR is a very able and quick car, fortunately the engineers have done a brilliant job in the chassis department creating a vehicle that is rewarding to drive and does not suffer from horrendous torque steer due to the amount of power the front wheels are trying to translate to the road.

The level of equipment on the FR is extensive and probably it should be for a vehicle that has a recommended price tag of £23,100.

Renault gearing up for the electric revolution

By Ian Donaldson

Renault thinks one in ten new cars bought around the world in 2020 will be powered by a battery and has already invested billions to help make that forecast come true.

So it must hope the sales figures for purely-electric vehicles in the UK are going to pep up dramatically to help towards a brighter plug-in future. Last year we bought just 1,082 of them from the handful of car makers with a model in the showroom.

Now comes Renault's first passenger vehicle to point us towards a cleaner life in cars that emit nothing horrid from their tailpipes (and don't have exhausts anyway).

It's called the Fluence and you feel Renault knows the real electric push won't come from this car. We'll have to wait a few months for that and the arrival of the Zoe, a chic looking compact hatch that might just become the must-have urban runaround for the on-trend motorist.

The Fluence can't hope to fill that bill. It's big (based on a stretched Megane with the large new battery behind the rear seats) and gawky looking and, crucially, can manage as little as 50 miles between overnight charges.

In the right conditions (light town work with heater and lights off) you might stretch that to 125 miles, but the Fluence is inevitably going to be a second car in the family, which will need something that goes a lot further, a lot of the time.

Still, should you find you could offer a Fluence the right conditions to thrive you'll be buying a car that looks good value against the limited opposition.

With the government's £5,000 electric car subsidy taken into account the Fluence costs either £17,495 for the Expression or £18,395 for the posher and very well equipped Dynamique driven here.

Peace of mind

You must then hire the battery, from £76 a month with a 6,000 miles a year limit (more miles cost extra). Renault reckons not buying the battery outright gives a Fluence owner peace of mind that it won't cost a fortune to replace, and will also make the car easier to sell when the time comes.

Lower servicing charges than a comparable petrol or diesel engined car help keep running costs down and there's the huge attraction of the £3 recharge too.

The car drives pretty well; electric motors produce most push from low revs and the Fluence fairly flies from a standing start, accompanied by a distant whine that sounds like your holiday jet launching itself along the runway.

Lift off and the cabin turns limo quiet at low speeds, go a bit faster and tyres and wind noise give it the feel of a well insulated conventional car.

It rides well too, with a relaxing lope that would perfectly suit a car capable of much greater distances than the Fluence manages between enforced stops.

Use all its performance and the battery level meter on the dash will plunge; I consumed a quarter of the charge in 20 miles on an admittedly chilly day (needing the heater on) and along a winding, hilly route.

Which means you'll be a bit of an eco hero to buy one. The smaller Zoe looks a more promising prospect for saving the planet.

"A fine car to drive and own that makes a compelling case for real world economy champion"

www.mjdesignsshropshire.co.uk

Mick Davies and his partner Sue at MJ Designs would love the opportunity to show you what they can do! We will offer top quality work, as well as competitive prices - to upgrade a tired looking room or to rearrange a room to suit your personal needs.

With over 20 years experience behind him, Mick has for the last four years been designing kitchens, bedrooms and bathrooms exclusively for his own company, MJ Designs (Shrops) Ltd. Having spotted a clear niche for high quality and good workmanship at affordable prices, Mick and Sue have been busy building a very solid reputation in Shropshire and the surrounding area. Mick is proud to say that most of his business comes from personal recommendations from many of his happy clients, or repeat business for customers wanting other rooms upgrading.

Because of lower overheads, MJ Designs can offer a quality product at a more competitive price, with time-served top-quality workmen who will fit, tile, plaster and carry out any necessary electric or gas works. Only approved and qualified workmen are used on all their jobs.

Mick will visit you in your home at your convenience to measure and design your dream room, at no cost or obligation (other than maybe a cup of tea!). Stretton derby win scuppers rivals' bid

A STUNNING local derby display helped Church Stretton B to a convincing 3.5-0.5 win over Shrewsbury C in division three of the Shropshire Chess League – ending their rivals' slim promotion hopes in the process, writes PETE KITCHEN.

Stretton have struggled for victories all season, but their second successive win has moved them up to fourth place in the division above Shrewsbury.

Tiago Faustino beat Shrewsbury captain Ian Davies on top board, teenager Francis Rooney beat the experienced Eric Inglis on board two and Jim Carless beat Matt Best on board three. Tony Purser avoided the whitewash by drawing with Tom Williamson on bottom board.

Davies's side have dropped to fifth in the table and can now no longer mathematically catch the top two Shifnal and Telford C and Newport B with just two matches left. But they are well clear of the bottom two Oswestry B and town rivals Telepost D, who had a free week.

Stretton must win their final two matches against Newport B and Newport C and hope for slip-ups from the top two to clinch an unlikely promotion place.

In division one Telepost A could reclaim the title this week if they beat lowly Wellington A and Shrewsbury fail to win their tricky assignment away to Church Stretton A.

Richard Bryant's Telepost side have won their last 10 consecutive games to move to the brink of the league championship, which they won in 2008 and 2010.

Meanwhile at county level Shropshire's first team's season ended on a frustrating note when opponents Greater Manchester conceded Saturday's Midlands Counties Chess Union open minor division clash without a move being made.

The visitors were unable to raise enough drivers to transport the team to Shifnal, meaning Shropshire were awarded a 16-0 win.

It means Shropshire have finished the six-team division in sixth place while Greater Manchester - traditionally a powerhouse in the top division, have finished rock bottom with five straight defeats.

Unlucky 13 for leaders as Saints turn tables

AFTER 12 straight wins it was unlucky 13 for Leebotwood B, the runaway leaders of Division Two in the Creative Digital Printing Ltd Table Tennis League, writes DARRELL CORFIELD.

They were looking to further increase their lead when they played host to mid-table Clive Saints B having already defeated their opponents earlier in the season.

Leebotwood looked comfortable at 4-2 and with Gwilym Jenkins two sets up on Chris Greenway it looked like the writing was on the wall. Greenway however, had other ideas and kept himself in the match with a 12-10 third set win.

That win transformed the pattern of the match and Greenway levelled up in winning the fourth 11-5. He maintained this form going into the fifth set and ran out a winner 11-5 to get his team back into the match at 3-4 down.

Normal order was restored, but only just, as Nick Holmes completed his third singles win of the evening in defeating John Wain 11-7 in another fifth set decider.

The Saints had other ideas and Keith Robinson brought the score to 4-5 with a win in the penultimate match of the night.

Although Saints got themselves back to within a sniff of a share of the spoils it looked a forlorn hope as the final match would see Leebotwood's number one Ed Jenkins, unbeaten throughout the season, take on Greenway.

Jenkins strolled through the first set 11-5 and looked on course to clinch victory for his side. Greenway had other ideas and to the surprise of most he won the second 11-8 and with momentum the key these short sets he also won the third.

To the surprise of all he continued his inspirational form and with Jenkins having no answer Greenway won the fourth and the thus the match to leave overall score all square.

Pivotal

Myddle B have emerged out of the pack to be clear favourites for the runners-up spot with a win of rivals Unison D possibly being pivotal in their quest.

With only two matches being won in straight sets the match could have gone either way but it was Myddle who snatched a 6-4 win by the end of play. Star of the show was Roger Hall who led Myddle from the front to record three wins, then combined with Keith Smith to win the all-important doubles match. Smith was to prove to be the player who sealed victory as he played John Bowes in the final match of the evening with his team 5-4 up.

As with the play throughout the evening the tenth match proved to be a close affair and suitably it went into a fifth set. Neither player could make a decisive move before Smith held his nerve to seal the win for himself and the team 11-9.

Hall and Smith were unbeaten in Myddle's trip to Rushbury D where they came home with an 8-2 win to further boost their chances of a top two finish. Rushbury had better fortune when they made the trip to Cricket Club F, albeit with only two players.

Two wins each from Tom Lewis and Sam Evans coupled with a vital doubles win for the pair saw them hold the home side 5-all.

The cricketers had suffered a defeat in their previous match against Unison E where three wins each from Bill Andrews and Dave Dubberley Snr helped the Shirehall based side to a 9-1 win.

However, Unison could not manage that feat in their tussle with Rushbury C where three wins from Fred Robinson and two each from Bryn Robinson and Julie Newton helped Rushbury record a 7-3 win.

Finally, three wins from Keith Tabner could not prevent Unison D going down 6-4 at the hands of Saints B for whom Keith Robinson and Chris Greenway won two each.

Stefan is the prize guy off form peg

THURSDAY'S open at Springlea was held on the Horseshoe pool where Stefan Davies took full advantage of in-form peg 2, writes ROBBIE GRIFFITHS.

He managed 41-13-0 of carp but went against the norm by catching them all down the edge on corn. Second was Mick Keene (Weston) with 28-5-0 from peg 20, including a number of skimmers along with some carp to 3lb. Neil Mansfield completed the frame with 18-4-0 of carp to 5lb on pellet and corn at peg 13.

Saturday's open was back to the Mallard pool where Mike Buttery drew peg 3 and managed a nice net of ide along with eight carp for a winning 42-10-0.

Mike Harris was closing in all the time with a late flurry of carp from peg 41. He caught on corn fished tight to the point with carp to 7lb coming to the net.

Third place was Nathan Spain (Total Angling) with 40-2-0. He again fished to the other point on the pool, peg 34 and caught carp to 10lb along with at least 25 smaller carp averaging 8oz.

At Sunday's open on the Mallard Richard Davenport made good use of the point swim, peg 41 by landing a few carp throughout for a match winning 26-9-0.

Second place went to Colin England (Oakengates) with 23-4-0 from peg 19. He landed skimmers and carp on a 14m line with pellet hook bait. Neil Mansfield made it two third places in the week after he landed 20-10-0 from peg 34.

The latest open match at Wigmore fishery was won by John Beesty Snr with an excellent weight of 36-6-0 from peg 32. He included three carp in a catch otherwise made up of skimmers.

Ray Perrin (Oswestry) was second with 22-13-0 from peg 12. He also tempted a couple of carp to go with his skimmers. Jason Heath's third placed 18-10-0 from peg 30 was an all skimmer catch.

The river Severn has been fishing very well the past two weeks with water level and temperature being about perfect.

Anglers have had good catches of barbel, chub and bream from all of the Shropshire Anglers Federation stretches, including Sydney Avenue, Monkmoor and Emstrey.

Grasshoppers jumping for joy after sealing third title

CRICKET
by Stuart Dunn

GRASSHOPPERS retained the North Shropshire Indoor Cricket League title as they made it a hat-trick of successive triumphs - with Shelton finishing runners-up for the second year on the trot.

With three matches left, both Norton in Hales and Grasshoppers were undefeated, with Shelton having lost only one match.

Shelton beat Norton in Hales in the penultimate match, with Norton in Hales' last remaining batsman, Nick Reid, making a valiant effort to get the 18 runs required for victory off the last over.

Six were needed off the last two balls when a run out secured the last wicket and victory for Shelton.

Grasshoppers needed to beat Norton in Hales in the last match to win the league.

The champions-elect were all out off the last ball of their innings with captain Paul Elton making 37 and Graham Trow 30.

Norton were pegged back by Andy Harrison's accurate opening overs, only managing to reach 35 at the halfway stage.

The run rate was improved by captain Martin Rowley and Andy Kenvyn, but risky running proved their undoing with Grasshoppers winning by 14 runs.

Shelton received some consolation for their runners up spot, with Jamie Wear winning the trophies for both most runs and most wickets in the league.

County riders take to the hills for race day

SIX Mid Shropshire Wheeler riders took part in the Wrekinsport CC Chris Edwards Hilly 18 mile Time Trial, the first race of 15 in the SCCA 2012 Friction and Hydraulic series.

Dave Lewis did a quick 48:32 and a personal best. Both Simon Evans and Matt Armitage, riding the course for the first time, came in with good times of 51:13 and 54:04 respectively. Other Mids times were, Dave York 51:42, Jenny York 51:54 and Paul Charlesworth 1:05:05.

Meanwhile there was an excellent day of racing at Tudor Grange, Solihull.

Racing were James Elmore, Beth Coupland, Ewan Grivell-Mellor, Alfie Mortimer, and Martin Whyatt.

James and Beth were lone MSW's in their respective under 16 races, both looked strong within the leading groups.

In the under 14 boys, Ewan did well finishing second in a small breakaway in race 1 in a very close sprint finish, Martin and Alfie only a little behind riding well in the second peloton.

Race 2 was a little more sedate with legs getting tired and Ewan was fourth with Alfie and Martin having results similar to race 1.

Team play in Unison to see off Old Shrewsbury

THE SHREWSBURY & District Sunday League Division One saw Unison D beat Old Shrewsbury B 4-1, writes JOHN TECKOE.

Colin Beaman started off against Rob Jones. Both players struggled to get in amongst the balls and the frame was scrappy. But Beaman built up a slight lead going into the colours and then helped himself to a 20 clearance to seal the frame, 58-30.

Paul Gemmell then faced Gary Neal. Gemmell managed to strike up a bit of form in this match and was able to hit back-to-back 30 breaks.

Gemmell continued to pot well throughout the frame and took it comfortably, 101-16.

Scot Moseley went up against Chris Harrison. A scrappy frame saw Moseley pull away during the later part of the frame for a comfortable 71-29 win in the end. Lady luck, at this point, had been shining on the Unison Lads since they started the match.

Steve Weaver took on Andy Baron. Weaver started off well and built up a decent lead, but Baron kept in there and battled back.

Weaver was then able to take full advantage on the colours and pot most of them to take the frame 69-30.

The star player on the night was Gemmell, who scored 100 plus in his frame and hit back-to-back 30 breaks.

REMAN SERVICES B 3 (plus one), MEOLE BRACE A 2:

The first frame saw Ady Rowe take control from start to finish and, with a little bit of luck on the way, beat Dave Davies by 75-20.

The second was like the first but, this time, it went the Reman way. Phil Ryan, with breaks of 23 and 26, pulled away from Ceri Richards to win 73-27. The third was tight from start to finish, with Pete Connor taking his frame on the pink and black by 47-44, against Mark Blomfield.

In the last, Gavin Tommy was in unbeatable form, pulling away from Martin Travis and then getting a brilliant bonus break of 51 in winning 98-17, picking up three points for his team. He was the match's star player.

MEOLE BRACE F 5
REMAN SERVICES A 0

Darren Watkins started off a clean sweep for the Meole Lads with a good 70-34 win over Dave Ferriday. The second saw an excellent performance by Andy Bowers, with breaks of 31 and 20, in defeating Ian Evans 93-39. The third was much like the second.

This time it was Dave Berry getting the breaks, three of them with 24, 24 and 20 to beat Mike Watkins by 98-35. The last was tight, with Andy Sparkes had a good 35 break but still only won by one point, 55-54, playing Ian Ferriday.

STANTON A 4, PRESTON BROCK HURST B 1

The first frame saw both players struggling, as the balls went safe. It was close frame, until a good pink from Arnold Mullighan against Tony Watkins gave him a 48-45 win.

The second saw an easy win for Lee Barker who potted well all frame in a 95-22 victory over Alan Trowsdale.

In the third, Hugh Rowlands potted some good balls but John Banks was always in control and broke with 33 on his way to a 98-33 win.

In the last, Steve Adams moved ahead but Glyn Buckley potted the last red with pink and needed all the colours, but jawed the yellow. Adams cleared with 22 for a 69-32 win.

In a very good first frame, Danny Christmas hit an excellent 35 break to beat Terry Alexander by 71-48.

Then Tony Preece just won a tight frame 41-34, playing Neil Thomas.

Tony Bennett then took the third frame, 48-41 over Martin Hammond.

BEACONSFIELD A 3 REMAN SERVICES H 2

Tony Antrobus and Terry Jones played a long drawn out game, both players missing easy chances. But Jones managed to win by nine in the end of a low scoring game by 38-29.

Jim Green then ook full advantage of Gary Hughes missing some easy potting chances.

Green kept the pressure on Hughes to eventually win by 29, 56-27 The third game between Martin Bishop and Steve Berry could have gone either way up to the last few colours but Berry held on to win by 11 points, 51-40, and put Reman 2-1 up.

Going into the last frame with a total aggregate gain of nine, Jim Wood went into his game knew he had a battle on his hands with Hayden Cross.

Cross had started potting very well, whilst Wood plodded along picking up any loose potting chances and with some good safety play, which frustrated his opponent and this continued throughout the game.

Jim went on to win the frame 61-35 and the Beaconsfield got the aggregate point for a fine win for the team.

BAGLEY C 3 HARLESCOTT B 2

A steady win for Bagley, who led 1-0 when Kevin Humphries potted well in beating Steve Richardson by 93-32.

The second saw Mike Jones go down to the strong-potting Paul Richardson in a 36-62 defeat.

In the third, Gary Prosser lost out in a high-scoring frame to Colin Vaughan by 50-81.

In the last, Paul Morgan potted very well to win his game and defeat Gary Williams 69-38.

MEOLE BRACE D 4, CONDOVER B 1

This was a crucial win for Meole in their efforts to stay with the leaders.

The third was a bit of a tighter affair, Chris Wright just beating Colin Barton 66-52.

In the last, Scott Foster just got home by 52-41, playing Chris Smith.

UNISON C 2 MEOLE BRACE J 3

The first frame had been very tight for a while but Glyn Wellings put in a good finish to put his side in front, defeating Gerald Downes 66-30, with a 21 break.

In frame two, it was Unison's Max Canham who beat Mark Jenks by 65-43, levelling the match.

Frame three was probably the best frame of the night, with two good players going head to head.

However it was John Barton, playing on owe 14, who came out on top with breaks of 31 and 24 against Duncan Williams to put Unison ahead and level on aggregate, winning 72-58.

Ron Bedford and Dan Williams staged the final frame and it was Williams who had the edge, with great potting to win 48-23 and secure the point and aggregate for his team.

Success at last thanks to three-try strike

IT'S BEEN a while coming but Shrewsbury's third team finally notched their opening win of 2012 with an 18-6 success at Cleobury Mortimer's 2nd XV.

And it was a well deserved win, too, at a blustery Cleobury thanks to three converted tries, two of them from Mark Stone, and periods of solid defending.

Shrewsbury made only a few changes with Steve Botterill coming into the front row for Matt Baynes who moved up to the second team while Stone switched from centre to flank where he flourished.

Angus McKerracher was able to return to inside centre as Grant Churchill played his first game of the season at scrum half.

Cleobury were victorious in the early season game at Sundorne Castle and fielded a similar youthful side with some experience in the pack.

Shrewsbury were keen to contain the Cleobury back line and limit their opportunities to break loose.

With a clear weight advantage and the experienced Martin Whittaker at hooker, Shrewsbury dominated every scrum and prevented Cleobury getting any clean ball. In addition, Churchill was all over his opposite number and played a substantial part in the victory.

Despite the dominance in the scrum and some hard tackling, Shrewsbury kept making silly handling mistakes or giving away cheap penalties. This resulted in the hosts taking the lead after ten minutes with a simple kick at goal.

The game continued in the same vein with another penalty doubling Cleobury's advantage.

A brief discussion under the posts paid dividends for Shrewsbury who then then started to dominate and their pressure was rewarded when Stone seized the opportunity to dart through from a quick penalty and force his way over the line, with Chris Child converting.

Further penalties led Shrewsbury up the pitch before McKerracher off loaded a fine pass to Stone who weaved through the defence to cross the line to present Child with another simple kick.

With an eight-point lead, Shrewsbury took their foot off the gas and allowed Cleobury back into the game with the visitors indebted to some strong defensive work from Alan Doyle, Tom Barmer and full back Cian Millard.

Half time saw James O'Connell replace Giles Alton for his club debut and he worked hard throughout the second half.

Neither side took control of proceedings in the second half which was repeatedly disrupted with numerous penalties and stoppages for handling errors.

It was Shrewsbury's game to lose but a further try deep into the half secured the much needed victory. Child kept the hosts at bay with some possession kicking which, when followed up by Doyle and Churchill, prevented any opposition momentum.

Shrewsbury are at home to Clee Hill's 2nd XV on Saturday.

Two out of three in derby day clash

SHREWSBURY under-eights won two and lost one of their three matches at Newport.

They prevailed in the first encounter 9-7 with tries from Joseph Mapp, Jed Thurston, Sam Morris, Alfie Linnington, two from Sam Brooks and three from Josh Topper, who sealed the win by running the ball three-quarters of the field, attacking space down the left wing, before side-stepping two defenders, and out-pacing a chasing pack who were hot on his heels to score.

Powerful runs by Thomas Hughes made two of the scores.

The second game was won 10-5 by the hosts. Shrewsbury's tries came from Ethan Beaver, Monty Dunn, Henry Camber and two from Austin Morris, the first the result of a good team work, the second a great individual effort.

Newport's impressive attack kept breaking through despite some great tackles by Guy Heywood and Monty Dunn.

The final match was a tense affair which Shrewsbury finally edged 7-6. The team displayed some direct and dynamic running as Sam Brooks and Josh Topper both scored twice with Sam Morris, Alfie Linnington and Thomas Hughes completing the try-count.

They had to be solid in defence as the clock ran down to secure the win.

Coach Phil Topper said: "Newport were a talented side, but where I think we had the edge was in the whole team effort and support play needed to create our tries, not to mention some committed tackling. It was terrific to watch."

Pair sparkle but despondent Shrewsbury slump to defeat

HARPER ADAMS students Will Armitage and Monty Maule put in bright displays but did little to lighten the gloom as rock-bottom Shrewsbury crashed to a 29-13 defeat at a Spartans side struggling in the lower reaches of the table.

Spartans are the only team the Sundorne Castle men have beaten in the Midlands Two West North this season but a repeat performance never looked likely.

And captain Simon Evitts, who is unavailable for Saturday's home clash against Leek, admits any realistic possibility of Shrewsbury staging a great escape to beat the drop is now extremely unlikely.

He said: "It leaves us 23 points adrift of safety and I think we've only got six games left.

"It would mean we have to win all of our remaining games, including the one against leaders Stoke, and pick up bonus points too.

"Realistically, we're going to struggle to do that now."

Evitts felt Shrewsbury dipped below their recent improved levels of performance as they tasted defeat once again in south Birmingham, a point made by the views of coach Paul Bolland.

Evitts stressed: "Paul said we were blown away and that showed why we are at the foot of the table.

"Spartans are not a very good team but they dominated us in the scrum and it also made it difficult for us the way the referee handled the game.

"He made what we felt were poor decisions and led to three of Spartans tries.

"Two of the younger lads, Monty Maule and Will Armitage, both put in shifts, but not many of the local lads really did the same and that was disappointing."

Scrum-half Mattie Pryce claimed Shrewsbury's only try of the game, which was converted by Maule, who also kicked two penalties.

Despite Shrewsbury's plight, Evitts insisted everyone at the club remained committed to the cause.

He added: "People are still keen to play every week."

Seconds rock bottom after loss

A HEAVY 44-0 defeat at home to Dudley Kingswinford sent Shrewsbury's second team tumbling to the foot of the North Mids Reserve League table.

Dudley pulled into Sundorne Castle as the only team in the division below Shrewsbury but returned to the West Midlands having emphatically leapfrogged the county towners.

"We weren't at the races at all right from the start," said Shrewsbury skipper Simon Crippin. "They got a couple of early tries and heads went down.

"They were below us but we've now gone to the bottom of what is a tough league."

Young flanker Jack Horton did well but there were few other positives for Shrewsbury who play a friendly at Leek on Saturday.

Under-17s secure semi final place

SHREWSBURY'S under-17s stormed through to the divisional semi-finals of the National U17 Bowl competition with an exciting 19-15 win at home to Burntwood.

Two well-matched sides played out a close game. Burntwood had by far the majority of the possession in the first half and despite a fine breakaway try by the Shrewsbury backs after a midfield turnover, Burntwood justifiably led 10-7 at the break.

They would have been further in front had it not been for some steadfast defending by the Shrewsbury team.

The second period started with some close calls for both teams but with the defences very much on top.

The two sides cancelled each other out for the majority of the half but Shrewsbury finally got the upper hand with only 10 minutes of the match left with two quick tries, one converted, seeing them open up a 19-10 advantage.

To their great credit, Burntwood rallied and with time running out managed to score a late unconverted try.

Shrewsbury's u-17s won through two regional league competitions in the early part of the season to make it into the national competition.

The win over Burntwood puts them into the final 16 in the national competition. They will now go into the draw for the divisional semi-finals, which are due to be played on Sunday, March 18. Winners of four divisional competitions will go into the semi finals of the national contest.

Under-7s miss out in close contests

SHREWSBURY were edged out by a single try in both of their closely contested under-sevens matches against Newport.

The visitors fielded strong sides in the matches against the well organised Newport team.

The Sharks, captained by Will Taylor and John Stockdale in the matches, lost the first 6-5 and then the second 7-6, to give the hosts a 13-11 aggregate victory.

Will Taylor had a great performance in both attack and defence, as did Bertie Cavenagh-Thornhill and George Worthy.

The Scorpions team were also unlucky with a draw in the first match and a narrow one-try loss in the second with the final scores being 4-4 and 5-3 (9-7) to Newport.

Zac Cope led the scoring for the Scorpions with Edward Voyce also putting in important runs.

Catch of the day went to Liam Daddo-Longois who plucked a ball out of the air and ran in a great score. Both teams produced fantastic attacking rugby with super defence and all players making fantastic contributions.

Lewis is the hat-trick star in thrilling victory

LEWIS Aspin sparkled with a hat-trick as Shrewsbury's under-13s pulled off an exciting 28-17 win at Dudley Kingswinford.

The hosts were first to adapt to the very damp conditions and despite some valiant defensive work by the Shrewsbury pack, they were soon two converted tries down in the first third.

This could have been more but for some stout defending by Shrewsbury who managed to hold up two attempts over their own try line.

The middle third brought about a turnaround with man of the match, full back Aspin, running in two converted tries. This was followed by a try under the posts by No 8 Owen Jones, after some excellent work from stand-in scrum-half David Henley.

Again Dudley were becoming frustrated by Shrewsbury's 'never-say-die' attitude to defending their own try line, opting to kick a penalty rather than run it. The score was 21-17 coming into the final third.

Coach Mark Edwards was full of praise for the team.

Meanwhile, Shrewsbury's under-15s delivered a confident display at Dudley Kingswinford, running in 11 tries and scoring 61 points while keeping a clean defensive sheet.

From the outset, they outran and outplayed the home side. Despite this DK kept coming and Shrewsbury had to be at their best to stem the tide of attacks launched by the Black Country side in the closing stages.

The whole Shrewsbury squad played their part with tries shared between James Plout, Alfie Meredith and Ben Smith, two apiece, and Tom Barthen, Olly Greenhouse, Finley Hughes, Regan Jordan and Roan Kirkby. Tom Williams kicked six points.

Last eight disappointment for Shrewsbury under 12s

SHREWSBURY'S under-12s were knocked out at the quarter-final stage of the prestigious Land Rover Premiership under-12 Rugby Cup at Bromsgrove.

Some 16 teams took part and Shrewsbury reached the last eight.

Shrewsbury drew 0-0 with eventual winners Worcester in a pulsating game between two evenly-matched teams. Centre Ieaun Morris ran the length of the pitch to touch down, but the 'try' was disallowed for offside.

The Shrewsbury team's disappointment was compounded at the final whistle when they found out that Worcester's superior group record meant that they were eliminated.

Shrewsbury then saw Worcester follow up the draw with semi-final and final victories to win the tournament.

Shrewsbury earlier defeated Bredon 20-0 to start the tournament brightly in cold, blustery and snowy conditions.

Prop Harvey Jones powered his way over for two tries. Secon row George Holiday and No 8 Scott Walker also scored tries, showing great driving angles and strength to force the Bredon defence back over their own try line.

In their second match, Shrewsbury had a narrow 10-5 defeat to Luctonians. After a disappointing start, conceding two early scores, Shrewsbury forced their way back into the match with a try by Morris.

Unfortunately, Shrewsbury were unable to convert their second-half pressure into further points. The early defensive lapses in this match proved costly, with Shrewsbury's inferior group record leading to elimination after their quarter-final draw.

Shrewsbury won their final group match 5-0 against a strong Bromyard team. Holiday forged his way over for the only try of the game and his second tournament try.

Shrewsbury were the only Shropshire side to progress to the cup knockout stages and again demonstrated that they can compete with the best teams in the Midlands. Coach Steve Wild congratulated the players on their efforts.

Promotion hopefuls thrashed

IT WAS a disappointing excursion to divisional champions Cannock V for Shrewsbury's fourth team promotion hopefuls as they headed home on the wrong end of an emphatic 11-1 scoreline.

Although Shrewsbury started brightly and created a number of chances, Cannock were 4-0 up by half-time with the contest already effectively over.

After the interval Cannock continued to play some great hockey and took the game away from Shrewsbury with the only highlight for the visitors a late consolation effort from Clem Cooper. Shrewsbury, who need four points from their final three matches to guarantee promotion, will bid to bounce back at home to North Stafford on Saturday.

● A 1-0 defeat at the hands of Telford signalled the start of Shrewsbury Badgers' involvement in the Triangulation Tournament. Despite some excellent play, Shrewsbury were unable to put the ball in the back of the net.

Four-goal Dean is the hero

A STYLISH 5-1 away win was just reward for Shrewsbury's under-16s as they shone at the expense of well beaten hosts Edgbaston.

Despite some excellent defending by Lewis Marston, Chris Styles, Lewis Jowett, Luke Nisbet and keeper Mitchell Bailey, it was Edgbaston who struck first.

But Shrewsbury were not behind for long and, after Jowett saw an effort disallowed, Tim Dean pulled them level following good work from Jowett and Dan Elliot.

Shrewsbury moved ahead when Dean scored again from another short corner and he soon had a hat-trick to his name after bright attacking play from midfielders Peter Dean, Karl Craddock and Jacob Craddick.

Dean then went on to grab his and Shrewsbury's fourth just before half-time and, after substitutes Hamish McKittrick and Andrew Holmes both went close, it was left to Jowett to complete the scoring with a reverse shot a day after scoring for the club's first team.

Shrewsbury so close to upset as they give champs a scare

CHAMPIONS Bridgnorth were relieved to escape with their proud unbeaten record intact after being given a real scare by in-form Shrewsbury in a pulsating 4-4 draw.

The bright performance of the Meole Brace men, which featured a brace from skipper Simon Taylor, served as growing evidence that Shrewsbury are improving all the time as they remain on course for a top half finish in the West Midland League premier division.

Shrewsbury, who travel to Hampton on Saturday, were never behind against their county rivals and were only denied a memorable victory by a late equaliser from the visitors who had won 15 and drawn the other of their previous 16 league games this term.

Shrewsbury vice-captain JP Turford said: "We played so well and they were always chasing the game.I think they were relieved to get a draw in the end and, while we would have liked to have won, we were happy with a point against a strong side.

"Spirits are high and we're looking forward to going to Hampton now.

"They've got one very good player but if we can keep him quiet, hopefully we've got a good chance of winning there."

Shrewsbury will be boosted by the return of Chris Thorpe, a consistent marksman in recent weeks, for the trip to Hampton but they will be missing Paul Rodgers who will be captaining the RAF under-23 side.

Flow

Shrewsbury came flying out of the blocks against Bridgnorth and were 2-0 up inside the opening 10 minutes.

Paul Morris grabbed the first before youngster Lewis Jowett, whose promise was rewarded with a place in the starting XI,quickly doubled the advantage.

"Our game plan was to go straight at them and we did that," said Turford. "It worked well."

Bridgnorth were level by the break and fortunes continued to ebb and flow in an equally open second half with impressive skipper Taylor twice on target to restore Shrewsbury's advantage, once from a penalty stroke, before Bridgnorth rallied to earn a point thanks to an equaliser five minutes from time.

Just before that Craig Heath was denied by the bar.

Turford added: "There were some good displays from the likes of Lewis Jowett, Mike Gerrard in goal and Simon Taylor.

"But everyone played very well and it was a great team performance."

Demolition job has Shrewsbury on brink of title glory

SHREWSBURY Ladies know victory at home to Bromsgrove on Saturday (3pm) will see them crowned Midland Feeder League West champions.

Last weekend's 7-0 demolition of Edgbaston coupled with favourable results elsewhere has taken Lynsey Cater's consistent side to the brink of title glory.

"All in all it was a superb performance at Edgbaston and one which must be repeated this weekend when we face Bromsgrove at home," said Cater.

"It is certainly a match where we could do with some supporters as a win on Saturday will give us the title.

"Last weekend was a really good weekend for us. We had a great win and other results in the league went our way too.

"We were fully prepared for our encounter as Edgbaston had given us a good run for our money last time."

Shrewsbury hit the ground running with a goal within the first five minutes, Zoe Mortimer making excellent contact with a superb cross.

This was followed up shortly afterwards with a strike from skipper Lynsey Cater from the top of the 'D' to make it 2-0.

"From there on in we dominated the first half with some excellent attacking play and a well organised defensive structure which meant we dealt with any counter attacks from Edgbaston," said Cater.

It was 4-0 by the break with Cater grabbing her second of the game and Beth Harrison both increasing the advantage.

Edgbaston applied a little more pressure in the second half but Shrewsbury stood firm and managed to add to their tally through Georgie Hessey's brace and a Lucy Ratcliffe strike.

Thirds are mauled by Tigers

LEADERS Barford Tigers showed their class in the second half to leave Shrewsbury's third team on the wrong end of a 6-1 scoreline.

Shrewsbury, with youngster Tom Mitchell impressing, were right in contention at 1-1 at the halfway stage.

Although Barford found an equaliser from a short corner, Shrewsbury had a decent claim for a second penalty stroke for a deliberate foul on skipper Gary Davies as he was about to shoot at goal.

Tim Dean then found the net with the deftest of deflections to a ball fired into the 'D' but neither umpire spotted the contact and a 16 yard was awarded to the visitors.

The second half was a different story, with Barford showing their quality and dominating from the minute they took the lead for the first time as they helped themselves to five unanswered goals in the second period.

"Despite the result we remain comfortably in sixth place in the league with three to play," said Shrewsbury's Keith Kendall, ahead of Saturday's trip to struggling Old Wulfs.

Ladies still searching for win after defeat

BACKMARKERS Shrewsbury Ladies 2nd XI continue their desperate search for a first victory of the season at Bridgnorth on Saturday.

Last weekend brought two more defeats, this time at the hands of Telford and then Edgbaston, to leave Shrewsbury marooned to the foot of the Midland Feeder League West table.

But ever hopeful captain Sally Taylor is optimistic the trip to Bridgnorth can produce that elusive breakthrough win.

"We ran Bridgnorth close earlier in the season so we must carry this confidence and belief through training in the week and into the weekend," said Taylor.

Shrewsbury endured a disappointing derby day experience against a Telford side just above them in the table last Saturday as they were swept aside to the tune of 5-0 at Meole Brace.

An even start saw both teams gain space and time to play some nice passing hockey but the Shrewsbury game plan began to unravel 20 minutes in when Telford took the lead from a simple penalty corner routine.

Taylor said: "We knew their biggest danger would be from penalty corners and had stressed the importance of keeping the posts well marked so it was very disappointing to see the first penalty corner strike go sailing inside the post."

Telford were 2-0 ahead by the break with Shrewsbury's problems stacking up after the restart as they lost both Lesley Thomson and Zoe Evans to injury.

"We struggled to deal with the over-physical approach of the visitors," said Taylor.

"A fiery affair saw much barging and pushing go unpunished by the umpires before a double injury saw Lesley taking a ball in the knee and Zoe feeling the full force of a stick connecting with her forehead."

Telford added three more goals to leave a Shrewsbury side, for whom youngster Ella Breese was player of the match, deflated.

Shrewsbury were quickly back in action on Sunday as they travelled to Edgbaston where they suffered a narrow 1-0 defeat.

Selection issues led to four changes with captain Taylor taking over in goal and producing a player of the match performance as she saw her side play some of the best hockey this season against their third-placed hosts.

The first half saw Shrewsbury display their ability to compete fully at this level with them finding a balance between well-structured attacks and a solid defence.

With no score in the first half the visitors were beginning to believe their first point of the season was within touching distance.

Their confidence was boosted by the input of first team coach Sarah Ralphs. Evans made another significant contribution in both attack and defence, showing her determination to recover from Saturday's head injury.

Edgbaston had chances of their own, their best coming when a deflection sent a shot into the air and towards the far post, only to be pushed wide by the outstretched arm of keeper Taylor.

As the game wore on Edgbaston's attacks became a little more frequent and the Shrewsbury defence occasionally played themselves into trouble as they tried to clear their lines.

And a moment's lapse in concentration saw a skilful Edgbaston forward dribble far in to the 'D' before slipping the ball to an onrushing player who was able to push the ball over the line.

Taylor added: "A 1-0 defeat against a team so high in the table is a really good result for us but with a draw having been so nearly a reality the focus has to be on our excellent performance rather than the scoreline."

Top score reserves on target yet again

ELLESMERE RANGERS RESERVES may not be as high in the Sportsjamkits.com Shropshire County League table as they would like - but they remain the top scorers in the premier division this season.

Goals from Scott Penrose and Daryl Davies guided Rangers to a 2-1 home victory over CHURCH STRETTON, for whom Thomas Southerton replied.

WHITCHURCH ALPORT RESERVES edged closer to safety by picking up a point from a 0-0 draw with Shifnal United 97 at Yockings Park.

Elsewhere in the premier division, Ketley Bank rediscovered their early season form by beating FC Hodnet 2-0, Aaron Hodge found the net five times as Ludlow Town hammered backmarkers Impact United 10-0, Telford Juniors saw off Dawley Villa 5-1 and Wellington Amateurs Reserves were 3-1 victors over Broseley Juniors.

The form book was ripped up in the first division as Allscott, the leaders, suffered their first defeat of the season in losing 2-1 at home to Brown Clee.

HANWOOD UNITED RESERVES were unable to take advantage of Allscott's setback as they went down 2-0 at home to Weston Rhyn who now replace them in second spot as a result. Oswestry Lions, another form team, swept aside HOPESGATE UNITED 4-0 at Park Hall, PREES got the better of fellow mid-table side WROXETER ROVERS 3-1 while a Jamie Henderson hat-trick was not enough to prevent Wrockwardine Wood losing 4-3 at home to Bishop's Castle.

SATURDAY'S FIXTURES (3pm): Premier Division: FC Hodnet v Dawley Villa, Ketley Bank v Impact United, Ludlow Town v Broseley Juniors, Morda United v Ellesmere Rangers Res, Newport Town v Whitchurch Alport Res.

United home in on win Alport make third semi BOSS Dave Richards hopes Shawbury United's 3-2 verdict over lowly Wolverhampton Sporting Community will signal an upturn in fortunes on home soil.

Richards said many of Shawbury's better performances in the West Midland League premier division this season had come on their travels.

But now they've proved they can win at their Butler Sports Ground base, he's set his players the target of replicating their bright away form at home on a more regular basis.

Richards, who is optimistic of signing a goalkeeper this week, said: "If we could have played like we have in away games at home then we would be right up there.

"I can't really put my finger on why we haven't got as many wins as we'd like at home but hopefully we can get a few more now.

"It was a great win for us last weekend and it was nice to score three goals for our home supporters.

"It was a bit disappointing to concede twice as they only had two shots but we managed to win which is the main thing."

Shawbury fell behind but managed to turn the tables to lead 2-1 by the interval. Steve O'Reilly tapped in an equaliser from a cross whipped in by his brother Jimmy before Glyn Evans, on his home debut, turned sharply to rifle a shot to the top corner of the net.

Richards had to make a trio of enforced changes just after the break with Evans, Mattie Owen and Bobby Spooner all injured.

But it didn't stop them from extending their lead through Kev McGarvey before the visitors pulled a goal back late on.

Shawbury have a rare Saturday off with Richards deciding to give his players a break before training twice next week in the countdown to a local derby clash against Shifnal Town on March 17.

He added: "It's a long season and the lads give the club a lot of their time so it's only right they should have a Saturday off when there's no game."

WHITCHURCH Alport, through to the semi-finals of the Cheshire League's President's Cup, will aim to continue their good run when they host Barnton in the second division on Saturday.

A Dave Suddaby double strike sealed a 2-1 win for Alport at Warrington-based Moore United last weekend, much to the delight of boss Andy Allmark.

"It was a comfortable win," said Allmark. "We should have won by more goals considering the chances we created.

"This now puts us in three semi-finals which are all going to be very tough games as you would expect at this stage of the competitions.

"Since we started playing again after the bad weather, we have won two quarter-finals and taken a point off the league leaders.

"We look tight defensively and we're creating chances so it's going well."

Alport, who will have to travel to Rudheath in the semis, started brightly against Moore with Glen Donaldson smashing a shot against the crossbar from 30 yards in the early stages.

They took the lead in the 17th minute when centre forward Suddaby scored from close range.

Donaldson and Luke Woollam both went close before Suddaby struck again in the 29th minute.

Lee Stephens floated in a free kick which Suddaby headed into the top corner of the net, a finish which gave Moore keeper Anthony Vaughan no chance.

Leading scorer Ashley Chesters pulled one back for the hosts just before the interval but Alport held firm with Donaldson, Woollam and skipper Gavin Brocklehurst missing chances to send them further clear.

Meanwhile, Alport's big Shropshire County Challenge Cup semi-final showdown against Midland Alliance Bridgnorth Town will take place at the Shrewsbury Sports Village on Tuesday, March 20 (7.45pm).

Late leveller leaves Hanwood with some ground to make up

FOOTBALL
by Stuart Dunn

HANWOOD UNITED'S West Midland League first division title hopes received a major knockback when they conceded a late equaliser at Trysull.

The 1-1 draw leaves Hanwood, who have slipped a place to third, now nine points adrift of leaders Wellington Amateurs with time beginning to run out for the villagers to make their move.

"It was a very disappointing result for us at Trysull," admitted Hanwood stalwart Arthur Evans. "We dominated most of the game but the ball didn't really run for us before we conceded a late goal which looked to be a fluke.

"We've now really got to look to win all of our remaining eight league games, including the match at Wellington Amateurs, if we are to have any chance of catching them."

Hanwood made much of the running in a first half which ended goalless with Ben Houlston going closest to a breakthrough when he fired a shot against a post.

Hanwood's pressure was eventually rewarded early in the second half when wide man Wayne Edwards drilled a low shot to the bottom corner of the net.

Fortunate

That's the way it stayed until the last 10 minutes when Trysull pulled level in fortunate circumstances as a cross caught the strong wind and sailed into the top corner of the net to leave keeper Dan Jones with no chance.

Trysull, lifted by the goal, then struck the woodwork as both teams settled for a point apiece.

"After we went ahead, we didn't look in any danger and it looked as though we would take all the points," added Evans.

"Their goal was a bit a fluke, a swirling cross which ended up going in, but we should really have been out of sight by then. It was just one of those frustrating days for us."

Hanwood take a break from their league challenge to host county rivals WEM TOWN, who had no game last weekend, in a twice postponed West Midland First Division Cup tie on Saturday (3pm).

Instones ring the Bell in controversial cup clash

INSTONES United are through to the semi-finals of the Shropshire FA Sunday Premier Cup – but only after more controversy hit their top competition.

The Shrewsbury Sunday League champions managed to book a last four spot after seeing off Oswestry Bell 2-0, despite their opponents being allowed to field players who play their Saturday football in Wales.

Dave Sandles, secretary of the Greenhous Shrewsbury & District Sunday Football League, said: "This is against competition rules.

"This dispute is set to continue I feel. The Oak play Randley in the last of the quarter finals this weekend. Will the Oak be playing their Welsh players as well. If so, why were Cruckton Rovers not allowed to play theirs?"

Despite the Bell being allowed to pick their strongest side, Instones still proved too strong for them with goals from Sean Butler and Tom Groves sending the Grocers through.

Wem Sunday provide more Shrewsbury Sunday League interest, in the last four of a competition which boasts a final at Shrewsbury Town's Greenhous Meadow ground.

Goals from Dave Walbyoff, Matt Owen and Dave Barnett sealed a 3-1 win for Wem over Church Stretton, for whom Richard Groom pulled one back.

The other quarter final played saw Plough overcome Cressage 4-0.

Away from the drama of the cup, there was a feast of action across all five divisions of the Shrewsbury Sunday League, with Pontesbury staying on course for runners-up spot in the premier after walloping Compasses 7-0.

Ian Williams led the way with a hat-trick, Mike Booth netted twice while Wayne Edwards and Christian Oldham were also on target. Matt Boswell was put in goal after missing a penalty a week earlier!

Action

Goals from Matt Newns and Sam Edwards sealed a 2-1 win for Peacock Corinthians over Meole Brace.

Peacock could even afford the luxury of Craig Tate missing a penalty, with a Jimmy O'Reilly strike not enough to save Meole from defeat.

In the First Division, Matt Ryan fired Bomere into an early lead against Harlescott Social Club, only for Neil Brown and an Andy Simpson brace to seal a 3-1 fightback win.

Kevin Jones grabbed both goals for Condover Foxes in a 2-1 triumph over Coton Rovers while Monkmoor, helped by a Jim Inions brace, and Norbury shared the points in a 2-2 draw.

Belvidere Sports kept alive their Second Division title charge with a 7-0 beating of Rock Rovers, with Ryan Goodall and Mike Farrell both netting twice. Rock's cause was not helped by their manager being dismissed for speaking out of turn to the referee.

Leaders Heathgates were pushed all the way by Admiral Duncan before scraping past Admiral Duncan 2-1. Joe Ellis cracked home a 30 yard screamer for the Baschurch boys but 'Gates go marching on thanks to goals from Tom Burrows and Simon Gough.

There was plenty of action as Telegraph, for whom John Marsh and Mark Ball both claimed doubles, toppled Grove Hotel 5-3.

A Nick Rawlings brace was powerless to prevent Brockton Rovers going down 4-2 at home to Minsterley.

SAHA maintained their recent good form in the third division by beatings Nags Head 5-1, helped by a couple of goals apiece from Nick Richardson and Dan Bradshaw.

Player-boss Ben Gough and Matt Davies shared the goals as Wagon Athletic got back on track by seeing off Stretton Galaxy 2-1 at Monkmoor.

Promotion hopefuls Red Barn and Unison drew a blank in a goalless stalemate while Rock Rovers Youth cut loose to hammer Prince of Wales 11-0, Daryl Rogers hitting a hat-trick.

Leaders Sundorne were held to a 1-1 draw by Bird in Hand, with Mike Sheppard and Nick Best the respective marksmen on target.

Keeper is too late to prevent thumping

DISORGANISED Shrewsbury Ladies were made to pay for a sluggish start as they were beaten 5-0 at home by Worcester United in the Tri Counties Football League.

The late arrival of goalkeeper Natalie Robinson meant Stacy Dowler had to go between the posts for the first 30 minutes.

Shrewsbury badly missed the presence of Dowler at the heart of their defence and they were quickly trailing 4-0.

Shrewsbury were back to full strength in the second half and, although Worcester grabbed a fifth goal, the home side were much more in the game.

Zoe Griffiths hit the bar from outside the area and also forced four saves from the Worcester goalkeeper.

Shrewsbury showed good character and team spirit in the second half which they will now take into this weekend's local derby clash at home to Hanwood Ladies.

Rangers run shows potential

ELLESMERE RANGERS play twice inside four days as they bid to maintain their improved run of results in the Midland Alliance.

Not too long ago there was a danger Rangers would be sucked into a relegation battle, but some notable victories, among them a 1-0 triumph at high flying Tipton Town last weekend, has alleviated any such fears.

Matt Burton will now be hoping they can hit similar heights at Heath Hayes on Saturday before an attractive home clash against title contenders Coventry Sphinx under the Beech Grove lights on Tuesday (7.45pm).

Rangers again hinted at their potential by sealing a fourth away win of the season with a single goal from Rob Dean proving sufficient to see off Tipton last Saturday.

Rest does Jenks good

HAUGHMOND'S position at the top of the West Midland League second division became stronger without them even playing.

While the Shrewsbury side were resting up, two of the teams who could potentially catch them, Hereford Lads Club and Mahal, were locked together in a 1-1 draw.

That was the ideal outcome for Haughmond who now sit six points clear.

Mark Jenks's men, who remain unbeaten this season, welcome form team Wren's Nest to the Shrewsbury Sports Village on Saturday (3pm).

Last-gasp Richards rocket ensures year-long unbeaten run continues

ANYONE who headed for the exit gates early will still be kicking themselves at missing a stunning bolt from the blue from Matt Richards that was enough to preserve Shrewsbury Town's proud unbeaten home record.

Almost a year to the day since Town last tasted defeat in front of their home supporters, a 3-0 mauling at the hands of Bury, Oxford looked set to succeed where 24 visiting teams before them had failed by claiming an away victory at the Greenhous Meadow.

But this Shrewsbury side clearly do not know the meaning of defeat and a long range missile from the classy Richards four minutes into stoppage time capped a thrilling fightback from 2-0 down at the break to rescue a spirited point.

Given the night's events, it felt more like a victory than a draw as Town displayed plenty of grit and determination to claw their way back into a game which was slipping away from them at the halfway stage.

A clinical double strike from on-loan Southampton man Lee Holmes had carved out a clear advantage for Oxford, but Mark Wright's 10th goal of the season early in the second half, a glorious volley, rekindled Town's hopes.

From then on it was one way traffic as Town chased a leveller with Richards finally obliging in spectacular fashion with time almost up.

"I was disappointed for the first 45 minutes as we just never got started," said manager Graham Turner.

"I know it was difficult when you concede a goal after less than a minute but we never competed.

Salvaged

"We played with such a one-paced dimension about us but second half we came out and had a go. It was a terrific second half performance finished off with two very good goals.

"We are better than we were in the first half but that was almost our downfall. We've shown a lot of character in the second half and salvaged a point."

There were just 52 seconds on the clock when Holmes ran from deep and arrowed a 20 yard shot to the bottom corner of the net.

Former Town loan man Asa Hall then thumped a shot against the woodwork before Oxford doubled their advantage in the 38th minute from a classic counter attack.

Wright's near post corner was volleyed clear by Hall and Oli Johnson got the better of Connor McLaughlin to set up Holmes for a cool finish over Neal.

Turner was insistent the goal should have been ruled out for offside but it was allowed to stand and Town were staring down the barrel.

Whatever Turner said to his players at the break quickly had the desired effect and nine minutes after the restart they were back in the hunt.

Marvin Morgan whipped in a cross from the right after a fluent move and Wright effortlessly crashed a brilliant volley to the top corner of the net.

It was the cue for Town to pile on the pressure and Turner's use of his subs also proved key with Nicky Wroe, in particular, catching the eye as he drove Shrewsbury forward from midfield.

Wroe's introduction saw Richards switch to left back but he still managed to break forward with seconds remaining to pick his spot with a scorching shot from well outside the box to tie it up at 2-2.

It was a goal which will live long in the memory.

"Matt's strike right at the death was a terrific finish," added Turner. "I hadn't realised it had gone in but it absolutely flew in, a terrific goal."

Town put best boot forward in Uganda

SHREWSBURY Town are supporting a football team in Africa by donating players' boots to a team in Uganda.

The club were approached by Gill Castle on behalf of the Omushana Sunshine for Children charity, asking if they had any spare kit to take out to young people in Uganda.

Shrewsbury Town community development manager Martin James said: "As a club, we always like to help with enquiries from excellent people helping people in deprived countries.

"I spoke to Dave Ashlin, our kit man, and we found a bag of unwanted boots to send to the playing fields of Uganda."

Gill and her colleague Emmy have just completed 10 days touring the Mgahinga and Bwindi regions in Uganda, visiting many schools and groups on behalf of Omushana.

During the trip, they were able to make donations to many schools and organizations, among them the Bwindi Football Academy.

Gill said: "The donation of the football boots was so appreciated – and I was so impressed by Bwindi Football Academy and Bwindi United, the official club that is starting up the academy to train and encourage the youth.

"The enthusiasm of all the lads was incredible. The way the older players are encouraging the younger players and training the youth is excellent.

"The idea of the academy is brilliant and Omushana made a donation to help them financially, as well as delivering 18 pairs of boots, 11 of which were from Shrewsbury Town players and also two football kits donated by Mersiders Juniors FC in Shrewsbury.

"They loved the STFC banner the club gave me and I made them all promise to support Shrewsbury Town from now on.

"Bwindi United is in a similar position to Shrewsbury, near the top of League Two." "

Martin added Shrewsbury Town were delighted to hear the boots had gone to such a worthy club.

He said: "Gill makes regular visits to Uganda to support the work of Omushana.

"Who knows, perhaps a future Shrewsbury Town footballer may come from Uganda!"

Gill Castle spreads the Shrewsbury Town name in Uganda after the club donated football boots to youngsters in the African country.

Volunteer admin helpers sought

THE Shropshire Playing Fields Association (SPFA) is in urgent need of volunteers who can support their administrative team.

At their recent annual meeting it was decided to try to seek out the services of at least two volunteers who would be willing to help them to develop recent initiatives.

Derek Hayward, re-elected SPFA chairman, said: "In particular, the Association is seeking support from two or more recently retired or temporarily unemployed young people who could, between them, help to take minutes of committee meetings, administer and develop the Association's Best Kept Sports Club competition.

"Ideally they could create and manage the SPFA's intended website, and generally become involved with the work of our promotions committee to seek out future sponsorship, fund raising, and increased membership schemes."

Despite recent cuts to their income, the SPFA is still able to offer attractive loans to assist sports clubs with capital building programmes, and offers small grants to develop play leadership schemes.

It is also keen to help fund any individuals who wish to attend courses to increase their coaching or officiating level of attainment.

The Association also has a history of helping both Town and Parish councils with a variety of planning issues and development schemes.

For more details or to make any offers of help, or enquiries about the Association, contact Derek Hayward on (01939) 233220.

Southgate looks for a high fives entry

GARETH Southgate, the former England international, has urged Shrewsbury football players to enter the Carlsberg Pub Cup at the Power League Centre next to the Greenhous Meadow this weekend.

"Shrewsbury Town, with its rich football heritage, needs to be represented at the finals and this is a great opportunity for players of any standard to get involved in this fantastic five-a-side competition," said Southgate.

"The Green Card tournament means all entrants, whatever their standards, have the opportunity to reach the Grand Final, so I urge everyone to take part."

With registration closing this Sunday and matches taking place at 3pm, this is the last chance for teams to enter.

Finals will be held at Arsenal's Emirates Stadium and overall winners will progress to the UEFA European Championships to watch England against Sweden and play a team of European Legends under Southgate's management.

Teams can enter the competition by registering on the official Carlsberg Pub Cup website at www.carlsberg.co.uk/pubcup or by turning up for Power League pitches. More information from Power League on (01743) 239050.

Town youngsters in fightback

GOALS from Cameron Broadway, from the penalty spot, and Dillan Stephenson saw Town's youth team to hit back from 2-0 down to pick up a Youth Alliance League point against Blackpool.

The Tangerines, under the control of ex-Aston Villa defender Alan Wright, were in full control in Monday's rearranged clash at the Shrewsbury Sports Village until Town recovered in style.

They might even have snatched a late winner when Stephenson fired wide in stoppage time with only the keeper to beat.

Town's youngsters, who will travel to Bury on Tuesday, also faced Lancashire opposition last weekend with Burnley emerging narrow 1-0 winners at the Sports Village.

A point to prove for Shrewsbury over Crewe

Crewe Alexandra 1 Shrewsbury Town 1 by Stuart Dunn at Gresty Road

SHREWSBURY may have been denied a third successive Gresty Road triumph may have eluded them but a point banked from an entertaining clash - isn't it always when these teams meet? - could prove significant come the end of the season.

When James Collins was rewarded for closing down goalkeeper Steve Phillips to hand Town an early lead, it looked as if the magnificent travelling army of more than 1,600 away fans would have plenty to shout about.

But Nick Powell, yet another young gem to emerge from Crewe's conveyor belt, quickly pulled the Alex level and that's how it stayed despite chances at both ends.

Town manager Graham Turner stressed: "When you are away from home against a side not far off the play-offs, we have to say that's a reasonable point.

"We worked hard as a side and I have no complaints about any of the performances. We were better than we were in beating Crawley."

Crewe had scored 14 times in putting together a five-match unbeaten run in front of their own supporters, so this was never going to be a walk in the park for a Town side missing injured left back Joe Jacobson.

That paved the way for latest loan recruit Conor McLaughlin, a Northern Ireland international, to go straight into the side, and he could hardly have picked more trickier fixture than Crewe, given their renowned, slick attacking play, to make his Town debut against.

Yet it was Town who made most of the early running, buoyed by the boost of top scorer Collins giving them a fifth minute lead.

Collins had the presence of mind to chase down a back pass to the experienced Phillips and was in the right place to benefit when the ex-Town loanee's clearance struck his back and looped into the net.

Team-mate Mark Wright noted: "He's done well to close the goalkeeper down.

"I don't think he knew too much about it but he's got his goal."

Crewe carried little threat until they conjured up a 22nd minute equaliser. Ashley Westwood delivered a free kick from the left, conceded by Jon Taylor, and England under-18 international Powell stabbed home.

Town responded positively to the blow of being pegged back and repeatedly called Phillips into action before the break, as they showed plenty of attacking verve.

Crewe had a more equal share of possession after the break and goalkeeper Chris Neal, whose handling was first class, had to be alert to block from Greg Pearson after Ian Sharps miskicked.

But Town continued to look dangerous and had the chances to wrap up victory, substitute Romaine Sawyers going closest when he flashed a late shot from the edge of the box just wide.

Turner added: "It was a great advert for second division football. There were two teams who wanted to pass it and wanted to play."

TOWN: Neal; Regan, Sharps, Grandison, McLaughlin,; Taylor (Sawyers 81), D. McAllister, Richards, Wright, Morgan, Collins. Unused subs: Wroe, Gornell, Cansdell-Sherriff, Smith.

Referee: David Webb (Lancashire). Attendance: 5,086 (1,651 from Shrewsbury).

Roberts goes for title tilt

SHREWSBURY & Severnside ABC prospect Jack Roberts is gearing up for a crack at highly rated Aroon Fiaz for the West Midlands light middleweight belt tomorrow night.

Roberts, 18, from Nobold, was unfortunate to lose to Fiaz, the Wellington Boxing Academy ace, last year and is looking forward to stepping into the ring with him once again at Ludlow Racecourse.

Severnside trainer Colin Hough said: "Jack wants to give it a whirl and see what happens. This belt is open to challengers and Jack is keen to give it a go.

"Fiaz recently beat Josh Stokes, last year's national junior champion, and it should be a good contest.

"Jack ran him close when they boxed in national competition last year."

Meanwhile, Severnside's Connor Lewis, 13, made it two wins out of two by beating Jack Lindley of Ross on Wye's Tudorville ABC at a show in the Herefordshire town last Friday night.

Hough praised the display of the youngster who deservedly took the verdict.

He said: "We are on a roll after five wins out of five at our own show recently."

Ladies are on brink of glory

VICTORY at home to Bromsgrove on Saturday will signal the start of the celebrations for Shrewsbury Ladies Hockey Club as their first team stand on the verge of title glory.

Lynsey Cater's ultra consistent side have led the way in Midland Feeder League West all season.

Now one more win this weekend will see them gain promotion just 12 months after narrowly being edged out in the race for higher division hockey.

Cater, on target twice in a 7-0 victory at Edgbaston last weekend, hopes a bumper crowd will flock to the Roman Road Sports Centre to cheer on Shrewsbury in their quest to be crowned champions.

"It was a superb performance at Edgbaston and one which must be repeated this weekend when we face Bromsgrove at home," said Cater.

"It is certainly a match where we could do with some supporters as a win will give us the title."

Wem snap up Aussie allrounder Hutchison

WEM have signed an exciting Australian allrounder to spearhead their push for honours in the Shropshire County Cricket League, writes STUART DUNN.

The Kynaston Ground club have swooped for highly rated Tim Hutchison who is currently enjoying a successful season playing first grade cricket in Albany in Western Australia.

The 20-year-old, a top order batsman who also bowls spin, has experience of English conditions having played for Oxford club Horspath in the Home Counties Premier League last year.

Wem opted to have no overseas player last year but have previously been well served by a string of imports, among them Sri Lankan Rasika and Daryl Tuffey, who went on to play Test cricket for New Zealand.

Apart from being a very talented cricketer, Hutchison also boasts an impressive coaching CV as he works full time for the Western Australian Cricket Association (WACA) as a Cricket Development Officer servicing the Great Southern Region of Western Australia.

"Tim is having a successful season in Australia this year and is really keen to get over here," said Martin Gaunt, Wem's cricket manager.

"We chose to go for Tim as he has the coaching experience we need with our thriving junior set up and is the right age to fit in with our young team.

"Our captain Josh Gough is around the same age so hopefully they will work together well.

"He's an opening bat who bowls spin so that made him our first choice.

"The club is right behind our decision as they see the benefits that someone of his age and coaching experience can bring.

"The club is looking to use Tim as a mentor and coach for the youth set up for the 16 to 18 year olds who sometimes get forgotten when they enter adult cricket while he will also regularly have an input into Thursday night junior coaching sessions.

"We are looking forward to a successful season in what will be a really tough league after the restructure."

Hutchison has captained the Western Australian Country Colts for the past two seasons and is also the skipper of the successful Royals Cricket Club in the Albany Cricket Association.

He is currently enjoying his most impressive season in senior cricket having cracked 666 runs, including three centuries, at an average of 66 while he has also excelled with the ball.

He hit more than 700 runs in all competitions in his season in England for Horspath last year.

Gaunt added there were no other new faces at this stage or departures from the Kynaston Ground so, with the exception of Hutchison, Wem will have a familiar look.

The newly-formed Shropshire County Cricket League's premier division, which gets under way on April 21, promises to be an exciting one with plenty of local interest among the top 12 clubs.

Wem will be battling it out for honours alongside the likes of Reman Services, Shelton, Bomere Heath and promoted Wroxeter.

TOWN URGED TO SHOW NO MERCY

Shrewsbury hold champions

SKIPPER Ian Sharps has called for his promotion chasing Shrewsbury Town team-mates to come flying out of the blocks and show no mercy for struggling Burton Albion on Saturday.

The Brewers head to the Greenhous Meadow having gone a dozen games without a win and Sharps stressed the importance of Town playing at the right tempo from the first whistle to give them the best possible chance of collecting three more points.

The central defender admitted he was disappointed with Town's first half display in Tuesday's dramatic 2-2 draw against Oxford when they had to hit back from 2-0 down to salvage a point.

A brilliant late equaliser from Matt Richards stretched Shrewsbury's proud unbeaten home record to 25 matches.

Now Sharps knows it's vital Town start more positively against Paul Peschisolido's out-of-form Burton.

"In these kind of games we need to start on the front foot and get into them early," said Sharps.

Pleased

"I've been involved in my career with teams where we've had a run of results where you basically don't want to play - and that's where they will be at the moment.

"Hopefully we'll get on top of them and score some goals.

"We played Burton at the beginning of the season, drew 1-1 there, and I thought it was a good point away from home. I thought they would be all right."

Sharps admitted Town were ultimately pleased to collect a midweek point but he knows wins are vital to keep on track for automatic promotion.

He stressed: "At half time time we would have taken a point but before the game we wanted all three.

by Stuart Dunn

"We need to be more greedy and need to want to win every game, starting with Burton.

"We showed great character in the second half against Oxford. We need to take that on and produce that performance over 90 minutes.

"We were camped in their half throughout the second half, created a few chances, and thankfully Matt and Wrighty scored two great goals."

Sharps added he was a big admirer of Richards and had been impressed with how the ex-Ipswich man has become more influential as the season has developed.

"He probably struggled a bit when he first came in because he hadn't had a pre-season under his belt, but since he's got back in the team there's been no looking back for the lad," Sharps said.

"He's a really good lad, great to have about the changing room, and the young lads look up to him. He's setting a good example.

"With his goal, I was screaming for him to put the ball in to the back post, but when he scored I had to congratulate him. He hits them quite often in training."

Town this week allowed winger Lionel Ainsworth to join Burton on a month's loan but he will not be able to face his parent club.

"He was in desperate need of some match practice at a decent level, said boss Graham Turner.

"What we hope is he'll get a few matches in the four weeks he's there and perhaps come back at the level we know he's capable of because he could be a match-winner when he comes back ready for the last five or six matches."

Turner has warned his side not to take Burton lightly.

He said: "We've got to be careful we don't stumble over this hurdle.

"We can't afford to perform like we did in the first 45 minutes against Oxford and get away with it."

MANAGER Matt Burton was left with mixed emotions after his Ellesmere Rangers side picked up another precious point on the road with a 1-1 draw at Boldmere St Michaels in the Midland Alliance, writes JOHN BRIDGWATER.

"I would have been very pleased with a point before the game and the lads were different class with their work rate again," he said after Tuesday's action.

"But I just felt with a little bit more belief we could have gone on to win the game."

All the drama came at the end of the opening period with two goals in first half stoppage time.

Ellesmere broke the deadlock when Andy Ford was on hand to slot home after the Boldmere goalkeeper had spilled a cross from Matt Fletcher.

But the hosts were level in the third minute of stoppage time.

"I wasn't sure how the ref could play 48 minutes when there wasn't a physio on the pitch in the first half but we should have defended the corner better," added Burton.

Best man Evitts out

SHREWSBURY Rugby Club must do without unavailable skipper Simon Evitts for Saturday's home clash against Leek (3pm).

Evitts is ruled out for the Midlands West Two (North) basement boys as he will be best man at a friend's wedding.

Shrewsbury are now entering the point of no return in their desperate battle to beat the drop and are a mighty 23 points adrift at the foot of the table following last weekend's defeat at Spartans, the only side they have beaten this season.
